House Refuses to Adjourn, 191 to 148

DECISION DEALS CRUSHING BLOW TO DEMOCRATS

Session to Continue Rest of Year.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—The Democratic leadership in congress suffered a crushing defeat today when the house disapproved a resolution calling for adjournment sine die of the 76th congress. The vote was 191 against adjournment to 148 for adjournment.

It was the first test of congressional sentiment since President Roosevelt's victory on Nov. 5. The vote found 147 Republicans, 41 Democrats, 2 Progressives, and 1 American Labor party member combining to overwhelm 148 Democrats.

As a result of this action, both house and senate will remain in session until the end of the year, in a position to keep a close watch on Mr. Roosevelt's foreign policy moves. When the congress finally goes out of existence it will have sat longer in continuous session than any in American history.

Revives Walter-Logan Bill.

One important result of the house refusal to go home will be a senate vote upon the Logan-Walter bill to curb the powers of government agencies. The measure would have been doomed if the house had agreed to adjourn because the senate had planned to follow whatever course was adopted by the house.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to veto the bill if it is sent to the White House. Congress then might conceivably pass it over the veto by a two-thirds majority. It passed the house by a 3 to 1 vote and once passed the senate without a dissenting vote, being called back for reconsideration.

The house approved amendments to the Wagner labor act also may receive consideration by the senate now that adjournment has been blocked. An attempt also might be made to bring up the antilynching bill, passed by the house but blocked by southern Democrats in the senate.

Blow to Mandate Idea.

The house vote indicated that congress does not interpret the Roosevelt vote two weeks ago as a mandate to the President to carry forward his foreign policies without congressional check.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference he had no official comment to make on the house's action, asserting it made no difference to him whether congress remained in session. He would send up some army and navy promotions for senate approval, he added.

The President said he did not know what congress proposed to do with its time since he had no important business for it before the next session. He previously had said he had no further legislation to submit this year and was not interested in pending legislation.

Democrats Disappointed.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and Democratic Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said they probably would not attempt again to put thru an adjournment resolution. They were frankly disappointed, having joined with House Whip Pat Boland in an intensive drive to swing enough Democrats into line to get congress out of town.

Rayburn noted that 90 members were absent but would not say that the result might have been different if they had been present.

That the vote on the adjournment resolution was in reality a battle between the White House and congress was recognized in house debate.

"Every day that we stay in session will be an insult to the President!" roared Representative Thomas F. Ford [D., Cal.].

Civil Service Bill Passed.

Both houses completed action on a conference report on the Ramspeck civil service bill and sent it to the White House. This measure blankets 200,000 more government employés into the civil service.

The senate debated a motion to consider the Logan-Walter bill but quit until Friday after hearing of the house action.

The house recessed until tomorrow noon. Leaders had no definite legislative program to offer in that body.

Fifty at 'Double Feature' Pick Friday Bandits

Fifty men and women who have looked into robbers' guns identified members of the Friday night bandit gang at the detective bureau showup last night.

So many holdup victims were waiting to see the seven gunmen that Walter Storms, deputy chief of detectives, ordered what he called a double feature—two showings of the gang—the first in the history of Chicago police showups.

Four hundred persons crowded into the showup room for the first appearance. A larger crowd overflowed into the corridor for the second. The double showup increased to 136 the number of victims who have identified one or more of the gunmen.

Victims Estimated at 5,000.

Storms said 5,000 would be a conservative estimate of the number of persons the gang has robbed in the last two years in tavern holdups, which always were staged on Friday nights, when pay checks were being cashed.

The gunmen themselves admitted that one of the gang was so cruel and so likely to shoot on the slightest provocation that at one time they secretly removed the bullets from his .45 caliber automatic pistol. He is Stanley Kaval, 26 years old, 2101 Millard avenue.

Kaval was the gang's "announcer" in tavern holdups. Backed by another bandit armed with a shotgun and the rest of the gang flourishing revolvers, he would order the terror stricken men and women to line up at the bar, pile their money and jewelry on it, and put their hands on the bar.

Patrons Slugged by Terrorist.

After the loot had been collected the gang would search the victims. If any of them tried to conceal valuables, Kaval would fly into a maniacal rage and slug them with his gun or with a bottle seized from the bar.

The other gunmen said they decided to disarm him because they feared he would shoot unresisting victims merely to see them die. They were afraid to tell him, they said, so on one occasion one of the gang removed the clip of cartridges from Kaval's gun. They said they didn't do it again, however, because Kaval discovered it and raged at them.

Members of the gang admit 125 robberies, but Storms says they have committed 250. There usually were between 20 and 30 victims in the taverns they robbed. The bandits often remained half an hour, putting nickels in the juke boxes and forcing some of the couples to dance so passers-by would not notice that a holdup was in progress.

Live in Pretended Poverty.

Altho their loot ranged from $500 down to $12 a holdup, the bandits lived in pretended poverty.

"We didn't want to be flashing dough around where we were known," one of the gang explained. "We did our spending far away."

Three of the gang are married to sisters—Edwin Beck, 29, of 1641 Millard avenue; Paul Bellingire, 31, of 1322 South Spaulding avenue, and Kaval. Others of the gang are Joseph Nadvornick, 28, of 2424 South Troy street; Joseph Kodadek, 25, of 2360 South Sacramento boulevard; Albert Vickers, 31, of 3653 Ogden avenue, and Charles Marvart, 28, of 3013 South Harding avenue.

TERRITORIES BOOST POPULATION OF U. S. TO OVER 150 MILLION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The census bureau today placed the total population of the United States, its territories and possessions, at 150,362,326.

This represents an increase of 11,923,257, or 8.6 per cent over the 1930 census.

The population in the territories and possessions, the bureau reported, increased three times as rapidly during the last decade as it did on the mainland.

The continental United States population previously had been placed at 131,409,881, an increase of 7 per cent. The population of territories and possessions, excluding the Philippine Islands, was placed at 2,596,445, a gain of 445,422, or 20.7 per cent.

The Philippine Islands count, an estimate based on censuses taken in January, 1939, and December, 1918, was 16,356,000, an increase of 2,843,000, or 21 per cent.

It's Chauffeur Society's Night —and Elegant!

BY MARCIA WINN.

Chicago's upper crust may go right ahead and have their Bachelors' and Benedicts' ball tonight. Their chauffeurs, butlers, first and second maids, and cooks won't mind at all. They had their ball last night.

And quite an affair it was, too. No one of obscure origin or twopenny chance employment was permitted thru the portals of the Merry Garden ballroom, 3136 North Sheffield avenue, which housed the 30th annual dance of the Chicago Private Chauffeurs' Benevolent association. In the words of the chairman, "Only we better class ones can come."

It's on a High Social Plane.

On so high a social plane was it that Norman McDonald, who described himself as chauffeur-companion for J. T. Cunningham, "the ice cream man, YOU know," greeted the press with the inquiry, "News or society?" When told "News," he veered toward the testy. "O," he sighed, "we'd much prefer it on the society page."

"We're just the best," McDonald said proudly.

The array was formidable and interminable:

Harold Swift's butler, Harry Rudge, "Chicago's smallest but best," McDonald announced.

Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed's butler, Frank Wenban, very correct, and her chauffeur, James Livingston, who strode in arm in arm.

Mrs. Potter Palmer's Kasper Hallen, white carnation gleaming on his lapel, who has been with her since 1903.

Sidney Willcox, chauffeur to Mrs. P. A. Valentine.

Men Puff on Long Cigars.

All the men wore red or white carnations and puffed away at long cigars. Most of the ladies wore gardenias and many drew luxuriantly on cigarets. They didn't arrive, of course, until the fashionable hour of 10 o'clock, but that, according to McDonald, was due to work rather than will. When they did come, they smiled once in a while.

"A lot of pious looking people, aren't they?" commented the cameraman. "It's probably the first time this year they've smiled."

INDUSTRIAL CITY HIT AS HARD AS COVENTRY: NAZIS

Claim British Unable to Put Up Defense.

BERLIN, Nov. 20, Wednesday (AP).—Birmingham, Britain's second greatest industrial city, apparently suffered the same fate as Coventry in a heavy German bombing attack last night, reliable informants here said early today. Thousands of bombs were dropped on the armament and supply centers of the English Midlands city, it was stated.

[Coventry, industrial city near Birmingham, was largely laid waste in a terrific attack last Thursday night and Friday morning. German sources said at the time that similar attacks elsewhere could be expected.]

The attack on Birmingham began early last night, German sources said, with planes winging from bases in France, Belgium and the Netherlands to strike in large units as the weather steadily improved.

The German sources expressed confidence of a highly successful action against important targets in the city. More than 20 "large fires" were visible after the first waves of bombers passed over the city, these sources added.

Claim Defenses Ineffective.

The English defenses were said to be ineffective and unable to disturb or break up the large German formations.

[Birmingham, with a population of 1,002,413 in the last census, is the second largest city of England. The late former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain once was its mayor. Once known for its steel and cotton mills, in late years it became more a center of the tool, metal working, automobile, and tire industries. It is one of the leading centers of hardware production in the world and is a focal point of important railroads. During the world war Birmingham produced huge quantities of munitions. The city, which dates from the reign of King Arthur, is 113 miles northwest of London.]

Informed German quarters acknowledged that British bombers were over Germany last night, but asserted they failed in an attempt to attack Berlin, having been "dispersed" and forced to turn back short of the city.

Strike Two Midlands Towns.

LONDON, Nov. 20, Wednesday (AP).—German bombers, attacking in endless waves overnight, subjected two Midlands towns to what observers called "another Coventry" and showered bombs on at least a dozen other points in Britain's great industrial belt. The raid, launched at nightfall, still was in progress early today.

[The censor in London refused to permit identification of any attacked town.]

Apparently using London—which escaped with lighter than usual bombing—as a signpost to point their way northwest into the Midlands, the first wave of about 100 Nazi planes crossed the southeast coast at dusk. The bombers flew in mass formation and wave on wave soon followed in the face of a lashing antiaircraft barrage.

The night invaders struck not only at the Midlands, but also fanned out, smashing at the big west coast port of Liverpool three times before midnight. Raiders were reported over northwest and northeast England, East Anglia, southeast and northeast Scotland, and Wales.

One of Fiercest Assaults.

Early reports of destruction in the Midlands pictured it as one of the fiercest and most widespread assaults on that region since the battle of Britain began. The first reports pictured the Nazi attack as directed largely at one manufacturing town.

Bombs of all types rained down upon nearly all parts of the town. Casualties are not yet known.

Coventry, also in the Midlands, had a death toll last week officially set at 300. A mass funeral will be held today for the victims. The coffins, draped in the Union Jack, will be carried by trucks to a common grave, which will be marked by a memorial when peace comes.

During daylight yesterday there had been scarcely any enemy air activity over Britain and Kent reported the only officially recorded bombing. There was bad weather over the channel Monday night.

Yesterday afternoon German big guns across the channel shelled the Dover area for nearly an hour, but casualties on the English side were officially described as small and damage slight.

DANGER OF WAR IS NEAR, TURKEY WARNS PEOPLE

President Inonu.

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 19 (AP).—Turkish newspapers warned the nation today that the danger of war was near while Turkey's ambassador to Germany, home for consultation, conferred with President Ismet Inonu and other leaders.

The Turkish news agency quoted authoritative circles in Berlin as asserting that the Rome-Berlin axis wants to include Turkey in Europe's "new order" and that soviet Russia wants a naval base on the Persian gulf.

Blackout Ordered.

All Turkish households were ordered to complete blackout preparations by Dec. 1.

The official Turkish radio stressed the "secrecy" of Sunday's visit of King Boris of Bulgaria with Adolf Hitler and the fact that a communique on the matter was not issued until two days afterward.

Government quarters avoided comment as to what Bulgarian coöperation with the Germany army might bring, but the press, which has consistently warned Bulgaria not to enter the war, fiercely attacked German policies.

Refuses to Take Orders.

"We do not recognize the German right to hand us an ultimatum," said the Istanbul newspaper Yeni Sabah. Germany can speak to us only as equals. Thus far we understand the new order is to be a system wherein other nations take orders from Germany and Italy.

"Turkey was a free and sovereign nation when the Germans were still wild rovers in their forests, and will revolt against such slavery with all its might. Turkish leaders and politics are welded to values which the Germans consider false—the parliamentary system, courage, independence."

WRITER AND WIFE ROBBED OF COAT, JEWELS AND CASH

Lloyd Lewis, author, dramatic critic, and sports editor, was held up with his wife early today in front of the residence of President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago, at 1100 East 59th street.

The Lewises had attended a party at the Hutchins home. They were stepping into their car, parked at 59th street and University avenue, when they discovered that a tire was flat. Lewis turned to investigate and found himself facing two bandits.

They took Mrs. Lewis' $3,500 bracelet and two diamond rings valued at $700, her $1,500 fur coat, and Lewis' watch and $8. The bandits fled to a car behind the Lewis automobile and were driven away by a confederate. They had punctured the tire to make the holdup easier. The Lewises live at 850 Lake Shore drive.

HINT ZOG PLANS TO STIR REVOLT AGAINST ITALY

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP).—The possibility that former King Zog will go to the Balkans to lead an Albanian uprising against Italian rule is not discounted by his followers in London. Asked whether Zog's partisans in Albania could expect Zog to come to lead them, a member of the royal exile's staff said:

"The king naturally is following every move in the Greek fighting, but he hasn't made a decision—yet."

HITLER INVITES SMALL NATIONS TO ASSIST AXIS

Report Belgian King Visits Fuehrer.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—King Leopold III. of the Belgians was the object of many inquiries at official German quarters today as reports circulated that he had been escorted to southern Germany and had conferred with Adolf Hitler. Authorized Berlin sources said they had received "no instructions or information on the matter."

The report about King Leopold's visit at the Berghof, Hitler's Bavarian mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden, followed closely upon the announcement of a visit by King Boris of Bulgaria to Hitler last Sunday.

The Germans are speeding up efforts to erect the structure of a new Europe under Nazi leadership. Small countries are being invited to officially proclaim their coöperation with the axis partners. If they accept all terms of the axis they even may be granted the title of member of the axis.

Hungarians Due Today.

Both the Hungarian pro-Fascist government and the Rumanian pro-Nazi government expect that in conferences to take place this week their participation in the axis will become a reality.

Premier Count Paul Teleki and Foreign Minister Count Stephan Czaky of Hungary are due in Vienna tomorrow to confer with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy, while Premier Gen. Ion Antonescu of Rumania is expected at the end of the week.

Details of the visit of royalty to Hitler are shrouded in secrecy. A number of Bulgarians living in Berlin, who are known to be close to the axis, express disapproval of their king.

Echo Words of Nazis.

They speak of his affiliations with Freemasonry in a deprecating tone. These groups usually echo what their more powerful and better informed Nazi friends tell them. This creates the impression that Bulgaria is not coming to heel as eagerly as Hungary and Rumania.

[A Nazi "request" for passage of German troops thru Bulgaria to Greece and the borders of Turkey, or even an ultimatum to Greece by Bulgaria herself, demanding an outlet thru Greece to the Aegean, were possibilities discussed in the Balkans. There were also rumors of a possible coup d'état in Bulgaria by dissident Bulgarians.]

King Boris is married to a daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. Therefore, it is assumed that Boris also will, in the course of time, move into the position prepared for him in the general Nazi-Fascist scheme as envisaged by Hitler and Premier Mussolini. Travelers who returned from Bulgaria stress, tho, that the popular feeling in Bulgaria remains strongly pro-Slav.

Returns to Spain.

Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner of Spain left Germany today to return to Madrid. Diplomatic circles attach great importance to Serrano Suner's conferences with Hitler and Von Ribbentrop since Spain holds the key position for the possible new conflict in the western Mediterranean.

Just how the Germans will reconcile their friendship with Moscow and the Spanish resentment against Russia, which aided the Republicans in the Spanish civil war, is one of the mysteries of Europe.

A number of prominent Nazi newspaper men have left for Spain in recent weeks and some still are leaving. All seats on German planes which fly to Spain daily have been reserved until Dec. 26.

To facilitate coöperation with Spain German relations with Spain must be returned to normal, political observers agree.

"A New Form of War."

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 19 (AP).—German and Italian diplomacy, which axis spokesmen call "a form of war," appeared tonight to be directed toward a new agreement between Hungary, Rumania, and Bulgaria as a prelude to a fresh campaign against the British empire.

The German army in Rumania, estimated by conservative neutral observers at more than 300,000 and possibly 500,000 men, is a possible guide to the trend.

Italian sources in Rome asserted that Bulgaria and Rumania would join in forthcoming war moves of Germany and Italy and that Spain's decision would become known after Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner, fresh from conversations yesterday with Reichsfuehrer Hitler, reached Madrid.

Assign Gibraltar to Spain.

A Rome dispatch said that L'Avvenire, Italian newspaper, gave credence to a Belgrade report that Russia would seek to gain Turkish acceptance of the axis plan for southeastern Europe.

Bulgaria's reward for coöperation would be an outlet to the Aegean, thru Greece, while Spain would gain Gibraltar and perhaps more of Morocco—this was the hypothesis generally agreed upon by observers in Rome and elsewhere.

A Rome dispatch said diplomatic circles believed Germany would seek Spain's permission to occupy the west coast of Morocco to complete the western Mediterranean jaw of the "vise" with which the axis would try to squeeze the British.

Tied in with these were the assertions of diplomatic sources at Berne, Switzerland, that a German-Bulgarian drive into Greece toward the Aegean "may be effected at any hour."

Greece Needs Turkish Aid.

A Greek spokesman at Berne declared that the Greek high command had taken all necessary steps to meet such an attack. Foreign military observers believed, however, that Greece would need Turkish aid.

Only Jugo-Slavia seemed to have been left out of the axis' current conference diplomacy but this Balkan kingdom already had pledged economic and political coöperation.

BRITISH BOMBER CRASH KILLS U.S. WAR REPORTER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The state department today was notified that Ralph W. Barnes, a war correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune was among four persons killed when a British bomber crashed into a mountain in Jugo-Slavia yesterday.

[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The department was notified by Arthur B. Lane, American minister to Jugo-Slavia, who said his information came from the Jugo-Slav war office.

Barnes, 41 years old and a native of Salem, Ore., was a veteran on the European scene. He first went to Europe in 1926 to work in Paris and then was moved in succession to Rome, Moscow, Berlin, London, and back to Berlin, from where he was expelled in June, 1939. He went to Greece when Italy invaded that country.

REFUGEE WOMAN TELLS HOW BOMB HIT BABY'S CRIB

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—The armed British liner Samaria arrived today from Liverpool via Halifax with 684 passengers, most of them refugees from the war zone, and all of whom wore their life belts constantly during the voyage.

Among them was Mrs. Ann Haltrecht, who said that before she left London a small bomb went thru her 14 month old son's crib and exploded after it had passed thru the floor below.

She and the baby had gone to bed after having been in an air shelter until 2 a. m., she said. "After an initial explosion which blew the roof from the house," she related, "I saw a small bomb come down thru the sky. The baby went up in the air and I went with him. The house was practically demolished, but neither of us was injured, except I was somewhat bruised."

Her husband is with the royal engineers. She and the child are on their way to stay with her sister, Mrs. Lily Norton of Miami, Fla.

300 PLANES RAID GREEK TROOPS ON MOUNTAIN SLOPE

Italians Strafe Infantry Near Koritza.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 19.—Greek troops with only infantry weapons battled against an armada of more than 300 Italian war planes today for the last key point held by the Italians around the Fascist base of Koritza in Albania. Meanwhile the Greek government launched an urgent plea to the United States and Britain for "planes, planes and planes."

T. Nicoloudis.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

The government thanked the British in a statement issued by Press Minister T. Nicoloudis for the help they have given but said it must not slacken—the war is not over yet.

Warfare continued on all fronts, but reached its highest pitch around Koritza, 10 miles from the Greek border.

Greeks Pay Heavy Price.

The Greeks, with rifles, bayonets and grenades, resisted planes and tanks, but the price paid was terrific. It was said only aircraft can deal effectively with massed attacks from the air.

One important height in the Koritza sector is still held by the Italians. The Morava ridge has two peaks. One of 6,600 feet is held by the Greeks. The other is a hill a mile high. It is held by the Italians.

All the planes the Italians could muster machine gunned Greek infantrymen as they labored up the slope of the second peak and cleared the ground of Italians yard by yard with bayonets and grenades.

Try to Prevent Escape.

Once the possessor of that hill, the Greeks said their artillery could blast the Italians out of their positions on the Mount Ivan ridge to the north and cut communications between that sector and the rest of Albania. It was maintained that the Italian forces on the peak could be cut off from the main body of the Italian army unless they retreated and left the area to the Greeks.

No way of escape, except into Jugo-Slavia, exists once the single road leading to the main Italian army comes under fire, the Greeks said.

Greek warships, aided by British ships which have been patroling the entrance to the Adriatic, reported that communication between Albania and Italy by sea has been almost stopped.

The Greeks said they shot down 11 Italian planes during the day.

Battle Casualties Mount.

BITOLJ, Jugo-Slavia, Nov. 19 (AP).—Casualties in the fierce fighting between Greek and Italian armies for the Italian base city of Koritza in Albania are mounting, but neither side has been able to deliver a knockout blow, it was reported tonight in this frontier town. The Italians were said to be holding their positions on the Koritza front against heavy onslaughts.

The Italians also claimed capture of a group of English troops brought from Egypt to help the Greeks.

Reports reaching the Jugo-Slav border said the Fascist forces succeeded in penetrating Greek lines near Sirica on Mount Morava, advancing more than a mile. Six hundred Greek prisoners were reported taken.

Attack Greek Positions.

ROME, Nov. 19 (AP).—The Italian high command today reported that Fascist airmen "violently attacked" Greek positions, "causing explosions and machine gunning troop concentrations. Three enemy planes were shot down. One of our planes failed to return."

EUROPA, BIG NAZI LINER, BOMBED, BRITISH REPORT

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP).—The 49,746 ton German liner Europa has been hit amidship by a British air bomb while in dock at Bremen, the air ministry news service reported tonight. The announcement gave no details, but suggested by inference that great and perhaps fatal damage had been done the ship. New in 1930, the Europa set the westward Atlantic crossing record of 4 days 17 hours and 6 minutes.

The British bombing campaign on the continent has cut production of the Krupp armament works by half, wrought a "growing disruption" of industry in western Germany and so smashed rail facilities that crops are rotting ungathered in German fields, the air ministry declared today. Three sections of the vast Krupp plant at Essen, Germany, have been knocked out of action, the ministry said.

Four big buildings of the Union Chemical factory on an island at Stettin were reported smashed; the biggest oil refinery at Hanover destroyed; the Deutsche Vacuum Oil companies at Bremen put out of production, and production at the great Fokker airplane works at Amsterdam halted for weeks by damage to its power house. British bombers attacked the synthetic oil works at Leuna near Leipzig last night.

CRY OF INVASION PERIL IS RAISED ANEW IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP).—The cry of peril of invasion of Britain was raised again today. Britons were warned never to relax their guard against an invader. Sir Edward Grigg, war office undersecretary, told the house of commons the Germans might attempt to invade Britain "at any time, particularly since their triumphs are beginning to look a little tarnished." A large part of the Nazi army, he declared, still "stands marshalled behind invasion ports."

ILLINOIS GROUP VOTES 15 TO 11 ON PROPOSAL TO ADJOURN CONGRESS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—With one exception, the Illinois delegation in the house was divided along strictly party lines on the vote to adjourn congress, Democrats voting for and Republicans against the adjournment resolution.

Voting for the resolution were: Democrats — Mitchell, McKeough, Kelly, Beam, Sabath, Maciejewski, Schuetz, Kocialkowski, Fries, Arnold, Parsons, Keller, Martin, and Smith. Total, 14.

Voting against the resolution were: Republicans—Church, Reed, Mason, Allen, Johnson, Chiperfield, Dirksen, Arends, Sumner, and Wheat. Total, 10.

Representative James M. Barnes, Democrat of Jacksonville, Ill., was the only member to break the party line-up. He voted against the adjournment resolution.

Representatives James McAndrews and Edwin M. Schaefer, Democrats, did not vote.

U. S. IS STUDYING WAYS TO SUPPLY ARMS TO GREECE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—In response to an urgent appeal from Greece, the United States tonight took under consideration the question of supplying planes and other war material to that hard fighting Balkan country.

Difficult problems stand in the way of meeting the Greek request, however. Foremost among these is the question whether military material can be spared, without reducing the amount being supplied to Greece's ally, Great Britain.

The time element also is important in view of a widely held belief here that Germany is preparing to move down the Balkan peninsula to relieve the difficulties of her axis partner, Italy.

LONDONERS MAY WEAR MASKS TO HALT GERM PERIL

Shelter Diseases Feared; Seek More Refuges.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 19. — After more than two months of blitzkrieg in which not a day has passed without German bombers raining bombs on London or other parts of the United Kingdom, the problems of providing the greatest possible measure of safety for the health and comfort of the inhabitants are still unsolved.

Lord Horder's shelter committee, in an effort to catch up on the country's needs, today recommended the requisitioning of commercial shelters for the public at night and the issuance of simple masks to the occupants to prevent the spreading of infection.

The crux of the problem is overcrowding. A new survey of basements, railway arches, and other places has been suggested to find additional shelter space. The committee also insists it will be necessary to extend the evacuation schemes, especially for children less than 5 years old.

Diphtheria Most Feared.

Diphtheria is the disease most likely to result from the overcrowding, the committee states, and it urges vaccination, altho no provision exists, no matter how grave the danger, for compulsion.

The London county council was said to be considering an order to exclude men 17 to 40 years old from subway shelters to reduce overcrowding.

Local authorities asked the citizens of Coventry, recently heavily bombed, to boil their milk and water to prevent typhoid, and inoculation centers have been opened in that city.

Minister of Food Lord Woolton has opened numerous feeding centers in that area and loud speakers are used to direct the people to them.

Christmas Poultry Scarcer.

The food ministry stated the milk supply during December and January will be less than usual. Priority in the allocation of supplies will be given to nursing mothers, children less than 5, and school children.

The Christmas supply of poultry, including turkeys, will be scarce, it is admitted, and the ministry is considering a proposal to increase the allowance of cooking fats and sugar for the making of Christmas cakes. Retail prices of poultry already are 33 per cent higher than last year.

The schooling problem in London still is serious, reports from 800 canvassers show. It is estimated that 75,000 of the 100,000 children still in London receive no schooling.

U. S. and Britain Can Never Overtake Us in Air, Say Nazis

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—The combined efforts of the British and American aircraft industries cannot hope to catch up with German aircraft production, an authorized military source at the propaganda ministry today claimed.

In the words of Adolf Hitler, Germany is organizing and standardizing the industries of the whole of Europe. On the other hand, according to the military source, "a flood of new fangled inventions from America may complicate the training of English pilots and the servicing of the planes."

British planes, the spokesman said, were inferior in speed, armament and carrying capacity to the German machines. Declaring that the German Messerschmitt 109 still holds the world speed record, he claimed that Germany's destroyer planes of the Messerschmitt 110 type were, despite their two motors, as fast as the British Spitfire pursuit ship. He placed the speed of a Spitfire at 350 miles an hour and that of the Hurricane at 331 miles.

Holds Speed Is King.

The German expert said that the English had praised the maneuverability of their planes as compared to that of the Germans, but he held that "speed is a decisive factor since the speedier plane can accept or refuse to fight and choose the vantage point from which it wants to give battle."

The British Armstrong Whitworth Whitley machines, the spokesman declared, could be used only as night bombers because of their low speed. He admitted that the Bristol Blenheim and Handley-Page had sufficient speed to compete with the German bombers, but claimed that their carrying power was moderate.

The spokesman declared German bombers were able to carry 2,000 kilograms of bombs [a kilogram is equivalent to 2.2 pounds] while penetrating 400 miles into enemy territory, and that the British Wellingtons could carry only 1,000 kilograms of bombs over that distance. The Blenheims carry only 650 kilograms, the spokesman asserted, and "other British types carry even less."

Nazi Armor Defies Foe.

As regards armament, the German spokesman declared the air destroyer of the Messerschmitt 110 type was far superior to the British pursuit ship because of its two cannon. The British pursuit ships, the spokesman said, mount machine guns only, not cannon. German planes, he added, repeatedly have returned to their bases with as many as 200 machine gun bullet holes, machine guns proving unable to hamper seriously the flying abilities of the German all metal planes.

The explosive power of German bombs and the efficiency of German bomb sights, the spokesman added, were far superior to the British. He discribed the British bomb sights used heretofore as primitive.

"German research laboratories for new instruments," he said, "remain the best of the world."

KING IS SELECTED BY SENATE AS ITS TEMPORARY HEAD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The senate today elected Senator William H. King [D., Utah] as its president pro tempore during the life of the present congress. He succeeds the late Senator Key Pittman of Nevada.

Another president pro tempore—the presiding official of the senate in the absence of the vice president of the United States—will be elected when the new congress meets in January. King will not be back, having been defeated for renomination.

Friends said that Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.] had agreed to accept the post, if elected, but that he would not be an active candidate. Harrison was reported to have been decided upon by a group of influential members who met today with Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader.

WILLKIE BEHIND G. O. P. TICKET IN 22 STATE RACES

Ahead in 12 on Final Tabulations.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Wendell Willkie.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—Complete returns disclose that Wendell L. Willkie led the Republican ticket in 12 states and ran behind the ticket in 22. These figures exclude 14 states in the south, where the Republican party is a fiction.

Final figures show Willkie was high man in his party vote, as compared with the G. O. P. candidates for either governor, senator, or both—depending on which states held elections for such offices—in:

Arizona
Indiana
Iowa
Kansas
Maine
Maryland
Michigan
Nevada
New York
South Dakota
Wisconsin
Wyoming

Willkie ran behind others on the Republican state-wide tickets in:

California
Colorado
Connecticut
Delaware
Idaho
Illinois
Massachusetts
Minnesota
Missouri
Montana
Nebraska
New Hampshire
New Jersey
New Mexico
North Dakota
Ohio
Pennsylvania
Rhode Island
Utah
Vermont
Washington
West Virginia

In three states which Willkie lost—Illinois, Minnesota, and Ohio—the Republicans elected both governors and senators.

Between Green and Brooks.

In Illinois, where the Democratic machine concentrated its effort against Wayland Brooks, Republican winner for senator, Brooks ran only 19,308 behind Willkie. Dwight H. Green, Republican who won for governor, polled 130,090 more votes than Willkie. Fewer total votes were cast, as usual for governor and senator than for President.

In seven states lost by Willkie, the Republicans elected governors. These states are Delaware, Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, Washington, and Wisconsin.

In two other states lost by Willkie—Idaho and New Jersey—the Republicans elected United States senators.

In only three states carried by Willkie—Indiana, Kansas, and Michigan—did the Republicans lose a major office. They lost governors in those states, but solely on local considerations.

Campaign Leaves Wounds.

In the cloakrooms of Congress, Republican legislators are expressing dissatisfaction with the course of the campaign. Among senators and representatives, the view is expressed that Republican policy henceforth will be shaped by the Republicans in congress more than by Willkie as a titular head of the party.

This sentiment against accepting Willkie's leadership for the coming four years is crystalizing in an effort to retain Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, Republican house leader, as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

In the dual capacity of national chairman and party house leader, it is argued that Martin would wield a more potent influence than would Willkie in molding party opinion for the 1942 congressional election campaign and the preliminary stages of the 1944 national election.

Martin Ready to Resign.

Martin has announced his intention of resigning the national chairmanship at a meeting of the committee in March. By some Republican leaders it has been surmised that this move is not unrelated to friction that developed between Willkie and Martin during the campaign. It was well known that Martin disapproved of Willkie's utterances which ran counter to Republican opposition in congress to some of the Roosevelt policies.

Already there is much cloakroom speculation as to 1944. Whether there will be any widespread demand for the renomination of Willkie is an absorbing question.

Dewey in Spotlight.

At the moment attention is concentrated on Thomas E. Dewey, district attorney of New York, who has announced that he will not seek reelection to that office, but does intend to run for governor of New York in 1942. If he should be elected to that office, he would become a formidable contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1944.

Others being brought into Republican considerations for 1944 are Dwight Green, governor-elect of Illinois; Wayland Brooks, senator-elect from Illinois; Harold Stassen, reelected governor of Minnesota; Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Governor John Bricker of Ohio, and Gov. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts. Both Bricker and Saltonstall were reëlected.

WILLKIE'S POPULAR VOTE COMPARED WITH OTHER REPUBLICANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—The following table presents the popular vote for Wendell Willkie compared with the popular vote for the Republican candidates for senator and governor in states in which there were elections for such offices:

U. S. PROSECUTOR GETS DISMISSAL FOR PENDERGAST

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19 [Special].—After denying a similar defense motion yesterday, Federal Judge A. Lee Wyman today dismissed conspiracy indictments against Tom Pendergast, former Kansas City political boss, and two others when the request was made by United States Attorney Maurice M. Milligan.

In his refusal yesterday the judge disregarded the pleas of two assistant United States attorneys who said Milligan promised Pendergast he would not be prosecuted further if he pleaded guilty of income tax evasion. The judge ruled that government attorneys had no right to bind his court by such a promise.

The indictments grew out of the settlement of a 9 million dollar state insurance case. Named with Pendergast, who subsequently served a year in Leavenworth for income tax evasion, were R. Emmett O'Malley, former state insurance superintendent, and A. L. McCormack, St. Louis insurance man.

FRANCE IS SAVED; IT WILL NOT DIE, PRESS DECLARES

Tour of Marshal Petain Hailed as Success.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LYONS, France, Nov. 19.—The population of Lyons again today poured out its acclaim for Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, chief of state, who visited factory districts and talked with workers at the noon hour. The marshal has been making a tour evidently to observe the country's reaction to his plans to reconstruct France.

The press, which is largely concentrated here, declared Petain's visit has been a success. Le Temps said: "This visit shows that France, even tho it has not yet risen from its ruins and the heavy defeat it suffered, is nevertheless saved. It will not die. It has regained confidence in itself."

Watch Deal for Prisoners.

Political circles are speculating on how many prisoners will come back from Germany as a result of the protocol announced by Georges Scapini and the Vichy government's representatives for prisoners in Berlin.

Aside from 30,000 French soldiers in Switzerland, who will be repatriated immediately, it was not possible to get figures on the total of those who will be released as fathers of three or more children. It was stressed that facilities for communication between prisoners and their families will be improved.

Paris Riot Story Confirmed.

It was noted that Scapini's statement for the first time referred officially to student riots in conflict with the Germans in Paris, about which there had been reports here.

Premier Benito Mussolini's speech yesterday in Italy has disturbed French political circles which had hoped that rapprochement with Germany might make dealing with Italy easier. It is stated here that "particular attention will be paid here to Mussolini's declaration that Italy's claims against France must be satisfied outside of all ideas of a compromise or provisional solution."

SHOOT DOWN NAZI PLANE RAIDING BRITISH CONVOY

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP).—The British naval escort ship Lowestoft shot down a Heinkel seaplane yesterday when the plane tried to attack a North sea convoy, the admiralty announced tonight. The raider was winged on the first round, the communique said.

The admiralty said the submarine Rainbow was overdue and must be considered lost. [The 1,475 ton Rainbow had a complement of 50.]

Striking a balance of shipping losses in the week ending Nov. 10-11, the admiralty announced 13 merchantmen totaling 71,749 tons were sunk "by enemy action." They included 10 British vessels, one allied craft, and two neutral ships.

Ten Ships Sunk, Berlin Claims.

BERLIN, Nov. 19 (AP).—Ten British merchant ships totaling 51,250 tons were sunk off England yesterday and last night—eight by submarines and two by dive bombers—the German high command reported today.

PRESIDENT TALKS TO PRESS AND HE IS NONCOMMITTAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—In his first press conference in 10 days, President Roosevelt was noncommittal on most subjects, except to announce the resignation of Joseph E. Davies as special assistant to the secretary of state.

Davies, former ambassador to Belgium and Russia, resigned to accept appointment by Mr. Roosevelt as head of the committee which will handle the inauguration Jan. 20.

The President said he anticipated no immediate developments bearing on Martinique, French island in the Caribbean, altho he said he could not predict events more than a few hours ahead. He also declined comment on the strike of C. I. O. employés at the Vultee Aircraft company plant at Downey, Cal., on the ground that he was not familiar with the situation. Nor had he any comment on Wendell L. Willkie's post-election address advocating a "loyal opposition" to the New Deal administration. He dismissed reports that Marshall Field III. may be appointed ambassador to Great Britain.

British War Costs Fall to $38,000,000 Each Day

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP).—Britain's war expenditures dropped to a daily average of £9,500,000 [$38,000,000] last week, against an average of £12,000,000 [$48,000,000] the previous two weeks, the exchequer disclosed today.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

WE think it will be of interest to the people of Chicago to know that this 86 year old store completed, last Saturday, the greatest sale in its history. And Saturday itself was one of the largest days ever recorded on our books.

WE feel that we should be remiss if we did not gratefully acknowledge this expression of public confidence and did not publicly thank our several thousand associates for the high level of efficiency which made this record possible.

USE OF $50 FEE FROM LABORERS A UNION SECRET

Quarter Million in Sight for Rockford Local.

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 19 [Special].—Monroe Johnson, business agent of the A. F. of L. Laborers' union, was interviewed today concerning initiation fees of $50 charged men who seek work on the $4,250,000 building project at Camp Grant.

The union now has 200 members working at the camp and between 4,000 and 5,000 are to be employed when the project gets under full way. John Griffith & Sons, general contractors, have specified that all employés hold A. F. of L. membership cards, an action being fought by the C. I. O.

$50 Fee Is Charged.

Johnson would not comment on questions pertaining to his union's disposition of the initiation fees, which would amount to $250,000 for 5,000 men, holding that this is solely a union matter. The money is used for union expenses, he said, refusing to explain further.

He did say, however, that for laborers to get A. F. of L. cards each must pay $2 down and the remainder of the $50 fee within 60 days, and dues of $2 a month to hold their jobs.

"Is there any specific reason why A. F. of L. membership is being required for camp work?" he was asked.

"I don't care to answer that," he replied.

"How many men have signed up in the union in the last week?"

"I couldn't answer that."

What happens if the men fail to pay the balance of the initiation fee within 60 days?"

"They don't become members."

Job Ends March 15.

"Will you be able to supply all the men needed?"

"Yes."

"Is there any specific item for which the monthly dues is allocated?"

"If a man gets sick the local has the power to vote the man anything it wants to or to put the money into a sick benefit fund, but we haven't any such fund up to this time."

Johnson said that in return for the $50 initiation fee and $2 a month dues the union provides a death benefit of $100 for men who have been members more than a year and $200 for members of two or more years. However, the Camp Grant project is scheduled to be completed by March 15.

Officials of the Rockford C. I. O. industrial council have filed a protest with Sidney Hillman, labor representative on the national defense advisory commission at Washington, against their members being denied employment at the camp. They said their union does not charge an initiation fee and dues are only $1.50 a month.

STRIKE AT STEEL PLANT TIES UP DEFENSE ORDERS

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP).—A strike of C. I. O. workers in the Halcomb plant of the Crucible Steel company which an official said was working on defense orders, developed today as several hundred men of the day shift declined to enter the shops.

A company spokesman admitted only 250 of the normal complement of 1,100 men were on their jobs this morning and attributed the strike to the work of "23 men with no authority from the union to call a strike."

He asserted the strike was "hurting production and holding up completion of orders vital to the national defense program."

A spokesman for the workers, identifying himself only as a member of the C. I. O. Steel Workers union, said the men were demanding restoration of a 6 cent wage differential between laborers and skilled men, and elimination of the "stagger week" in favor of a straight five day week with a 48 hour rest period.

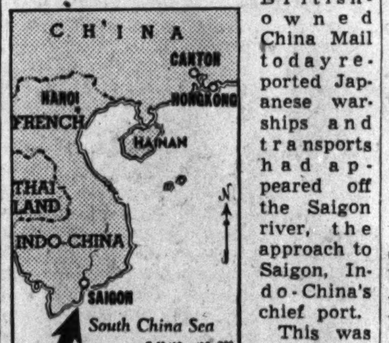
JAPANESE WARSHIPS REPORTED SENT TO BIG INDO-CHINA PORT

HONGKONG, Nov. 19 (AP).—A dispatch from French Indo-China to the British-owned China Mail today reported Japanese warships and transports had appeared off the Saigon river, the approach to Saigon, Indo-China's chief port.



Arrow locates Saigon.

This was said to coincide with renewed Japanese pressure for permission to land troops at Saigon. Such demands have been reported made to Admiral Jean Decoux, governor general of Indo-China, who referred them to Vichy. Japanese military leaders were said to have shown impatience over the delay in Vichy's reply.

Deny Reports of Demands.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Domei, the Japanese news agency, today broadcast a denial of reports that the Japanese army and navy were attempting to extend Japanese occupation to southern French Indo-China. Japanese forces already hold bases in northern Indo-China.

41 CIVILIANS DIE IN ITALIAN RAID ON ALEXANDRIA

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Nov. 19 (AP).—Forty-one civilians were killed and 70 wounded in last night's air raids on this British base, the ministry of interior stated tonight. Seventeen houses were smashed. Italian aircraft attacked in five successive waves.

Smoke Pours from Warship.

ALGECIRAS, Spain, Nov. 19 (AP).—Thick smoke was seen pouring from a British warship in Gibraltar strait today shortly after two planes flew over the British fortifications, but reports that the warship were hit by a bomb were not confirmed and the smoke may have been a screen. The planes were driven from the Rock by heavy antiaircraft fire. The warship returned slowly to Gibraltar when the smoke appeared.

Italians Bomb Oasis.

ROME, Nov. 19 (AP).—The Italian airforce today was said to have caused "enormous damage" on British "aeronautical works, defense works and barracks" at the oasis of Siwa in Egypt. British raids on Tobruk, Bardia, and Salum, in North Africa, were acknowledged.

TOTALITARIAN GROUP BARRED BY SWITZERLAND

BERNE, Switzerland, Nov. 19 (AP).—The Swiss government tonight ordered dissolution of the totalitarian group known as the National Movement. This was the government's answer to the movement's "request" for recognition as "standard bearer of new political and social ideas." Der Bund of Berne, an organ which frequently expresses the Swiss government's views, recently called the movement "a true copy of Germany's National Socialist party."

"The National Movement tried recently to transform by illegal procedure Swiss institutions and to compromise public order and create conflict," the federal council said.

FILM CENSORSHIP WILL BE AIRED AT PUBLIC HEARINGS

Alderman Asks Curbs on Child Movies Only.

The question of whether or not the censorship of motion pictures should be taken away from its present authority, the police department, and liberalized, is to be made the subject of a public hearing.

Yesterday the city council judiciary committee, headed by Ald. H. L. Brody [39th], voted to hold public hearings on a recommendation of Ald. Earl B. Dickerson [2d] that the city censorship ordinance be amended.

Calls for Trained Board.

The Dickerson amendment would eliminate all city censorship of pictures to be viewed by adults and call for censorship only of those pictures which are to be seen by minors. Such censorship would be done by a trained board appointed by the mayor and not connected with the police department, according to Dickerson's proposal.

"The present censor board presents artificial barriers," Dickerson said last night. "Too much power is placed in the hands of the police, who know little about the whole thing, anyway."

Dickerson criticized recent censorship by the board of anti-Nazi films after the showing of films produced by Germany had been permitted. After protests the bans on the anti-Nazi pictures were lifted.

Ald. Brody said, "I have received many letters for and against liberalized censorship. We want to find out what the public thinks on the question. A member of the Haugan Elementary School Parent-Teacher association told me last night that we need a strict censorship."

Favors a Public Airing.

Ald. Frank O. Hilburn [47th], vice chairman of the judiciary committee, said he was in favor of having the public air its views.

Ald. George D. Kells [28th] said some pictures have done damage from a moral standpoint but that he thought in some cases pictures of a social nature which have been censored should have been permitted.

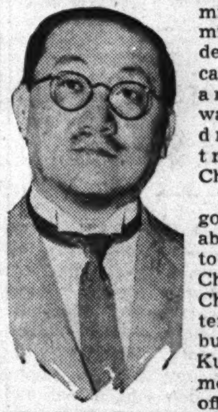
"The present board is too old fashioned," declared Ald. John S. Boyle [16th]. "Adults should have a right to see what they want to see."

"In the case of a question as controversial as this one is the public should be heard," said Ald. John J. Grealis [44th].

Police Commissioner Allman said recently that he did not believe motion picture censorship should be a function of the police department.

CHUNGKING SAYS JAPS CAN HAVE PEACE IF ARMY IS WITHDRAWN

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 19 (AP).—Dr. H. H. Kung, China's vice premier and finance minister, today declared "Japan can have peace anytime she wants it by withdrawing all troops from China."



Dr. H. H. Kung.

"The Japanese government probably would like to talk with Chungking, but China is not interested in words but deeds," Dr. Kung said in commenting on unofficial Tokio reports that Japan would seek by direct negotiations with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to end the 40 month old war.

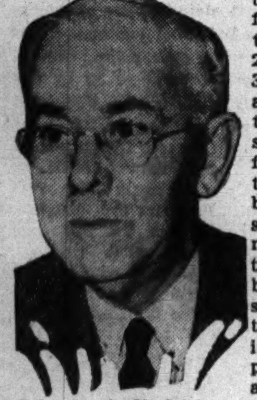
GRIDLEY, AT 77, DECIDES TO PUT ASIDE HIS GAVEL

Veteran Judge Rounds Out 30 Years on Bench.



Judge Martin M. Gridley.

Judge Martin M. Gridley of the Superior court will step down from the bench for the last time on Dec. 2. It will be 30 years — almost to the day — since he first donned the judicial black in the same courtroom, 811 in the county building. He served 10 of those years in the Superior court and 20 in the Appellate court.

Yesterday the judge, who is tall, silver haired, and still vigorous despite his 77 years, conducted a personal injury trial, and then tidied up his affairs in chambers preparatory to his retirement. That retirement is voluntary—he refused to be a candidate for another six year term—and Ald. Roger J. Kiley [37th], running on the Democratic ticket, was elected to fill the coming vacancy last June.

Colleagues Pay Tribute.

Judges and lawyers united yesterday in paying tribute to Judge Gridley, whose record in the Superior and Illinois Appellate courts they described as one of high integrity and as one of the longest and most dignified in the county's history. The judge will be honored at a luncheon of the judges in the Chicago Athletic club Nov. 27 and at a dinner given by the Society of Trial Lawyers in the Union League club on the night of Nov. 28.

"I hate to quit," Judge Gridley said yesterday, "but I have to do so on the advice of my physician, because my eyesight is not what it used to be. I don't believe any one ever enjoyed as much as I have being in law practice and on the bench. I've been happy because I liked my work."

Expects to Travel a Little.

In the future the judge expects to stay close to home at 425 Grove street, Evanston, altho he may do a little traveling.

"I used to fish and golf quite a bit," he remarked, "but that's too strenuous for me. I'll be at the Glen View Golf club [he was one of the organizers of this club in 1897] from time to time, and I'll take a hand at billiards at the Evanston club. I'm still pretty good on a three cushion shot."

Judge Gridley was born in Milwaukee in 1863 and was graduated from Northwestern university in 1883. For the next two years he studied at the Union College of Law—now the Northwestern university school of law—working as a newspaper reporter to defray some of his expenses, and was admitted to the bar in 1885.

He was in practice with the firms of Paden & Gridley and Gridley, Culver & King until 1910, when he was elected to the Superior court on the Democratic ticket. He was reëlected in 1916, 1922, 1928, and 1934. He always received high recommendation from the Chicago Bar association.

Served Twice on Appellate Bench.

The Illinois Supreme court appointed Judge Gridley to the Appellate bench in 1912. He returned to the Superior court in 1916, was again named to the Appellate branch in 1919 and served there until 1935, when he went back to the Superior court.

Judge Gridley will receive a pension of $7,500 a year, half his regular salary.

In 1896 the judge was married to Miss Ruth Farwell, daughter of an early Chicago family. They have two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Skinner of Southport, Conn., and Miss Pearl Farwell Gridley, who lives with her parents.

VICTIM OF GALE DIES.

The Armistice day windstorm claimed another victim yesterday when Daniel Simpson, 76 years old, died in county hospital of injuries suffered when he was blown over on the street near his home at 1024 Cullerton street.

BIG EARL HERBERT SEIZED FOR QUIZ IN $25,000 HOLDUP

Earl [Big Earl] Herbert, gangster of the prohibition days, last night was seized here for questioning about a $25,000 Milwaukee jewelry store holdup. He and two others arrested in the raid were questioned at the state's attorney's office and then locked up, but the police refused to give any information on the arrests.

The robbery occurred on Oct. 5 in the heart of the Milwaukee business district. Two gunmen invaded August Axt's jewelry store and forced Axt to surrender diamonds and other jewelry.

Herbert was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1931 for the murder of Thomas Bonner, a reputed police informer, but was freed from the penitentiary in 1935 when the United States Supreme court reversed his conviction. Herbert then was sent back to prison for killing a railroad detective in 1928. The gangster was released early this year at the expiration of his term.

CANADA TO BUILD GREATER NAVY, SAYS MINISTER

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 19 (AP).—A greatly expanded navy built in Canada and manned by Canadians trained in Canada was promised today by Angus Macdonald, minister of national defense for naval services.

He told the house of commons that a naval college would be reëstablished, that the government hoped to construct destroyers, and perhaps cruisers, in Canadian shipyards, and that by the end of March, 1942, the navy was expected to number 255 vessels and 23,000 men.

Macdonald said the navy had grown from 15 vessels and 1,774 men at the start of the war to 155 vessels and 13,273 men.

PRESIDENT SETS ASIDE DEC. 17 TO FOSTER AVIATION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 [Special].—President Roosevelt today proclaimed Dec. 17 as Pan-American Aviation day and called upon all state and territorial governors and the public so to recognize it. This date is the anniversary of the Wright brothers' historic flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C.

The President fixed Dec. 17 as a permanent Pan-American Aviation day for future years. He acted in compliance with a congressional act of Oct. 10, 1940.

Mr. Roosevelt stressed the important rôle civil aviation can play in fostering closer economic and cultural ties between the peoples of the American republics.

Extend Search for Five Who Leaped from Bomber

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 19 (AP).—Search for five missing royal Canadian air force men, who abandoned their bombing plane by parachute Saturday night over the rugged country near East Lake, Que., has been extended to the northern part of Maine, R. C. A. F. headquarters announced tonight.

BABY DRINKS AMMONIA.

John Coyne, 15 months old, last night took a drink from a bottle of ammonia that his mother was using for cleaning in the Coyne home at 7210 South May street. His father, Peter, hurried him to St. Bernard's hospital, where the physicians fixed him up as good as new.

THIS IS ANOTHER BUSINESS MEN'S NIGHT AT OPERA

Informal Dress the Rule; Two Features Offered.

Tonight is another business man's panacea at the Civic Opera house. For the second time this season he is invited to be as comfortable at grand opera as he would be before his own fireplace.

This does not mean he is invited to take off his shoes or flourish an old pipe, but rather that if he comes in a business suit, even a slightly wrinkled one, he will find himself surrounded by hundreds of men happy in the same attire.

Men Hail Innovation.

The Chicago Opera company's precedent shattering introduction of business men's night last Wednesday has brought enthusiastic indorsement from men, J. C. Thompson, business manager, said yesterday. "Dozens called me personally," he said, "to say it should have been done long ago."

As a result advance sales for tonight's production of the twin bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" are far ahead of those for last Wednesday, he said. Yet last Wednesday's sales were substantially greater than those of the preceding Wednesday.

There are no fixed rules on attire, Thompson stressed. If there be those who really want to come in full evening dress, they may do so, of course. If there be ladies who want to come with bared back and flowing gown, while their escorts stroll beside them in blue serge, they, too, it is hoped, will feel quite at home.

Anything Goes, He Says.

"It's business men's night, and the majority of men will be in business clothes," Thompson said, "but anything goes.

"We want it to be just one of those informal affairs that you come to often. We started it because there are many men who can't get home in time to change their clothes, have dinner, and get back in time for an 8 o'clock curtain. We want to encourage people to come and come as they are.

"I've had a few calls from people who feel that opera is glamorous and that everybody should be dressed, and dressed to the hilt, but the majority certainly don't. They say, 'It's a great idea! Why didn't you try it sooner?'"

HINDERS BREATHING—SPOILS SLEEP

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE

Here's mighty good news . . . If your nose "closes up" at night and makes breathing difficult, put 3-purpose Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril.

Va-tro-nol does 3 important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes; (2) soothes irritation; (3) helps flush nasal passages, clearing clogging mucus, relieving transient congestion. It brings more comfort, makes breathing easier, invites sleep.

. . . And remember, it helps prevent colds from developing if used in time.

Famed St. James Church in London Ruined by Bomb

LONDON, Nov. 19 (AP). — Almost complete destruction of a London landmark, St. James church in Piccadilly, in a recent German raid, was disclosed today by government permission. A bomb fell in the tombstone paved forecourt, destroying the rectory, killing the attendant and his wife. The organ, given by Queen Mary in 1691, was blasted to bits. The church was designed by Sir Christopher Wren in the late 17th century.

A SECRET'S SAFE WITH A WOMAN, ASSERTS BISHOP

Role in Charity Approved at Catholic Parley.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Bishop Vincent J. Ryan of Bismarck, N. D., yesterday expressed faith in the ability of women to keep secrets—even those which they may learn as agents of charitable organizations. This faith, together with approval of women's volunteer relief organizations, was voiced before a meeting of the National Conference of Catholic Charities in the Stevens hotel.

"A stock objection of those opposed to volunteer organization may be phrased as follows," said Bishop Ryan.

"'Can women be trained to keep secrets? Will not the information gleaned by the volunteer charity worker be served up in morsels at the weekly bridge club meeting?'"

In answer the bishop cited the professional stenographer, who, he said, is the repository of the people's secrets in every city in the country. He said that if stenographers ever should tell what they know, they would shake the social and financial structure of any city.

Charity Viewed as Stronger Seal.

And, Bishop Ryan said, the very nature of Christian charity is a stronger seal on secrets than is the professional ethics of the stenographer or the secular social worker.

"To restrain a gossipy tongue I would rely more on the power of charity than upon what commonly is called professional ethics," Bishop Ryan said.

"For many years I have dealt with volunteer charity workers and I never have experienced the betrayal of a confidence on the part of a volunteer worker. I have met women who have not considered themselves volunteer charity workers but who on their own initiative were guarding the secrets and confidences of unfortunates who came to them for aid or direction."

Parish Responsibility Cited.

Bishop Ryan was critical of a trend which would cause a parish to send its needy and unfortunate to a central welfare bureau instead of regarding them as responsibilities of the parish. He said this trend is being reversed, with more and more pastors regarding the parish as the natural unit of charity.

"The poor, the dependent, the unfortunate, and the wayward are members of a parish which offer the rest of the parish an opportunity to exercise the virtue of charity," he said. "This does not mean that charity should be limited to the boundaries of a parish, but a parish should begin by taking care of its own needy cases."

GAME WARDEN MEETS HUNTERS, SHOOTS HIMSELF

Conrad Arndt, deputy state game warden, was looking for hunters he had been told were killing hen pheasants yesterday when he saw three huntsmen on John Miller's farm, two miles north of Zion. They were Miller, who is 67 years old, and two neighbors, Robert West, 75, and Alva Casteel.

Arndt called out from his car to ask if they had licenses. He said that Casteel replied, "Come out and see." Suspecting trouble, the deputy got out with his gun in hand. It discharged, shooting him thru the left hand. He went to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan for treatment and swore out a warrant charging Casteel with disorderly conduct.

The hunters had licenses and said they were not shooting hen pheasants

Holiday decorations being put on downtown light poles. This one is at State and Washington streets.

State street began to set the stage yesterday for Santa Claus' arrival on Friday. When that jolly gentleman rides down the street, marking Chicago's toy opening day, Christmas decorations, the most expensive ever erected by the State Street council, will be in place on 73 light posts.

Workmen hung the first decorations yesterday. Red candles, 10½ feet high and 12 inches in diameter, will flare upwards from the base of giant balsam wreaths, 9½ feet in outer diameter. On each wreath there will be five stars of white pressed wood, filagreed with chromaloid stars. They will be illuminated by natural, amber lights creating the effect of a street of jewels.

The decorations were designed by John Root, architect, and the lighting effects arranged by Edward Tillson, lighting expert.

DICKINSON NAMES MATILDA WILSON LIEUT. GOVERNOR

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 19 [Special].—Mrs. Matilda R. Wilson, wealthy Rochester stock fancier, social leader, and former member of the state board of agriculture, was appointed lieutenant governor of Michigan today by Gov. Luren D. Dickinson.

Dickinson, whose action immediately brought a blast of criticism from Attorney General Thomas Read, said the appointment was made solely to precipitate a supreme court test of the constitutional provisions relative to the order of succession when a chief executive dies.

The 81 year old governor replaced Frank D. Fitzgerald when the latter died in March, 1939.

Controversy immediately arose as to whether Dickinson had the right to fill the apparent vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor. He differed with the attorney general, who contended no legal vacancy existed and that Dickinson was both governor and lieutenant governor.

Read, who was defeated by Dickinson in the primary race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, today branded the executive's designation of Mrs. Wilson "silly and foolish." "The laws of succession are clear," he said, "now if Gov. Dickinson should die or become incapacitated for duty for any reason we would be in a fine mess."

The governor said she "will have the distinction of being the first woman lieutenant governor of this state and possibly the first in the United States." He said she will come to the capitol within a few days to take her oath of office. The widow of John F. Dodge, automotive magnate, she married Alfred G. Wilson in 1925, and the family has resided at Meadowbrook Farms, huge Oakland county estate.

DEFINES HITLER AIM: TO TAKE UP WHERE GOD QUIT

Briton Tells How Church May Meet Challenge.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Hitler's aim is to take up where God left off, Muriel Lester, London's Jane Addams, told a youth mass-meeting of the National Christian mission in Chicago Temple last night. She quoted from a summary of Hitler's philosophy outlined to her by a German refugee.

Muriel Lester.

"Hitler honestly believes he will succeed where God fails in evolving a new sort of human being," Miss Lester said the refugee explained. "God wants people to be healthy, happy, and good. So does Hitler. God has given them free will, enabling them to choose to be unhealthy, miserable, and bad, if they like, and many have so chosen."

Hitler Removes Free Will.

But here, the London welfare worker said, is where God and Hitler differ. Hitler, she said, does not believe that people have the right of free will to be unhealthy and bad if they choose, and has taken free will away from them in his effort to produce a new creature.

"We cannot guess what the new creature will be like," Miss Lester said. "But the new creature will certainly have no inhibitions. It will have no conscience. It may be a very beautiful and a very healthy animal, but it may be a brute."

Miss Lester said the only way to meet the new Hitler creature is by evolving a new sort of Christian. This new sort of Christian is one, she asserted, that will really follow Christ instead of only saying a few prayers.

Here Are Today's Meetings.

The meetings of the mission today follow:

INDUCT 2D GROUP OF MEN FOR YEAR OF ARMY SERVICE

89 Take Oath as Soldiers and Go to Ft. Sheridan.

BY HAROLD HUTCHINGS.

The second group of men called up for army service under the conscription act were inducted yesterday and hurried off to Fort Sheridan, the reception center. A total of 89 of the 102 Cook county men who appeared at the induction station at 234 East Chicago avenue passed the physical examination and took the oath as soldiers. Another man was held overnight in a hotel pending the outcome of X-ray pictures, and 12 were rejected for physical reasons.

At Fort Sheridan those who passed joined 89 men who were inducted Monday for a year's training as the first in the corps area under the draft act. Thruout the nation, also, the machinery of induction picked up momentum.

Call It a Practice Run.

Officials said the current induction, expected to place 19,700 one-year men in the army by Dec. 1, was hardly more than a practice run. The real work will begin in January, they said. A total of 800,000 are to be inducted for army service by June 15, under present plans.

When each man arrives at Fort Sheridan he receives the following articles of clothing and personal equipment:

1 serge coat
2 cotton shirts
2 woolen shirts
1 overcoat
2 trousers
1 raincoat
1 field cap
1 winter cap
4 pairs cotton drawers
4 cotton undershirts
2 pairs woolen drawers
2 woolen undershirts
3 pairs cotton socks
2 pairs wool socks
2 pairs shoes
1 pair canvas leggings
2 denim jumpers
2 denim trousers
1 denim hat
1 belt
1 pair woolen gloves
4 handkerchiefs
2 black neckties
2 khaki cotton neckties
1 barracks bag
1 identification tag
1 tag tape
1 toilet set
1 bath towel
2 huck towels
1 meat can
1 canteen
1 canteen cover
1 aluminum cup
1 fork
1 knife
1 spoon
1 first aid pouch
1 first aid packet
2 collar insignia [U. S.]

One Appears a Day Late.

Yesterday's turnout of 102 men included the 100 scheduled to report, Curtis L. Brown, colored, of 4949 Prairie avenue, who did not go thru Monday as planned; and another man not immediately accounted for. It developed that Brown, who is 18 years old, appeared Monday as a volunteer, it being permissible for men of 18 to 21 to volunteer for a year's training.

He was sent home because he lacked sufficient proof of parental consent, but yesterday he had a notarized letter from his mother, and was accepted.

CHICAGO HAS 1,000 BUNDSMEN IN KEY INDUSTRIES: DIES

One thousand German citizens, most of them engaged in key defense industries, are active in the German-American Bund in the Chicago district, it was asserted last night by Martin Dies, chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities. His statement came after he continued until Dec. 2 his hearing in the Stevens hotel.

Congressman Dies.

He also charged that the Kyffhauserbund, an organization of former German soldiers, raised $13,000 in Chicago and sent it to Germany, where it was used for the needs of the German war machine instead of aiding wounded soldiers. Textbooks, printed in Italian and preaching Fascist doctrine, are used in private after hours schools, he said.

Most important witness during the day was Heinrich Peter Fassbender, 23 years old, an agent of the Gestapo, Nazi secret police, who said he has engaged in military and factory espionage since 1935.

HERE'S FAMOUS FAST WAY TO FIGHT PAINFUL SYMPTOMS OF YOUR COLD
FOLLOW DIRECTIONS IN PICTURES WITH GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

To relieve headache, body discomfort and aches, take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

For sore throat from cold, dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in ⅓ glass of water and gargle. Pain, rawness are eased in a short time.

Check temperature. If you have a fever and temperature does not go down—if throat pain is not quickly relieved, call your doctor.

Starts acting in a hurry to ease painful symptoms and sore throat from colds—

This simple, highly effective method pictured above, can be used at once . . . anywhere! At the office, at home, even in the corner drug store. The instant you first feel painful cold symptoms coming on is the time for Bayer Aspirin's fast-acting relief.

Bayer Aspirin acts fast, in a very short time you'll likely note distinct relief from the painful discomforts of your cold . . . and the raw, raspy sore throat accompanying it will be decidedly relieved.

See Your Doctor. Even though he may wholeheartedly approve using Bayer Aspirin to relieve painful symptoms, you should not fail to see your family physician, because many colds may lead to serious consequences.

Bayer Aspirin is ready to "take hold" of pain quickly . . . ready to relieve so wonderfully fast, thousands will tell you it is the simplest and most effective method of relief they have yet discovered.

Why Bayer Aspirin Starts to Work So Fast
Drop a genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablet in water. Almost instantly it starts to disintegrate—is ready to go to work. Make this test, and see for yourself why Bayer Aspirin acts so quickly! Relief action begins in a short time.

So try it. But be sure you ask for Bayer Aspirin—never for "aspirin" alone. This insures your getting the genuine fast-acting Bayer article.

DIVINITY STUDENT FACES CHARGE OF DRAFT VIOLATION

First in Chicago; Seized at Seminary.

Howard Schomer, young divinity student at the Chicago Theological seminary, was arraigned yesterday before Edwin K. Walker, United States commissioner, on charges of violating the draft act. He was the first in the Chicago area to be so charged. He pleaded not guilty and was later released on his own signature and that of the Rev. Charles Gilkey, dean of the University of Chicago chapel.

Howard Schomer.

Schomer is 25 years old. He refused to sign his registration card at the offices of Oak Park board No. 3 on Oct. 16. He replied to all questions, but when asked to sign, he attached what he termed an "affidavit to the conscientious objection to the selective service act of 1940."

Accompanied by Pastor.

He was accompanied to the board office by the Rev. Albert Buckner Coe, head of the First Congregational church of Oak Park, in which Schomer acted as assistant first pastor last summer.

Capt. Herbert Bach, chairman of the board, thereupon turned the matter over to Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service, and Armstrong in turn referred the case to the United States marshal's office. Schomer was seized at the seminary yesterday afternoon by Joseph Tobin, chief deputy marshal.

Further Hearing Scheduled.

After Commissioner Walker had arranged for his release with Dean Gilkey pending a further hearing at 2 p. m. next Monday, Schomer asserted: "I am an American citizen who believes that in its application to such a case as mine the selective service act violates the constitution of the United States."

Schomer's home is at 922 Wesley avenue, Oak Park. He was valedictorian and class president of the 1933 graduating class of Oak Park High school. In 1937 he was graduated from Harvard university summa cum laude in American history and literature. He is a Phi Beta Kappa. He became a licensed Congregational minister in April, 1939, and was pastor of the Congregational church at Fitzwilliam, N. H., last year.

SIR, THAT'S NO BASS DRUM; IT'S A SUPERPEANUT

One of these days the peanut man's whistle is going to mean something—the advent of the superpeanut. It will be 50 per cent bigger and 50 per cent more delicious.

Oscar N. Allen and Ethel K. Allen, University of Hawaii botanists, have discovered how to grow bigger peanuts, according to the Botanical Gazette, published by the University of Chicago Press. Peanuts, the botanists find, would like to be as big as watermelons.

But they're undernourished—don't get enough nitrogen.

The botanists have found a way to correct that by inoculating the peanut seeds with a nitrogen fixing bacteria. They didn't say whether they were doing a favor for you or for the peanuts.

EFFORT TO DRIVE OUT 'YANK' LABOR HALTS DIXIE DAM

Natives Want All Jobs for Themselves.

Andrews, N. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—Construction work on the huge Nantahala dam project came to a halt today as disturbances continued in what a labor union spokesman described as an effort by native labor to drive northern workers from the job.

Johnny Simms, foreman for the Utah Construction company, which has the contract for the dam, said operations had been suspended as a result of fights which interfered seriously with work yesterday and continued thruout last night and today.

At the company's office it was said there had been an "exodus" of northern employés, but no figures were given.

Blames Local Agitators.

James C. Turner, business agent of the operating engineers union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, said workers in this vicinity instigated the fighting in an effort to discourage skilled workmen from the north and thus give employment to more local workmen.

A 270 foot dam is being built by the Nantahala Power and Light company, a subsidiary of the Aluminum Company of America, which has plants at Badin, N. C., and Alcoa, Tenn. The power dam is designed to serve these plants. It was started several months ago and scheduled for completion in 1942. The aluminum company has national defense contracts.

85% of Workmen Are Natives.

Turner said 85 per cent of approximately 700 men employed on the dam project are natives of this region, and that the others are northern workers skilled in tunnel building. He said skilled tunnel builders are scarce in this region.

Sheriff A. B. Slagle said about 100 men left their jobs yesterday after receiving their pay, but he did not know how many of them were from outside the state.

No one was injured seriously in yesterday's fighting, the sheriff said, but there were reports that some spokesmen for the tunnel workers had been thrown into the river.

Turner declared Governor Clyde R. Hoey had told him in a telephone conversation that an immediate investigation would be started.

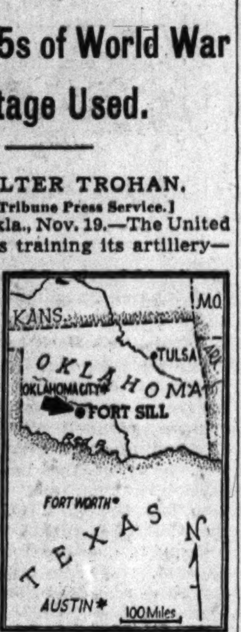
FT. SILL TRAINS U. S. ARTILLERY WITH AGED GUNS

French 75s of World War Vintage Used.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Sill, Okla., Nov. 19.—The United States army is training its artillery—the queen of battle—with antiquated world war weapons. There is not a single modern artillery piece here except a few pack 75 mm. howitzers.



Arrow indicates Fort Sill, Okla.

The army's artillery school is located at this historic fort, which was established by Gen. Philip Sheridan, the north's great cavalry leader of the civil war. It was named by him for a West Point classmate, Brig. Gen. Joshua Sill, who was killed at the battle of Stone River, Tenn.

Artillery officers undergoing training here are firing modernized world war weapons—the French 75 mm. weapon and the French built 155 mm. howitzer and rifle.

850 Officers Expected.

Schooling of the officers is going at full blast and by midwinter Brig. Gen. D. C. Cubbison, post commandant, expects to have 850 officers going thru the school.

"And if this thing goes on," he said, "I believe that within a year we will pass the wartime record of 1,200 officers in training."

At present the fort has a total strength of 900 officers and 7,600 men. This includes instructors as well as students and the personnel of attached infantry and other units.

Also at the fort but not under Gen. Cubbison's jurisdiction are 730 officers and 13,200 enlisted men of the 45th division, the first National Guard division to be inducted into the army. The division, which is composed of militia from Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado, and commanded by Maj. Gen. W. S. Key, is camped in tents on the reservation.

The principal activity of the post is the artillery school where officers and enlisted men are taught the tactics of all units and tacitcal groupings of field artillery. Actual exercises are with artillery now considered obsolete, but the theory of new weapons is taught.

With old weapons the officers staged a firing demonstration for 17 newspaper men on an air tour of defense developments as the guests of Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

In four problems skilled artillerymen blasted objectives. One problem called for shelling an area in which infantry were reported gathering. Another called for destroying an enemy battery and a third for fire on an area which observers could not see in a hollow of the Wichita mountains.

Blown Up in 2 Minutes.

In the final problem the batteries shelled an objective selected by one of the newspaper men from an aerial map of the area. In two minutes after the newspaper men put his finger on a clump of trees the patch was blasted by high explosive fire.

The following tables give the range and weight of the projectile used by old and modern guns in use by the artillery, or under manufacture:

OLD TYPE.

	Range [yards].	Projectile weight [pounds].
75 mm. howitzer	13,600	15
105 mm. howitzer	12,100	33
155 mm. howitzer	12,400	95
155 mm. gun	17,900	95
8 inch howitzer	18,000	200
240 mm. howitzer	16,400	345

NEW TYPE.

	Range [yards].	Projectile weight [pounds].
75 mm. pack howitzer	14,500	15
4.7 inch gun	20,000	50
155 mm. howitzer	16,000	95
155 mm. gun	26,000	95

Officers are being taught to fire the lighter pieces—the modernized 75s and eventually the 105s—from a range of about 2,000 yards. The plan is to bring the artillery as close to the front as possible so that moving will not be necessary in an attack. The guns merely will increase range. In retreat the gun commanders would have to move at a lively pace.

For this reason the army operates its light guns about 1,500 yards behind the infantry line. This depth is chosen because it brings the artillery out of the effective range of opposing machine gun fire.

Heavier guns—the 155 mm. weapons and up—are corps and GHQ units and operate on special mission. These may be moved rather close to the front in some instances. They operate against objectives well behind the lines.

BLAZE DAMAGES U. S. BATTLESHIP; 2D FIRE PERILS DESTROYER

Camden, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP).—The 35,000-ton battleship South Dakota, under construction in the yard of the New York Shipbuilding company, was slightly damaged today by flames that a company spokesman said apparently were started by a riveter's torch.

Thirteen employés who worked in the midst of fumes from burning rubber to help put out the fire were examined by the yard physician, but only one required hospitalization.

The fire occurred in one of the forward compartments of the half completed warship. A company spokesman said the fire apparently was set accidentally by a welding torch operated by a workman.

At Boston, naval yard officials were investigating a fire aboard the half completed destroyer Gwynn, the second fire there in three days.

Naval officials said they believed the fire started when waste material came in contact with hot metal.

A. F. OF L. HOLDS SCANT HOPE FOR PEACE WITH C. I. O.

Doubt Roosevelt's Plea Can Budge Lewis.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Nov. 19.—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor, gathered here for their 60th annual convention, are skeptical about the possibility of any immediate peace with the Congress of Industrial Organizations—this despite a direct plea today from President Roosevelt that the rival groups "sit down together and work out a solution."

The message was read to the convention and was applauded mildly. A reply by President William Green, which informed Mr. Roosevelt that the federation stands ready to start negotiations at any time or any place, also was read.

There are, however, certain reservations on the part of the A. F. of L. It consistently has maintained that there can be no merger unless the status, jurisdictional and otherwise, of unions now affiliated with the C. I. O. has been determined and they have been fitted neatly into the federation pattern.

Lewis Offers Objections.

John L. Lewis, leader of the C. I. O. since its formation, has vetoed this demand and has insisted that his organization must be absorbed in its entirety and left virtually independent of federation control.

On this difference of opinion, all previous efforts to attain unity have been shattered, and there is no evidence here that the federation has any notion of changing its stand. Officials felt strengthened in their position by President Roosevelt's suggestion that committees sit down together, holding that this phrase accurately describes their proposed approach to the unity problem.

George Meany, secretary and treasurer, said that harmony in A. F. of L. ranks would be wrecked if the Lewis proposal were accepted. Green has expressed himself similarly.

Wants Lewis Out.

Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, largest unit in the federation, said he did not believe there could be any merger while Lewis remains in power—even in unofficial power.

"But if the C. I. O. would heed an equally urgent message from the President," Tobin said, "and agree to conferences on moot points, we might get somewhere."

Green disclosed tonight that Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins has been invited, for the first time in four years, to address the convention and has accepted. She will appear some time next week.

Urges Wider Pension Plan.

At the morning session of the convention two government agency heads—Arthur J. Altmeyer, chairman of the social security board, and Nathan Straus, administrator of the United States Housing authority — spoke. Each advocated greater government activity in their fields.

Altmeyer declared himself in favor of extending social security insurance to 2,500,000 domestic workers and 4,000,000 farm workers. He said the administrative work could be accomplished if congress should pass the legislation.

Straus declared that the cessation of hostilities in Europe and the end of defense preparations in this country would throw 5,000,000 men out of work. He urged that preparations be made to build 500,000 new homes annually under USHA — eight times the present rate of construction—as a means of offsetting unemployment.

COUNCIL GROUP STARTS PROBE OF VOTE DENIAL

The city council judiciary committee voted yesterday to ask the board of election commissioners for a list of persons who were disfranchised in the Nov. 5 election and the reason they were denied the right to vote. It is estimated several thousand persons were disfranchised.

The committee also asked the Joint Civic committee, the Cook County League of Women Voters and others, including newspapers, who worked for an honest election to submit all

Yesterday's meeting was called as the result of a resolution sponsored by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th] proposing that the legislature be asked to amend the permanent registration law to prohibit use of fire stations for registration. Harry Lipsky, chairman of the election board, has promised to aid the council committee in obtaining changes in the law.

LEWIS HEADS OFF PEACE DRIVE IN ATTACK ON GREEN

C. I. O. Convention Votes to Maintain Status Quo.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 19.—Assailing William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, as a "traitor and poltroon," John L. Lewis, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, today vowed before a cheering convention that the C. I. O. never will make peace with the A. F. of L. until it is strong enough to do so on honorable terms.

Hopes for a unified labor movement went glimmering as the Lewis forces pushed over a vote to keep the status quo in the so-called peace negotiations between the two great houses of American labor.

This left negotiations in the hands of Lewis, who is retiring as president of the C. I. O.; Philip Murray, vice president, and Sidney Hillman, President Roosevelt's labor member of the defense commission. The trio has been deadlocked with A. F. of L. peace representatives for several years.

Peace Move Brushed Aside.

Lewis' proposal, contained in an officers' committee report, was accepted by a thunderous voice vote. A resolution calling for a new "exploration of minds"—with a quick settlement of the C. I. O.-A. F. of L. controversy as the objective—advanced by Hillman's amalagamated clothing workers, never came to a vote.

In his most bitter, ironic vein Lewis said he had "explored the mind of Bill Green and found nothing there." He reminded the C. I. O. delegates that Green once had been secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, of which Lewis still is president, but had chosen to throw in his lot with the craft unions of the A. F. of L. in their struggle against the big C. I. O. industrial unions, organized by industry rather than by skill.

"The mine workers do not plan to return to the A. F. of L. and be led by a man who betrayed the union which fed and clothed and honored him," said Lewis. "Green is a traitor—an inherent, pusillanimous traitor—and a poltroon."

Blasts Trek Back to A. F. of L.

The big boss of the C. I. O., who is paying his election bet this week by resigning as head of the Congress because Wendell Willkie failed of election, also assailed David Dubinsky, head of the Ladies' Garment Workers union, and other leaders who left the C. I. O. to return to the A. F. of L. fold.

Delegates jumped to their feet and cheered. The clothing and textile workers remained silent in their seats.

Thomas Kennedy, former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania and secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers, inveighed against A. F. of L. "mouthings for labor unity in the name of national defense.

Others attacking the A. F. of L. included James Carey, president of the Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers of America; Van A. Bittner, regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing committee in Chicago; John Owens, president of the Ohio State C. I. O. council, and Michael Quill, president of the Transport Workers of America.

BUS COMPANY'S STAND PERILS TRACTION LOAN

Opposition to Merger Cited by Jesse Jones.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator, announced last night in Washington, D. C., that the Chicago Motor Coach company's request to remain a separate operating company rather than sell its properties to a unified traction system endangers once more Chicago's long delayed transit improvement program.

Jones told Mayor Kelly and Edward E. Brown, spokesman for Chicago's transit lines, that the coach company's latest move will force revision in the terms of the proposed 53 million dollar federal loan for transit modernization in Chicago.

Kelly and Brown had gone to Washington expecting to hear Jones outline conditions of the loan. The bus company made its unexpected statement Monday.

Whole Picture Changed.

"This changes the whole picture and we must restudy the loan proposition," Jones said. "It may take some time to work it out. We do not know what we could offer without the motor coach company included."

Jones indicated that inclusion of the coach company operations and its favorable earnings in the unified system were two of the main props upon which the prospective loan had been based.

The bus company, which on Sept. 26 offered to sell its properties outright for 10 million dollars, announced Monday that it would prefer not to sell. It offered instead to work out a universal transfer system between buses and other transit lines.

In addition to delaying and perhaps wrecking Chicago's modernization program, the latest development is expected to delay unification of the surface and elevated lines, which were counting on federal funds to put thru the merger.

City Gets New Subway Grant.

The prospective unified company also was expected to purchase subway cars and operate the Chicago subway, which is nearing completion but has no tenant.

Earlier yesterday an additional federal grant of $5,130,000 to extend the Dearborn street subway under Congress street to the Chicago river was approved in Washington. The grant was approved by John M. Carmody, federal works administrator.

The extension will cost 6 million dollars, of which $870,000 will be paid by the city. It will extend south in Dearborn street from Van Buren to Congress street and west in Congress to the Chicago river. A station platform between the two track extension will run from Clark to Wells streets in Congress street and will have surface entrances at Clark and Wells streets.

Turnaround Track Planned.

The extension also will include a turnaround track in Congress street between Wells and Franklin streets. This will form a south terminal for the Dearborn street tunnel until further subway extensions are built.

The new grant requires the city to extend the Congress street subway and build a Lake street subway extension as soon as funds are available, Joshua D'Esposito, FWA project engineer on the subway, explained.

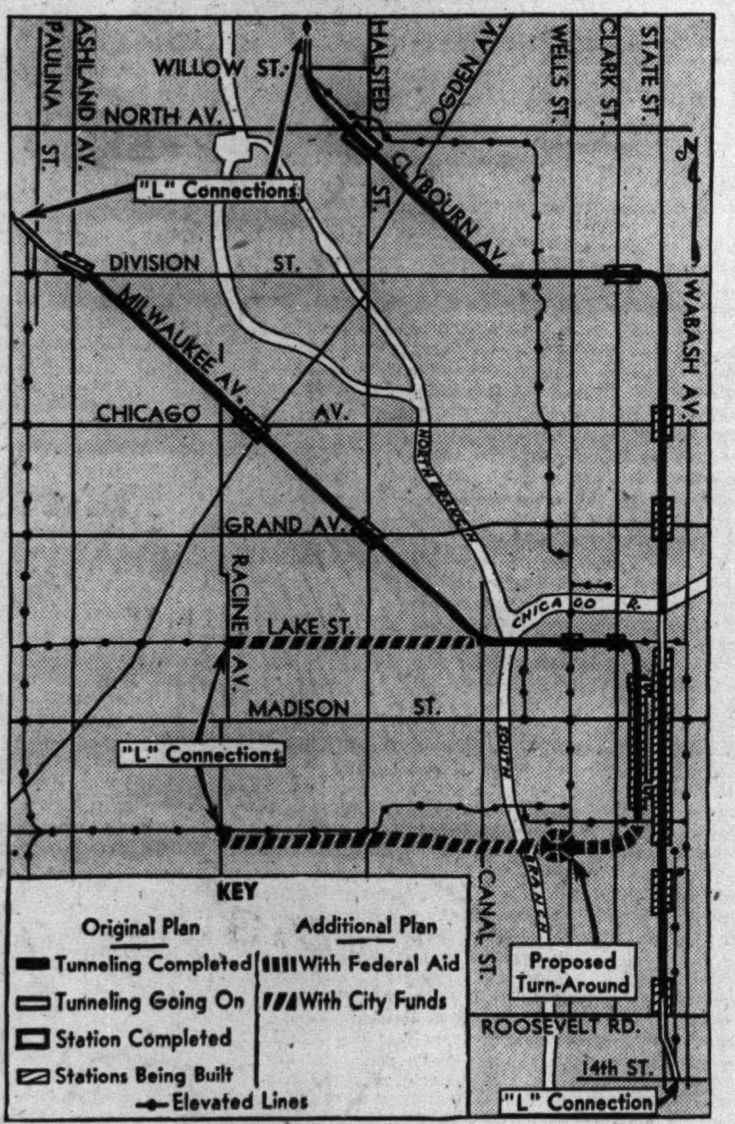
These two extensions, which would cost 6 million dollars apiece, would make it possible to tear down two sides of the elevated loop, in Wabash avenue and in Lake street. Subway connections with west side elevated lines would eliminate need for these parts of the loop.

The Congress street addition which the city must agree to make would extend under the Chicago river and connect with the Metropolitan elevated lines at Racine avenue.

The Lake street extension would be an offshoot of the present Dearborn street tunnel, running from Lake and Milwaukee avenue to a connection with the Lake street "L" east of Racine avenue. These two connections would make it possible for west side trains now using the "L" loop to enter the loop underground and go thru the Dearborn street subway.

Status of Subway Construction

(Story in adjoining column.)



The present subway system with completed portions, and the Congress street extension to be built with federal aid under $5,130,000 grant announced yesterday. Also shown are future extensions in Congress and Lake streets to be paid for by the city. More than 6.5 miles of the 7.7 mile tunnel now under construction have been completed.

BABY APES HAVE FROLIC, NEARLY WRECK OFFICE

For the first time since last spring the Lincoln park zoo's two baby orangutans—Pongo, 4½ years old, and Bamby, 2½—yesterday were allowed to play together. Their irascible little old faces occasionally cracked with smiles of devilment as they came near to turning Director Floyd Young's office into a shambles.

Brought to the zoo last April from the jungles of Sumatra, the last leg of the journey by THE TRIBUNE'S plane, the two apes have developed personalities and grown rapidly. Pongo, the male, has adopted a bad boy complex. He amused himself by tearing strips out of the lounge in the office and by pulling Bamy's long auburn haired coat. She thumped enthusiastically on a typewriter, experimented with a telephone, and never missed a chance to bite her playmate's hand.

After an hour's play the pair were taken to their cages. As Pongo was carried out the door he turned and thumbed his nose at his visitors, raising the point of who was laughing at whom?

ORDERS HUBBY TO DEPOSIT BLOOD IN BANK FOR WIFE

That's Judge's Ruling in Divorce Case.

Mrs. Anna Donohue.

Agreement was reached yesterday before Judge Joseph Sabath for a divorce decree expected to be the first in the history of Cook county to embody an order for a blood transfusion.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Anna Donohue, 31 years old, 1429 South Sangamon street, who charged her husband, Thomas, 42, with chronic drunkenness. She appeared yesterday before Judge Sabath to ask temporary alimony and attorney's fees.

Judge Hopes for Reunion.

Her attorney, Charles Gradman, explained that the case is urgent because Mrs. Donohue is suffering from leukemia and requires a transfusion. Judge Sabath said to Donohue:

"You are a big strapping fellow. Why don't you be the donor for your wife's transfusion? Besides, it might bring you two together again."

"It would bring them together in body," said Attorney Gradman, "but not in spirit."

"And speaking of spirits," said Mrs. Donohue tartly, "I don't want any of his alcoholic transfusions."

At this point Donohue's attorney, Harry Silverstein, told the court his client is willing to make possible the transfusion but that a reconciliation is out of the question. Judge Sabath remarked that this being the case, a divorce agreement should be reached but that Donohue should do the right thing by his wife.

The attorneys conferred and announced the following solution, which Judge Sabath approved and announced he will write into the decree: Mrs. Donohue will receive her transfusion at county hospital. Donohue then will reimburse the hospital.

Judge Sabath said he would enter a default order on Nov. 29. Mrs. Donohue waived alimony, remarking:

"That's fine. I won't have to take either his blood or his blood money."

Wife of Contractor Wins a Divorce Plus $60,000

A divorce and settlement of $60,000 was granted yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort to Mrs. Florence Strandberg, 7730 Cornell avenue, from Harry Strandberg of the contracting firm of Strandberg & Spencer, 232 East Erie street. She charged desertion. The Strandbergs were married in 1918 and separated in 1938. With Mrs. Strandberg in court were her daughters, Marjorie and Katherine. Her attorney, Emmet F. Byrne, was granted fees of $2,500.

Two Get 5 Day Jail Terms for Safety Law Violations

John Fralc, 2123 Schiller street, a store manager, was sentenced yesterday to five days in the county jail for reckless driving by Judge Frank M. Padden in Safety court. Robert Green, 6512 Langley avenue, colored dining car waiter, got a similar sentence on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

CRITICISM AS A DUTY.

Over the last seven years THE TRIBUNE has found much to criticize in laws which congress has passed, and in the administration of some of them.

When we have expressed a critical opinion of a measure or of the act of a newly created administrative agency, almost inevitably there have been hot retorts from prominent persons in the official circle. But many of the administration's planners and spokesmen now regard New Deal measures with as little favor as do we. What we have denounced as mistakes have been recognized as mistakes by a growing procession of men who formerly composed what was called the brain trust.

James Warburg, Lewis Douglas, Ralph Robey, John W. Hanes, Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, Dean Acheson, and Prof. O. M. W. Sprague, are all financial experts who were identified with the Roosevelt administration at one time or another during the last seven years, but who resigned because they believed that the monetary methods of the administration were unsound and dangerous.

Gen. Hugh Johnson, who had a prominent part in the President's first campaign, left the administration and became its bitter critic because he could not agree with its domestic policies, and Professors Raymond Moley and Stanley High ceased to be identified with the administration because they felt they could better serve their country by objecting to much that was being done at home and abroad.

The latest one to walk off the reservation is Donald R. Richberg, who went to Washington in 1933 as chief counsel for NRA, and served the national administration in various capacities, at one time being rated as Moley's successor as the closest Presidential adviser. At one time he was called the "assistant President."

Speaking at the Academy of Political Science in New York last Wednesday, Mr. Richberg denounced two of the most important of the New Deal acts. He declared that the Securities and Exchange acts and the National Labor Relations act were badly conceived, have been badly administered, and constitute serious impediments to the economic recovery of the country.

Mr. Richberg said the Securities and Exchange commission had "regarded itself as given a mandate to reform the financial structure of great corporate enterprises, to disintegrate and liquidate holding companies, and to alter, veto, and otherwise control the management of vast properties regardless of the wishes of investors. The exercise of such powers violates the fundamental principle of voluntary coöperation," and "voluntary coöperation is the very essence of a democratic economy and a political democracy."

Mr. Richberg was for many years the attorney for powerful labor unions. In this capacity he has drafted both federal and state labor laws. He has represented organized labor in most of the important union cases decided by the Supreme court of the United States in the last 20 years. Here is how he characterized the National Labor Relations act in his talk to the political science group: "All the proven wisdom and efficiency of the Railway Labor act was rejected in giving the National Labor relations board coercive power to aid one party to a labor dispute and no power at all to promote evenhanded justice and voluntary coöperation. A one-sided law with partisan administration has made the government the fomenter of class warfare. Instead of bringing employer and employé closer together, the law has driven the wedge of litigation between them.

A cry has been raised for national unity. It comes from those in power who do not want their faults and failures called to the public attention. It surely is not too much to hope that by criticism the country may be saved from making as serious mistakes as were made in the search for recovery. Criticism, not complacency, will make the nation strong. THE TRIBUNE expects to do its duty.

ENFORCING PARKING LAWS.

The police department will start more rigid enforcement of antiparking ordinances today with the aid of a greatly simplified form of summons.

No longer is it necessary for a policeman to wait in the vicinity for the driver of an illegally parked car to appear in order to serve him with a summons. The new ordinance makes the owner of a car liable for any parking violations committed with it, and gives the police authority to fasten a tag to the offending car, giving notice of the violation.

The tag is not a summons. It merely notifies the owner that if he does not appear in court to defend himself or, as will be the case with most violations, admit the violation by payment of a fine thru the mails, a warrant will be issued for his arrest. No civil rights are violated, but law enforcement receives great practical aid.

It is still uncertain in just what direction the police intend to use this new power. It has been intimated that it will not be used, at least at present, to enforce the 14 year old and universally ignored ordinance forbidding all night parking in the streets. That is an ordinance of dubious wisdom. Attempts to enforce it in the past have invariably caused public suspicion that garage owners' associations have used monetary or political influence to have the police chase some customers into their establishments. The last time enforcement was tried a campaign of unpunished vandalism against parked cars made this suspicion a virtual certainty.

As a matter of fact, all night parking is one of the minor problems that the automobile has brought to Chicago. The real damage is done by daytime parking on important traffic arteries and in business districts. With the curb space occupied all day long, necessary deliveries have to be made by double parking trucks, and endless traffic jams result.

There are, it is true, some streets on which all night parking should be prohibited or restricted to one side of the street, either because it impedes traffic or, in extreme instances, hampers the fire department in its runs. But these are exceptions, and probably do not include one-tenth of the city's streets. Elimination of daytime parking nuisances will do far more to restore to the motorists of the city the full utility of the street system for which they have paid hundreds of millions of dollars.

THE PREACHER IS AGAINST SIN.

It is apparent to all independent observers of the union labor scene, and to many people within the labor movement, that the American Federation of Labor will lose public confidence if it fails to do something about the gangsters who have seized some of its unions. These hoodlums, masquerading as labor leaders and preying indiscriminately on the public and the union members from whom they collect dues, have already hurt the prestige of the A. F. of L. almost as severely as the parallel influx of communists has hurt the C. I. O.

There seemed to be ground for hope that the annual convention of the federation, now meeting at New Orleans, would do something effective about these gangsters. One of the conditions on which the Ladies' Garment Workers' union rejoined the A. F. of L. was that such action be taken. Daniel J. Tobin, president of the teamsters, who are now the biggest A. F. of L. union, spoke out against them before the convention of his union. Other labor leaders were known to favor a cleanup, on the practical grounds that the hoodlums do the labor movemen no good and a great deal of harm.

But the report of the federation's executive committee, which is intended to and frequently does guide the convention actions, gives little ground for these hopes. In apparent fulfillment of the pledge to the garment workers, it takes up the subject under the euphemistic title of "Respect for Law and Pursuit of Peaceful Policies." So doing, it merely repeats all the threadbare evasions and apologies for inaction with which leaders of the A. F. of L. have contented themselves in the past.

"Unfortunately," says the report, "we have found that men who have been influenced by criminal instincts have penetrated our movement and thru a seizure of power and control have resorted to exploitation of helpless workers for purely selfish purposes."

Now, that sounds like a fairly good beginning. It is actually admitted that there are hoodlums in A. F. of L. unions. They have—mark the phrase—seized control, and are exploiting helpless workers. This sounds like an indictment of an evil which the community of labor might devote itself to cleaning up. But the report then continues:

"We are compelled to deal with the realities of the situation, to organize men and women as we find them, to accept into membership wage earners who are willing and qualified to join. The economic success of the workers in each industrial calling depends largely upon the percentage of workers who become organized and who assume union obligations. Wage earners are wage earners. We accept all qualified wage earners into our unions. They in turn, exercising their democratic rights, elect their officers."

That is as false a picture of the situation as could be drawn. It implies that the A. F. of L. unions had to let the gangsters in because they were honest wage earners. Messrs. Scalise and Bioff, it is to be presumed, worked their way up to higher things thru the International Union of Prostitutes, Panders, and White Slavers. Nick Dean and Louie Romano, one gathers, were once humble card carriers in the Brotherhood of Stickup Men, Torpedoes, and Hijackers.

And then, says the executive council, these humble wage earners "in turn, exercising their democratic rights, elect their officers." The gentlemen on the executive council don't seem to know what the shouting is all about. Some of these hoodlum dominated unions haven't held an international convention in more than a decade. Those that have ventured to do so have had meetings in which the delegates were appointed and controled by the same hoodlums who were looting the union treasury and shaking down the employers with whom it dealt. If that is an exercise of democratic rights, the reichstag is a democratic parliament.

After trotting out once more the thin old excuse that the international unions are autonomous and thus the A. F. of L. cannot interfere in their internal affairs, the report concludes by saying:

"However, the executive council urges that the membership of national and international unions select men of character, of known honesty and integrity, to official position and prevent those with criminal records from either holding official positions or from representing them in any capacity whatsoever."

In short, the preacher is agin sin. However, the convention before it adjourns will have a chance to put these pallid precepts into effect. One of the vice presidents of the A. F. of L. who signed this report is George E. Browne, pal, sponsor, and, it is suspected, tool of Willie Bioff and several other malodorous racketeers in the stagehands' union. Mr. Browne, on the record of his associations, can hardly be called a man of character. Is the A. F. of L., when it elects its executive council next week, going to retain him in one of its official positions?

BOSS RULE OLD STORY.

[Illinois State Journal.]

New York, rid of one boss and his following of party tyrants, speedily acquires a new dictator. Not for long does it profit from the political crusades which periodically unhorse its current man-on-horseback and scatter his adherents. The city is the despair of reformers.

One student of politics thinks he can trace back to the early Dutch settlers. New York's distressing disposition to foster bossism. Old Manhattan, he says, was ruled pretty much on the totalitarian order, and subservience to this way of life is in the blood.

Peter Stuyvesant was a hard boiled dictator who didn't hesitate to take things into his own hands. When his councilors failed to agree with him he ordered them to disperse. "We derive our authority from God and the company," he said, "and not from a few ignorant subjects."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office.

AMERICA GOES BERSERK.

The Word Detective who occasionally practices his profession in this column is amused by the recent addition of the word "berserk," as a synonym for crackpot behavior, to the slang of the young and untutored. It is a word out of a field of scholarship to which few Americans give any attention—Scandinavian history and literature; and suddenly, for no apparent reason, it has become a part of the patter of the moviegoing masses. No doubt it emerged from college and high school gabble; some campus wag who had happened to get a breath of the Icelandic sagas began to wisecrack with "berserk," and the word spread like the vogue for dirndls, peasant kerchiefs, and bobby socks.

A berserk, often spelled berserker, properly belongs to the Viking Age. He was a professional fighter who served in the bodyguards of Scandinavian chieftains and kings. His custom of wearing a bearskin shirt explains his name; but the pelt of any ferocious beast would serve him as well, so occasionally he can be encountered in the sagas wearing wolfskins. He was generally in a surly temper; he loved bloodshed; and when bent on slaughter he emitted tremendous howls, gnashed his teeth, rolled his eyeballs, and behaved like a patient of Bedlam.

In the folklore of Scandinavia during the dark ages, berserks were believed to be able to transform themselves into the animals whose skins they wore. Werewolf myths sprang up around them. The heroes of the Icelandic sagas were always running into stray berserks, and the ensuing duels were terrific. Invariably, however, the berserk would be slain, and then the countryside would rejoice and praise the name of Gunnar or Gisli or Grettir.

Thus sang the poet Hornklofi in celebrating the victory of King Harald Fairhair at Hafrsfjord, 900 A. D.:

"The berserks roared in the midst of the battle; the wolfcoats howled and shook the iron."

And now American stenographers, pattering away at their typewriters, are telling one another not to be "berserk!" They mispronounce the word of course; they say "ber-ZERK" instead of "BER-serk."

I'LL TAKE A TRAIN.

I do not know why I should like a train
When all my ancestors preferred the sea;
Old paintings of their ships hang on my walls,
But boats and flying spray mean naught to me.
There's something in the swiftness of a train
That satisfies my hunger and unrest,
The everchanging landscape streams away
From sleepy town to purple mountain crest;
My fellow passengers get off and on,
We chat awhile and smile and lightly part,
I love blue dusk, the flash of friendly lights,
The homeward lumbering of a farmer's cart.
People you meet on boats do foolish things,
They fall in love without apparent reason,
They tell their deepest secrets to the world—
The waves go up and down in every season.
All those who like to roll may have the ships
That pitch and toss around in storm and rain;
I like to feel the steady turn of wheels,
An even keel, and so—I'll take a train.

The Year of the Big Blizzards.

Since we are all getting ready for winter, and since some of us believe that the winters are getting milder, listen to the tale of the worst winter in the history of the west. South Dakota and Minnesota bore the brunt of it. Snow fell almost continuously from Oct. 15, 1880, until May 5, 1881, and the storms were frequently blizzards.

It was estimated that over 14 feet of snow fell "on the level" that winter. In many places there were drifts from 20 to 40 feet high. Thousands of settlers had moved into the region in the preceding summer, because the Chicago and North Western railway was about to complete a line to the Missouri river at Pierre. The storms began on the day before the date set for the laying of the last rail. The pioneers had not had time to accumulate supplies, and the railroad employed thousands of men to keep the line open and save them from starvation.

In the great storm of 1894 [Nov. 16] a dead tree at 18th street and Prairie avenue was blown down. It was a relic of the Fort Dearborn massacre. After its fall souvenir hunters sawed and chopped it to pieces. I secured a piece in which two bullets were imbedded. George Kercher.

DISCOVERER OF XANADU.

[Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1772-1834.]

The palace sits aloft in Xanadu
Above the sacred ruins and old caves,
And by the mountain road the pool of blue
Bethesda-like still heals the hand it laves.
Still is the depthless well spring-fed and fresh
Altho a thousand poets have been lost
In that thorn-tangled jungle where the flash
Of monkey eyes has wooed them to their cost.
The lethal waters still enfold the sun,
The love-born moon, the earth itself and stars;
Immersing them and holding them for one
To come and claim them with the strength of Mars.
For one long gone, who came, a debt is due—
He left a partial map of Xanadu!

Chicago's Most Famous Cap.

Speaking of caps for winter wear [Nov. 14]:

The most famous cap in Chicago is in the proud possession of Prof. William McGovern of Northwestern university, who learned in Tibet that a man's ears deserve a certain amount of respect. He bought this cap in Peiping or Vladivostok, or maybe somewhere in Inner Mongolia. As a spectacle it is priceless, and to duplicate it would cost several hundred dollars, for it is of rich sea-otter fur in a noble mandarin design.

The McGovern cap not only adorns the professor's lofty brow in cold weather but also serves as ceremonial headgear for presiding officers at annual meetings of the Tavern club. That assembly never comes to order until a coatroom boy is instructed to bring in the borrowed cap on a silver platter and present it to the president of the club on bended knee.

NOT TOO MUCH FAT—FOR YOUR ARTERIES' SAKE.

PHYSICIANS are giving much thought these days to premature breakdowns. Too many individuals are becoming incapacitated in the 50s or early 60s. We ascribe their mishaps to wear and tear, with the remark, "they have led strenuous lives." Never sparing themselves, they have carried heavy loads of responsibility with ensuing strains upon all nervous, muscular, and organ tissues.

The heart or the kidneys may be the first to exhibit signs of trouble—when both structures should be at par. In other words, decrepitude has come too soon. Altho the adage "work never killed any one" has some basis in fact, nevertheless, fatigue allied to exhaustion can so influence digestion that the normal absorption of food products will not take place.

When a meal is eaten, every particle swallowed must be dissolved and separated into the simplest chemicals. When this does not occur—when digestion is carried only part way—we not only lose the nutritive value of our edibles, but the blood may be flooded with "unfinished" portions which may behave much like irritants.

The arteries are extremely sensitive elastic tubes and every inch requires good nourishment for proper functioning. One of the aftermaths of the inadequate handling of our foods is that vital areas of a blood vessel may become weakened from deposits of a fatty substance. We say then that the channels are atheromatous. Unfortunately, this condition can start in middle life, the material replacing the muscle fibers in the artery wall. Later, lime may be deposited, whereupon we say that the arteries are hardening.

While it is possible that disease may lay a foundation for this type of ageing, the chances are that the "starter" will be found in poor assimilation. This sort of fatty degeneration sooner or later can show itself in high blood pressure with definite increase in the brittle character of the vessels.

Naturally, the question arises, should we eat less fat as a preventive? For some people, this is advised strongly. But others may be able to use up all the cream, fat meat, etc., that is ingested—oxidizing it entirely to carbon dioxide and water. This is as it should be—whereupon energy and heat result. With safety, however, some of us may omit extra large doses. For example, take one egg per day, instead of two or three. Use less cream rather than more, and confine the menu to lean meat, fresh vegetables, and bread that has been prepared with buttermilk.

There must be a balance between carbohydrates [starches and sugars], oily edibles, and proteins [meats]. If any is absent, the digestive fires will not be hot enough to burn them satisfactorily. With the lungs supplying sufficient oxygen, all three classes —in appropriate quantities—will be wholly consumed. The proteins replace muscle waste, the carbohydrates furnish energy, and the fats—heat.

But unless combustion is complete —a step in the destruction of fat may end up in the production of cholesterol. This is difficult to get rid of and forms the basis of most of our gallstones. The thick, logy feeling of the day after too much to eat is natural. With little or no exercise 5,000 calories are more than the firebox can handle. Too much cholesterol accumulates in the gall bladder and some of it may find its way into the arteries.

We all age—it is natural. But we wish to maintain the circulation until the time comes when the wearing out process affects all parts alike. Let's keep the blood vessels young by a determination not to force overloads upon them. Most of our octogenarians are rather spare eaters. Perhaps instinctively they have avoided those rations which are likely to bring added burdens to vital parts.

WANTS TO STOP.

W. W. M. writes: I have been attempting to stop smoking cigarets, but do not seem to have sufficient will power for the cold turkey treatment. Is there something you can recommend?

REPLY.

PROTEST PARKING ORDER.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—What is this—another form of graft? Why the ban on night parking? We live and always have lived in apartment building neighborhoods where garages are just not to be had. We live in a building of 24 apartments, and with it no garage. Our car is parked in the street because there are no garages. And now we are to get a ticket if we don't get it into a garage. Do you want us to drive six blocks from our home to a large public garage for which they get $10 per month and up? How would you like to pay that bill? EDITH G.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Why should our city's courts be littered with the honest taxpayers charged with the unpardonable sin of all night parking on the streets, which they pay for, when the scum of the city, namely the bookie, is allowed to run wide open? Maybe the sewer gang will get just as big a cut out of the automobile storage racket for enforcing one law as they get out of the bookie for not enforcing another one. J. CAMERON BLY II.

RECREATION A NECESSITY.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—If "veteran" who served in '98 had attended the veterans' section at the Sixth Annual Recreation conference held recently, he would have noted the need for recreation in these days.

He would have observed how a hard-working group of the G. A. R., Spanish war veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and their auxiliaries depict recreation of the past, present, and future.

Had he attended the dinner session he would be surrounded by some 3,000 representatives of the 100 civic bodies that comprise the Chicago recreation commission. At this session, Dr. Philip L. Seman, said: "Leisure time opportunities must be provided for on a scale heretofore undreamed of. Every man, woman, and child in America must be provided with constructive opportunity for leisure, for it is during such periods that we grow in character and morale."

In the Spanish American war, the civil war and the world war too, nostalgia claimed more victims than battle. This situation could have been cured by adequate recreation.

DISFRANCHISED VOTERS.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The scandal of Nov. 5 was the denial of the vote to a large number of eligibles disfranchised by the absence of their cards from the precinct binders. There were five such in my precinct, one voter having lived in the same house and registered and voted from there for 15 years. This condition was chargeable to Judge Jarecki, who according to his sworn word, had 19,000 men and women aids to carry out his orders.

Were cards slipped into the files as they were slipped out? I wonder! F. R. S.

IN THE CITY'S PLAYGROUNDS.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Twenty-five years ago it was difficult for a youngster to find a playground in which to work off excess energy. Today, all over town, are playgrounds and small parks which afford him an opportunity to indulge in his favorite sport, winter as well as summer.

A boy who doesn't use the facilities offered by one of these sport centers is missing an influence of enduring value. Here we find clean quarters, well heated and lighted, with equipment to warm the heart of any normal boy. Fencing paraphernalia, boxing gloves, indoor baseballs, volleyballs, weights, mats of every size, horizontal bars, and parallel bars await his use. When he finishes his exercise he has access to lockers and showers.

These sports take the growing boy off the street, away from bad influences. In trying to excel in athletics the twig is bent in the right direction. If tax revenues, wasted in inefficiency and corruption, were adequately expended in institutions of this character, the crime problem would be much nearer solution than it is today.

We hear of the present American boy being soft. A visit to one of these recreational centers should dispel this idea. These boys are as strong and agile as those of preceding generations.

CHARLES C. ARADO.

REMEMBERS WORLD WAR NO. 1.

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 18.—The army of ruined, maimed men in the vets' hospitals all over America is for the most part forgotten and hidden away from the vast majority of Americans—whose war spirit is aroused.

I've got a brother who was an all round athlete, a perfect physical specimen, who was ruined by the last war. He gets a miserable pension and can't work at anything [his nerves completely shot], but he is far better off than the great mass of poor devils in the hospitals—shell shocked, gassed, stumped, blinded, pieces of men.

If posters of "what the Huns did to these" were justified to get us into world war No. 1, the concrete pictures of what world war No. 1 did to thousands of America's best young manhood should be sufficient to keep us out of world war No. 2. Yet we are being whipped up to get into it again. AMERICAN.

77 YEARS AGO YESTERDAY.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—It was 77 years ago today that Abraham Lincoln spoke on the gentle slope of a hillside cemetery in Gettysburg.

Those words are as luminous today as when they were spoken by the immortal Lincoln.

Let all who cherish liberty and freedom gather around Lincoln in spirit to obtain a new meaning of his unforgettable words:

". . . that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

What would it mean to us not to have the magnificent deeds which Lincoln performed, to act as a guiding star to our statesmen of today? If permanent peace is to come, we do not need another Gettysburg—we need another Lincoln.

FREDERICK H. JAENICKEN.

SOME TURKEY DAY PROBLEMS.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—This thing of two Thanksgiving days raises problems. If you have turkey and all the trimmings on the first day, does that mean warmed over, hash, soup, or what have you for a week until the real day arrives, and then repeat, ad lib?

And what has any one to give thanks for anyway on the first day, changeling that it is?

Not me. I stick to the good old "last Thursday in November" with all it means.

But yet . . . there's that Josh Lee bill! If that goes thru maybe we won't have Thanksgiving ever again; maybe we better eat while we can.

Let's pass a law or something; let the Democrats have their Thanksgiving when they're told to and the Republicans and old line Democrats stick to the regular day; then every one will be happy.

There are not many traditions left these days, but let's save a few, for holidays! MAYFLOWER.

A HUMBLE SERVANT OF GOD.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Accept my heartiest congratulations on the tribute and recognition you gave to Edward Miller, the aged singing evangelist. He went past the Chicago temple every day. I frequently had a few words with him. I met him first when I was a student in Evanston and have had a connection with him thru all these years. He was a great believer. The change of the times and the new interpretation of religion and modern theological questions never disturbed his mind. He lived in the old simple verities of the yesterdays.

Thanks again for this recognition of this humble servant of God. It is a worthy tribute. JOHN THOMPSON, Minister, First Methodist Episcopal Church.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

The volume of Legal Friend mail necessitates printed statements on common questions. No copies or records of the letters or answers are kept. Hence follow-up letters should be complete in themselves. If questions are based on some previously printed problem a clipping of the article should accompany. Most of the replies are mailed. Letters bearing no name and address are disregarded. A self-addressed envelope will expedite handling.

RIGHT TO ESTATE.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother being a widow, married a divorced man with two grown children.

1. Now both my mother and stepfather have passed away and there has been some property left without any will.

2. My stepfather's son has sold the property and I did not share in it.

3. Shouldn't I get what should have been my mother's share? N. O.

1. Rights would depend largely on the order in which they died, and on whether they left the property to the survivor by joint tenancy or will.

2. This makes it seem probable that the property was in joint tenancy and that your stepfather was the survivor. You would have no interest in your stepfather's estate unless he gave you an interest by will.

3. You state no facts to indicate that you had a share.

W-G-N FEATURES MARSHALL HIGH IN ROUSING SHOW

New Series of Salutes to Citizens of Tomorrow.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Meet the Citizens of Tomorrow. Meet them as presented over W-G-N yesterday afternoon in the shape of Chicago high school boys and girls—energetic, healthy, and happy, proud of their American heritage. And talented, too.

Radio listeners were introduced to a typical contingent of this buoyant segment of the American public when more than 600 students from Marshall High school took over W-G-N's No. 1 studio during the opening broadcast of the second series of Citizens of Tomorrow programs. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE presents these programs as a salute to the youth of America.

Sing National Anthem.

Prior to the opening of the program the west side students united in a stirring singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" as R. O. T. C. color guard boys posted the colors. Then, with Philip Maxwell as master of ceremonies, the students launched into a swift paced hour of cheers and song, of school news and humor, and an exhibition of erudition thru the medium of the Tribune News Quiz.

Besides Mr. Maxwell, who takes the rôle of principal, there were other familiar personalities on hand: Dorothy Gregory, a winsome lass who again plays the part of Jerry, and Blair Walliser, who keeps the show running smoothly. There were new faces, too: Eddie Firestone, as Jimmy, typical high school boy, and Charles Victor, youthful announcer.

John Charles Thomas (left), who will sing on W-G-N today, and John Wayne, film actor who will appear on W-G-N-Mutual's "In Chicago Tonight" program tomorrow.

John Charles Thomas, famous baritone, will be the star in a unique Pageant of Melody program from 8:30 to 9 o'clock tonight on W-G-N. What Thomas is to sing will be kept a surprise. He may sing "Home on the Range," with which he entertained Chicago opera goers at the close of a recent performance. He also will make an informal talk about music and opera.

Radio Première of Movie.

John Wayne, an all-round athlete who turned actor, will arrive from Hollywood today for a busy two days preparing for the radio première on W-G-N-Mutual tomorrow evening of Walter Wanger's new movie of the sea, "The Long Voyage Home." Wayne plays the leading rôle of Ole Olson in this gripping movie based on four short plays by Eugene O'Neill. This première will be presented on In Chicago Tonight at 7:30 p. m.

Wayne will arrive on the Santa Fe Chief. Arthur Shields, actor, producer and director of the famed Abbey players, who will join Wayne in the première, came in on the Chief yesterday. John Qualen, who portrays the important rôle of Axel, will fly in today via TWA.

William A. Bacher will be in charge of the radio première. The movie opened this week at the Apollo theater.

Radio Announcer Marries Daughter of Film Head

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 19 (AP).—Radio announcer Don Wilson, 40, and Peggy Ann Kent, 23, daughter of President Sidney R. Kent of Twentieth Century-Fox pictures, were married today at Wilson's Van Nuys home. It was Miss Kent's fourth marriage, Wilson's second.

Doodler's clue to a $27,000,000 mystery

▶ A newcomer in the advertising business usually pops this comment at an old timer:

"There are so many good magazines! And yet I find that The Saturday Evening Post stays millions of dollars ahead of them all in advertising revenue, year after year! How come, I wonder?"

Business men know long leadership is no accident—whether you make matches, or motor cars, or magazines.

One part of the answer is in the "doodles" above.

You could make a list of literally scores of fiction characters who by the mere act of appearing in the Post have been soldered into the minds and vocabulary of millions of Americans.

Alexander Botts is alive. So is Glencannon. So is Mr. Tutt. So is Young Ames. And Babe and Uncle Pete. Tugboat Annie has almost as many friends as Santa Claus.

Something vital in the Post succeeds in burning not only fictional characters into the mind and consciousness of America, but the names of America's great advertisers as well.

Confidence is an overworked word—worn threadbare by the number of times it is used—yet it is the only word to describe the state of mind Post readers hold toward Post-advertised products.

It looks now as if more than $27,000,000 in advertising revenue would be awarded to the Post in 1940. Many million more than last year. Many million more—as usual—than any other magazine.

All the charts, all the surveys can't fully explain that. But the men entrusted with investing the bulk of America's advertising dollars understand it thoroughly. They know that people read advertising in the Post with more interest and more confidence than in any other magazine in the U. S.

"A hound, a 'gator-boat and a wife is all a man needs here"

Few Americans know how primitive life is even now back in the wet wilderness of Georgia's Okefenokee Swamp. Here is an honest, earthy novel of a man's fight to live in a country where love is at the bottom of every quarrel. A novel in six parts, Swamp Water.

A new novel of the Georgia backwoods by Vereen Bell

Was Fascism saved by Laval?

Why did Laval "give" Ethiopia to Mussolini in 1935? What shady political horse-trading led up to the Hoare-Laval compromise? What dictator (as revealed to this author by Sugimura, Japan's ambassador to Rome) was ready to blow his brains out just before Fascism got its second wind in Europe? Read Who Saved Fascism?, the most extraordinary of the articles by Jules Romains.

THE TRIBUNE TRAVELERS' GUIDE

PROVIDE HOUSING FOR 10,000 MORE AT MIAMI BEACH

Prepare for Increase in Winter Guests.

Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 19 [Special].—This resort city is completing 15 million dollars' worth of new skyline as it prepares for the winter trade. Since last winter it has added 40 new hotels and 135 apartment buildings to its accommodations for visitors.

More than half a million dollars has been spent to increase the city's recreational facilities. The projects include a new $200,000 jai alai fronton, a $200,000 movie theater, and 11 new swimming pools.

Program Near Completion.

Most of the building program will be finished this month. With 2,734 additional hotel rooms, 1,426 apartments, and 249 residences, it provides for at least 10,000 more persons than were housed here last season.

All the hotels will be open for business either in late November or early December. The newer ones have built their own cabana clubs and swimming pools to relieve the congestion on the beaches.

Expect Earlier Season.

Advance bookings indicate an earlier season than ever before, as well as the heaviest Christmas season on record. The trend is indicated by the announcements of hotel, private club, and night club openings 30 days earlier than last year. Even the hostelries not yet completed have been largely booked for the holidays.

Last summer, for the first time, business was so good that the Miami Beach Bay Shore golf course was kept open every day. Now it has been closed for renovation, but it will reopen late this month. The municipal course is breaking all records for daily play.

FOUR NEW SHIPS TO PLY SEAS TO SOUTH AMERICA

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—Plans have been completed for naming and launching four passenger and cargo liners now being built at Chester, Pa. This was announced today by President Albert V. Moore of the Moore-McCormack Lines.

The ships will be placed in the service between the eastern coasts of North and South America. Their total construction cost is $20,000,000.

In each instance the name will have the prefix "Rio," which means river in both Spanish, the official language of Argentina and Uruguay, and Portuguese, the language of Brazil.

The Rio Hudson, first of the four, is to be launched Nov. 27. Following it will be the Rio Parana, to be launched Dec. 18; the Rio de la Plata, Feb. 3, and the Rio de Janeiro, Feb. 28.

Each will carry 197 passengers and have a displacement of 17,500 tons. All rooms will be outside and have private baths and air conditioning. The maximum speed will be 18 knots.

Two hours by plane from Miami, overnight by steamer from Miami, and approximately two days by steamer from New York.

What is the significance of the current hit tune, "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano"? A. Y.

The song gets its name from the fact that each year on St. Joseph's day, March 19, great flocks of swallows take up their residence in the ancient San Juan Capistrano mission in California. With the same punctuality they leave annually on San Juan's day, Oct. 23. Where they come from and where they go are mysteries. Some of the swallows have been sighted from ships in midocean. Capistrano is one of the missions along El Camino Real [the King's highway], extending all the way from San Diego to Sonoma—700 miles.

We have been having an argument as to how many passenger and freight trains are in operation daily on the railroads of the United States. Can you tell us? J. G. W.

CALIFORNIA HAS WINTER SPORT: HUNTING CLAMS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 19 [Special].—Southern California has begun its winter sport of hunting Pismo clams.

The members of this species—in case you don't know—are the giants of the clam family. They grow as big as your head. If their shells aren't 5½ inches long, you have to throw them back.

Pismos have another claim to fame. They refuse to grow anywhere in the world except along the 25 mile stretch of coastline from El Pismo beach to the sandspit in Morro bay. Transplant them anywhere else—even a few miles up the coast—and they do a fadeout.

Starting from a tiny "seed" size, the same as other clams, the Pismo waxes fat until, at the age or 4 or 5 years, it has attained the legal digging size. Some of the grandpas reach 8 or 9 inches. These are few, but the hunters always are on the lookout for them.

There are no valuable pearls in these clams. So the fun of seeking them is the only reward. There is usually a quarantine on them in the summer, but this is lifted about this time of the year. All winter long the coast residents and visitors don bathing suits and wade into the surf with the standard outfits of spading forks and gunny sacks.

Low tide is the best time. Up to their knees in water, the hunters spade up the sand. When the spade clinks on a shell, the sportsman makes a quick dive with his free hand.

The man behind the rise of the modern Democrats

For over 30 years Arthur F. Mullen, noted Nebraska lawyer, has been active in converting the traditionally Republican West into the Democratic column. He was responsible, probably more than any other man, for the 1932 nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt for president.

The author knew his book would be posthumous, and thus wrote with candor of many American leaders whom he knew intimately. In this remarkable autobiography he reveals the basic reasons for the great Democratic swing in the West.

The Yonkers Statesman says: "Read as history or as a chapter in national politics, or even as exciting romance, 'Western Democrat' is a big book of the publishing year, not to be missed." 11 photographs, 360 pages, $3.50

Howard Spring Novel One for Best Seller List

"Fame Is the Spur," by Howard Spring, 726 pages. [Viking, $2.75.] Published last Friday. December choice of the Literary Guild.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

The author of "My Son, My Son," one of the spectacular best sellers of our day, has chosen a political "character" as the central figure for a very long, panoramic picture of the last 80 years of England.

John Hamer Shawcross, Viscount of Handforth, is an ancient and an honorable figure in England today as the book closes, altho he is a disillusioned man who has seen the world crumble before him and has pitched many of his own ideals into the débris. As the book opens he is a small boy in a Manchester tenement, fathered not legally but with tender care by his mother's God-fearing and mankind-loving husband, who rescued the desperate girl and her baby from despair.

During the 80 years which intervene John Hamer Shawcross becomes a firebrand of politics, a volcano of political speech making, a passionate Labor party leader, and, in his private life, a man of insatiable ambition. The time and place of his life were the natural soil and atmosphere to give his nature and talents flourish, and Howard Spring makes the panorama of that time and place more than mere background for the development of his hero.

In that panorama is the living record of the birth and growth of England's Labor party, of the passionate, tragic years of the militant Suffragettes' vain efforts which a war ironically made successful over night, as well as the vivid life story of a man who knew what he wanted and got it, even tho what he wanted was a Dead sea apple which turned to dust in his hands.

"Fame Is the Spur" is an abundant cavalcade of England, a "lifetime" of England as well as of one man. It is even more surely destined for the best seller list than Howard Spring's immensely popular "My Son, My Son!"

Miss Millay's Poetry

"Make Bright the Arrows," by Edna St. Vincent Millay. [Harpers, $1.75.] Published today.

Subtitled "1940 Notebook," this collection from the pen of one of America's major poets is filled with "passionate concern" for the world today. Some of the poems are threnodies for peace and Christian kindliness driven out of the world by "The Crooked Cross" of might. One of the most touching things in the book is "a play in one act, done after the manner of the mediaeval sacred mystery plays," with that title, its scene a convent school in Paris, its protagonists the little girls in a sewing class and the sister who dies trying to persuade them that the dread shadow [of planes over Notre Dame] is a dream and not reality.

Some of the poems are ironic, sometimes witty, poetic commentary on the state of the world today and man's—one man's—inhumanity to man, like "There Are No Islands Any More," whose refrain is:

The tidal wave devours the shore:
There ARE no islands any more.

And the book ends with nine stirring, sometimes bitter, sonnets in Miss Millay's beautifully classic manner, of which these six lines about peace are memorable:

In all my life I never knew a thing
So highly prized to be so cheaply had:
Longing to wed with Peace, what did we do?—
Sketched her a fortress on a paper pad;
Under her casement twanged a lovesick string;
Left wide the gate that let her foemen thru.

Pieces About China

"With Love and Irony," by Lin Yutang. [Day, $2.75.] Published last Thursday.

The author of "The Importance of Living" and "My Country and My People," both trenchant, enchanting books which made China and the Chinese way of life and philosophical thought three dimensional to American readers, has a genius for saying much in a colorful sentence, a phrase, or a few pages. The source of that genius is most evident in this collection of 49 short "pieces" [as we of the newspaper business sometimes call our daily stint].

Most of them were written for a column signed "The Little Critic" in a Chinese magazine published in English called The China Critic. Some were written for American magazines. Chronologically they span many years and in subject matter and spirit their calipers measure the globe from the satirically amusing "Do Bedbugs Exist in China?" to a serious 10 pages on "The Future of China."

These short "essays" are, for the most part, as precise and as delicate as a stroke of a Chinese brush immortalized in India ink. They are delightful to read aloud and it is as delightful to be read to from them. The ones which are concerned with Chinese customs, psychology, and manners of thought gave me most pleasure, for in them there is the ironic surprise with which a true "little critic" speaks—when he writes about something which he knows as well as he does his own pulse beat and which, like his pulse beat, he has taken for granted until he suddenly discovers its drama.

These little pieces are charming, enlightening, and probably as unimportant as that flash of sunshine the other day thru the gray sky which somehow you can't remember to forget. Their title is, it seems to this reader, the least expression of genius in the book. Why not call it—with the implication rather than the declaration of love and irony—simply "The Little Critic"?

Forty-nine amusing chapter heads drawn by Kurt Wiese and an introduction by Pearl Buck further embellish the volume.

Authors and Their Work

Nina Fedorova, author of the Atlatinc Monthly prize novel, "The Family," says she thought about her story for two years, then spent one year in writing it. The work had to be done at night after her housekeeping duties were over. She, her husband, and two sons lived in Tsientsin, the scene of the novel, after being exiled from Russia. They now have a home in Oregon.

Erle Stanley Gardner, mystery writer, told a friend he could not resist the delicious, rich foods on a recent visit to New Orleans, and so nearly ate himself to death. "Yes, sir," he said, "it's gout's own country!"

Recently Victor von Hagen, author of "Jungle in the Clouds," flew to St. Louis to deliver the only male quetzal bird ever to be transported alive to this country.

Francis Hackett Views Denmark with Warm Eye

"I Chose Denmark," by Francis Hackett. [Doubleday-Doran, $2.50.] Published last Friday.

"Yesterday is Dead," by Stuart Cloete. [Smith & Durrell, $2.50.] Published Monday.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

In "I Chose Denmark" Francis Hackett writes of the country, the people, their food, their customs, their religion, their politics, their attitude of mind, their way of life. Married to a Danish woman and in love with her country as well, he describes with great charm the home of his adoption. His reminiscenses end before the fatal 9th of April, 1940, when the Nazi legions marched into Denmark.

The narrative is delightfully written, full of wit, humor, understanding, and always imbued with admiration for the Scandinavian temperament. Comparisons are made between the Danish way of doing things and his native Irish and the English way.

Mr. Hackett does not consider the Nazi invasion a permanently decisive factor in the future of the country. "Denmark in a barbed wire cage is no less Denmark, the spiritual being," he says. "For if the state is a being, and it can be asserted, then Denmark goes on, whether imprisoned or not."

Stuart Cloete, author of "The Turning Wheels" and "Watch for the Dawn," popular historical novels of South Africa, states his views of present conflicting ideas and philosophies in a serious book of nonfiction in "Yesterday is Dead." He does not claim to be an authority; he is content with being the proverbial man in the street, "one of the many hundred million facets of the collective human mind that waits today, aghast, facing tomorrow."

Because he considers the present world struggle a "war not only to the last man, but to the last idea," he believes in clarifying ideas. What do you really consider important? he asks. Are "liberty, equality, fraternity" mere words, or are they symbols of justice? He challenges his readers to return to the simple verities, to acquire the habit of logical thinking, to realize that civilization stems from an attitude of mind.

Whether or not you always agree with Mr. Cloete's premises, you will be stimulated mentally by "Yesterday is Dead."

History Brought to Life in Story of Illinois River

"The Illinois," by James Gray. [Farrar & Rinehart, $2.50.] Published today.

Marquette, Joliet, La Salle, and the other great French voyageuers live again in this new volume of the Rivers of America series which is telling the story of the nation in terms of its rivers. The scene shifts quickly and colorfully from the explorers to the robust giants of 100 years ago—Lincoln, Douglas, Grant, Shields, the abolitionist martyr, Lovejoy, and Col. Bob Ingersoll.

There are stirring glimpses of Lincoln the flatboatman, Lincoln the lawyer and politician, and even of Lincoln the punster. Pioneer life in Springfield, Peoria, Alton, and on the river is largely the background of this work, tho life and commerce on the river today and the international battle over diversion of water from Lake Michigan are given adequate space. The author of "The Illinois" is literary editor of a St. Paul, Minn., newspaper. C. L.

These Volumes Discuss Varied Aspects of War

"De Gaulle and the Coming Invasion of Germany," by James Marlow. [Dutton, $1.]

"Total Defense," by Clark Foreman and Joan Raushenbush. [Doubleday-Doran, $1.25.]

"Suez and Panama," by Andre Siegfried, translated from the French by Harold and Doris Hemming. [Harcourt-Brace, $3.]

BY HOWARD ALLEN.

"De Gaulle and the Coming Invasion of Germany" is Gen. Charles De Gaulle's story of how it would be possible for England to invade Germany and win the war after she has achieved technical superiority. De Gaulle, brilliant French leader whose efforts to build up a mechanized and motorized army for France were scorned, sees the future of democracy bound up in a powerful land, sea, and air force operating from England against a ruthless foe. The leader of free Frenchmen believes that with such a force an invasion of Germany not only will be possible but will be successful.

In the form of two memoranda, "Total Defense" gives the answer to two important questions of the day: How would Hitler attack America and what can be done here to prevent it?

The first memorandum, as if from the Reichsbureau of Political Economy, deals with what could be a course of German action in South America. The second, addressed to the President, congress, and the people of the United States, outlines a procedure to save all the Americas from German ambitions on this side of the ocean.

A new and different story about the world's two most important canals is unfolded in "Suez and Panama," by a man who knew and tells about the famous Ferdinand De Lesseps, who helped build both of them.

Revealing and fascinating are his stories of intrigue and high finance, of scandal and broken lives. They are sidelights on the histories of these great man made geographical changes that have never seen so much light before.

Suez and Panama are of such military importance today that they may affect the present war. Because of this Mr. Siegfried's accounts of their pasts provide a rich background of fact.

A pageant of America, in the story of one of its greatest rivers!

THE Illinois

By JAMES GRAY
ILLUSTRATED BY Aaron Bohrod

THE ILLINOIS flows through three centuries of history! Here Marquette labored for the Indians; here La Salle built and held his forts for the French king against bitter odds; here Lincoln and Douglas grew up, and Grant, a failure in civil life, forged one of the world's finest armies. Here, great cities have grown, and here Lindsay and Masters and Sandburg tell the stories and sing the songs of the prairie people . . . It is a thrilling panorama of America, filled with colorful figures from the too-imaginative Father Hennepin down to today's "Steamboat Elsie", a heroine whom every river captain salutes with a loud blast of his whistle as he passes her house!

PETRILLO WINS FIGHT TO RULE ALL MUSICIANS

Tibbett Group Threatens Strike on Radio.

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—The American Guild of Musical Artists, including some of the nation's leading vocal and instrumental soloists, today lost its fight for a temporary injunction to prevent the American Federation of Musicians from asserting jurisdiction over the guild's instrumental members.

The decision handed down in Manhattan Supreme court by Justice Aaron Steuer was hailed by James C. Petrillo, president of the federation. He said it upheld the A. F. M. view that it never asked anything it was not entitled to, and that it felt justified in seeking to organize all musicians. Both groups are members of the American Federation of Labor.

Officials and counsel for the guild, however, asserted they would continue their legal fight against what they call an attempted dictatorship over music in the United States. Backing Lawrence Tibbett, president of the guild, are such artists as Jascha Heifetz, Albert Spalding, Mischa Elman, Gladys Swarthout, and Kirsten Flagstad.

Guild Can Appeal.

Henry Jaffe, guild attorney, said the union board will meet tomorrow to decide on its next move. The guild has the option of seeking a prompt trial of its suit for a permanent injunction against the federation or of an appeal asking a stay of Justice Steuer's ruling.

Guild spokesmen said they also were considering calling a strike of artists on radio programs if Petrillo attempts to carry out his threat to bar the soloists from concerts, motion pictures, radio and phonograph recordings.

Petrillo, meanwhile, said he considered the decision a "go ahead" signal to do just that. He said federation musicians would not be permitted to work on programs with any of the soloists unless the soloists resign from the guild and join the federation.

Radio Stars Members.

The guild's link with radio stems partly from the fact that Tibbett also is president of the American Federation of Radio Artists. Topped by such names as Jack Benny, Bing Crosby and Fred Allen, the A. F. R. A. takes in all who sing or speak on the air, including many announcers.

Guild officials said the A. F. R. A. undoubtedly would refuse to permit its members to work with the musicians if the latter try to boycott the soloists.

Petrillo expressed doubt that the guild membership is or ever was behind Tibbett. He added the opinion that "Tibbett got the publicity he was after, but he found out he couldn't get away with stealing our musicians."

Justice Steuer held the A. F. M. has a right to extend its membership to include instrumental soloists, and that the artists had made themselves eligible for union membership by the fact of their forming a union.

The question of possible extortion facing guild members and the arbitrary control given Petrillo by his union's constitution are beyond the court's jurisdiction, Justice Steuer asserted.

TRUCK HELPER KILLED AS HEAD STRIKES VIADUCT

George Reppo, 41 years old, 640 Madison street, was killed yesterday when a truck loaded with wood on which he was perched, passed under a North Western railroad viaduct at Monroe street near Rockwell street, and his head struck an overhead beam. Reppo, a helper on the truck, which was driven by Charles Hottinger, 815 North Fairfield avenue, was knocked to the street.

Paul Maculis, 40, of 1301 South 51st avenue, Cicero, a tavern janitor, died in Loretto hospital of injuries suffered Sunday when he was struck down in the 1300 block of South Cicero avenue, Cicero, by an automobile driven by Edward Kolofer, 7841 Green street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 771 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 559 were killed in Chicago, where 21,013 were injured during the same period.

THOMAS GAMBLE, 52, ADVERTISING EXECUTIVE, DIES

Thomas Seward Gamble, Chicago advertising executive, died yesterday in Passavant hospital after a short illness. Mr. Gamble, who was 52 years old, lived at 105 East Delaware place. He was associated with Doremus & Co. and formerly was connected with the White Motor company and the Maxwell Motors company. His widow, Lucile, and two daughters, Elizabeth Jane and Mary Seward Gamble, survive. Services will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian church. Burial will be at Bronswood cemetery, Hinsdale.

H. P. NICHOLSON, 99, TRAVELING SALESMAN, DIES

Services for Henry P. Nicholson, one of the oldest traveling salesmen in the country, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in his home at 5833 Kenmore avenue. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Nicholson, a rope and twine salesman for the last 70 years, died Monday evening in his home. He was 99 years old and was active until he became ill six months ago. He painted landscapes in his spare time, studied Spanish two or three hours a day, and took a half mile walk daily. His territory as a salesman was southern Wisconsin where, it is said, he outlived all his first customers. He leaves his son, Dr. J. Murney Nicholson, and daughter, Lotta Nicholson.

VETERAN TEACHER DIES.

Clinton, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special].—Miss Margaret Kinsley, 56 years old, a teacher in the schools here for many years, died Monday night at Delray Beach, Fla., where she recently had made her home. Burial will be here.

THEODORE BEAR, 76, DIES; MAKER OF TEDDY BEARS

Theodore Bear, who took a suggestion from his own name to start a business, died yesterday in his home at 6615 Greenwood avenue. He was born in Germany 76 years ago and came with his family to Cincinnati, O., at the age of 3. The firm of Bear Brothers, of which he was a member, manufactured teddy bears and children's apparel. It was established originally in Cincinnati, but Mr. Bear operated it here for 35 years. He claimed to be the first manufacturer in the country to use electric power in the manufacture of children's clothing. He leaves a son, Walter Bear. Services will be held at 2 p. m. today at 936 East 47th street.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS VERDICT.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday at the inquest over Edward Katt, 50 years old, 1924 South Ridgeway avenue, and Elmer Herman, 42, of 5348 Madison street. They were fatally burned Oct. 15 in a fire at 5221 Broadway.

OBITUARIES

Dr. David C. Roach.

Services for Dr. David C. Roach, mayor of Burlington and veteran physician, will be held in St. Charles Catholic church in Hampshire tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. Dr. Roach, who was 69 years old, died Monday night in St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin. He had been mayor of Burlington since 1907 and was president of the State Bank of Burlington for 10 years. He was a captain in the army medical corps during the world war. A graduate of Northwestern university medical college in 1894, he practiced in McConnell, Ill., before moving to Kane county 36 years ago. His widow, a son, and a daughter survive.

Dr. William F. Cunningham.

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—Dr. William Francis Cunningham, 51, one of the first to make experiments on Hodgkin's disease in higher apes, died here today. He had been ill for nine years of pulmonary disease. He served 20 months in France during the world war with the British expeditionary force. For many years he was associated with the department of experimental pathology at Columbia university.

Al Siegel.

Services for Al Siegel, a manufacturing furrier at 39 South State street for more than 25 years, will be held at 11 a. m. today in the chapel at 5206 Broadway. He died Monday in Milwaukee at the age of 47. Mr. Siegel lived at 446 Aldine avenue and was the president of Siegel and Barth, Inc. He was a director of the Associated Fur Industry. He leaves his widow, Hannah; a son, Bobby, and a daughter, Eileen.

Dr. Louis Dean.

Word was received here yesterday of the death on Nov. 13 in Borger, Tex., of Dr. Louis Dean, eye specialist, formerly of Chicago. Dr. Dean was 59 years old. He lived in Chicago until about a year ago, when ill health forced his retirement. He leaves his widow, Mamie; a son, two daughters, two brothers, and two sisters.

Jacob Loewer.

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—Jacob Loewer, 74, president of Gambrinus Brewery company, founded by his father in 1869, died today. Mr. Loewer became head of the company 20 years ago after the death of his brother, George.

Peter Bellert.

Peter Bellert, who at various times had held almost every public office in Northbrook, died yesterday in his home at 1888 Shermer avenue, Northbrook. He was born Jan. 14, 1857, in Niles Center, and had spent more than 50 years as a resident of Northbrook. He was a retired harness maker. Mr. Bellert was Northbrook's second mayor and also had been a village trustee, school trustee, police magistrate, fire chief, and supervisor of Northbrook township. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Mary Carson, Kathryn Bellert, and Sister Mary Joseph, C. S. J. The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. Friday from the chapel at 1900 Shermer avenue, Northbrook, to St. Norbert's church, Techny, with burial in Sacred Heart cemetery.

MRS. ANNA NITTO, FRANK NITTI'S WIFE, DIES AT 38

Mrs. Anna Nitto, wife of Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, died yesterday in Mercy hospital from an internal ailment. She was 38 years old. She had been spending the winter in the Nitti home in Miami, Fla., when she was stricken ill about a week ago. Altho her condition improved slightly Sunday night, it took a turn for the worse early yesterday. Last rites of the Catholic church were administered by the Rev. Matthew A. Canning of St. Charles church, 2060 Roosevelt road. Nitti, who is suffering from a serious heart ailment, was at his wife's bedside. He had been released earlier in the day from Presbyterian hospital. Their son, Joseph, 6 years old, is in school in Miami. The funeral will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday from the chapel at 619 South Ashland avenue to St. Charles church.

Bachelors and Benedicts Have Ball Tonight

BY JUDITH CASS.

FOR the first time in the history of the Bachelors' and Benedicts' ball, each lady in the receiving line tonight will carry a bouquet chosen especially for her. Heretofore the Bs and Bs have sent the same flowers to their hostesses, usually choosing white orchids with the idea that they would go with any gown. This is a masculine, not a feminine idea, however, so often a carefully thought out color scheme has been almost wrecked by flowers that did not harmonize.

This year the florist who is responsible for the decorations of the grand ballroom of the Palmer House persuaded the hosts to let him find out what each hostess would wear and then plan her flowers to go with her gown. So we may expect that the receiving line at tonight's ball will be the most stunning and effective that ever has welcomed the hundreds of guests to a Bs and Bs ball.

Wives of Benedicts in Receiving Line.

Receiving will be the wives of the benedicts, who are George A. Pool Jr. [chairman], Wyndham Hasler, Joseph E. Rich, Albert B. Dick III., John Jay Borland II., George A. Ranney Jr., Hugh McBirney Johnston, Potter Palmer III., William B. Cudahy, Peter Fortune, Garfield King, and Howard F. Gillette Jr. Mr. Gillette and his bride will not be at the ball, however, for they are honeymooning in Tryon. The four bachelors of the organization, Henry Barkhausen, Thomas Albert Potter Jr., Arthur M. Wood, and William R. Dickinson Jr., will be on hand to act as hosts along with the married men.

Of the eight of last year's debutantes who are invited to the ball only half will be there. Miss Janet Brown and Miss Edith Porter are at Smith college, Miss Sheila Cudahy is studying in New York, and Miss Edith Cowles is at Sarah Lawrence college. Those who will be going to their first B's and B's tonight are Miss Helen Dick, Miss Anne Stuart, Miss Marie Louise Hulburd, and Miss Grace Shumway, who returns today from an eastern trip.

Many Dinner Parties to Precede the Ball.

There are numerous dinner parties planned to precede the ball. Many of the hosts have arranged to have music for dancing at their parties, for the ball does not get under way until near midnight. Charles Fitzmorris Jr. has planned to take his dinner guests to the theater before the ball. The Solomon Byron Smiths are having a party for the newlywed James Brauns at the Racquet club. The junior Robert Hall McCormicks are entertaining at his mother's home, 1260 Astor street. The Gaylord Donnelleys and the Wyndham Haslers also are having guests at 1260 Astor street, in the apartment of Mrs. Donnelley's and Mrs. Hasler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ranney.

The John Lawrence Irvings, the William O. Hunts, the Robert Macdonalds, and the junior Robert F. Carrs are others who have planned dinners. Two orchestras will furnish the music at the ball and each dance will start with strains of a Viennese waltz. Supper will be served between 1 and 2 o'clock, but the champagne bar will be open all during the ball.

Engagement of Judith Fox Being Announced Today.

An interesting engagement which is being announced today is that of Miss Judith Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Fox of Winnetka, to John M. Smyth Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Smyth of Evanston. Miss Fox attended Sweet Briar college and is a graduate of the University of Chicago. Mr. Smyth attended the Chicago Latin school, the Canterbury school, Princeton university, and Northwestern university law school. The wedding will take place early in January.

Mrs. Donald Mercer of Winnetka has planned a luncheon for Saturday, Dec. 28, for debutante Angeline Johnson, daughter of the C. Wallace Johnsons.

Another Christmas luncheon for the debutantes is one Mrs. Paul Walker will give on Dec. 27 for Miss Eleanor Norris, the James Norrises' bud.

Stirling Dickinson is arriving in Chicago today to be here until January, when he will return to San Miguel Allende, Mex., for the winter session of his art school.

Alanson Donalds Depart for East for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Alanson Donald is combining business and pleasure on a trip east, for she is going to spend Thanksgiving with relatives and see the Yale-Harvard game on Saturday, and next Monday and Tuesday she will represent the Chicago Junior league at a conference on current problems in New York.

The Chicago Orphan asylum is having the first benefit in its history next Wednesday when it sponsors two performances of "Sambo and the Tigers" by the Chicago Junior League Children's theater. The play will be given at 2:45 o'clock and again at 4 o'clock at the Chicago Historical society.

Mrs. Rosamond Warner Is Married in New York

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—Mrs. Rosamond Moore Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Thomas Moore of this city, was married yesterday afternoon to Jack Peacock Green of this city, formerly of Buffalo, N. Y. and Bermuda. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Philip C. Jones of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church in the home of the bride's parents in East 71st street. A few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony which was followed by a reception. The couple will make their home in New York. The bride was formerly Mrs. Ezra Warner Jr., of Chicago and Lake Forest.

Ovation Given Woman's Band and Conductor

Woman's Symphony orchestra, Izler Solomon, conductor, playing in Orchestra hall, with Robert Topping, tenor, as soloist. The program:

Suite from "Dardanus".Gluck-DeLamarter
Cancion: Romance..Inez Riddle McDonald
[First Chicago performances.]
"Durch die Wälder, durch die Auen," from "Der Freischütz"...........Weber
Mr. Topping.
"E lucevan le stelle," from "Tosca" ....Puccini
Mr. Topping.
"Tales from the Vienna Woods".Strauss
Symphony No. 5...........Shostakovitch

The ovation which greeted Mr. Solomon and the orchestra at the end of the concert was both great and justified, for they gave a performance of the Shostakovitch symphony worthy of a more renowned conductor and ensemble.

An austere and impressive work, the symphony elicited from the orchestra qualities which it hasn't always had—a greater dynamic scale in the string section; some virile sonorous, and brilliant climaxes from the full ensemble, and a greater sensitivity to melodic nuance. At all times the players responded flexibly and unifiedly to Mr. Solomon, whose direction was little short of superb. He was always in full and sympathetic command of the symphony's slowly built climaxes; sustained, quiet passages, and fast, syncopated rhythms.

In his two operatic arias Robert Topping revealed an excellent voice not yet fully focused to yield the best results. In the upper reaches the tones became pointed and took on a satisfying brilliance. This was not in evidence in the middle register, and the voice failed frequently to cut thru the orchestra. The tenor's performance of the arias was musicianly, and he was so cordially received by the audience he was forced to add an encore, Richard Strauss's "Zueignung."

Two short pieces by a resident composer, Mrs. Inez Riddle McDonald, proved to be pleasant trifles, indicating an excellent knowledge of orchestral scoring. Mrs. McDonald was on hand to acknowledge gracefully the warm response of the audience.

Capital Notes.

People, paintings, and parties are still in an unsorted mental scramble after a flying trip to Washington and New York, with a motor trip from Washington to colonial Williamsburg to hear chamber music by candlelight in the ballroom of the restored governor's palace sandwiched in with the other festivities. The stately English Georgian ballroom, with its fine luster chandeliers and magnificent antique mirrors reflecting the candlelight; the music of Scarlatti, Purcell, and Haydn played on harpsichord, violin, and violoncello, and the lovely soprano voice of Ada MacLeish, wife of Archibald MacLeish, head of the Library of Congress, singing songs familiar to 18th century Virginia, made a memorable combination. Some of the songs of Purcell Mrs. MacLeish sang are included in Jefferson's copy of Orpheus Brittanicus, and her Mermaid's Song by Haydn was copied into Mrs. Jefferson's manuscript notebook.

Earlier there had been champagne cocktails before the fire—served by Negroes in livery—and dinner at the Williamsburg tavern, and after the musical a small gathering in the little garden house taken by a charming Georgetown woman for the duration of the music festival. Wooden bowls of red apples and cheese and crackers accompanied homely beer and cider, partaken of by handsome Washington women in lovely dinner gowns and jewels. The next day was given over to sightseeing in the Williamsburg restoration—the old courthouse, the Raleigh tavern, where our hostess got samples of paint of the Apollo room blue for her Virginia farmhouse, and one carried away a new appreciation of the beauty of colonial architecture and furnishings, much more beautiful, in our opinion, in the atmosphere of gracious living they create, than Europe's museum palaces.

Motoring to Williamsburg in the rain, we stopped to see Kenmore, home of Betty Lewis, George Washington's only sister, at Fredericksburg. When we entered the old kitchen, scented by the bunches of herbs suspended above the hearth, with its great crane, ancient crockery and iron utensil of revolutionary days, the colored woman in a cotton print in charge offered hot tea with mint and a plate of "Lafayette" gingerbread. The gingerbread was baked from the same recipe as that given Lafayette by Gen. Washington's mother when he went to pay his respects to her. They—the Marquis de Lafayette and Gen. Washington—found her in the garden raking leaves in a short gown petticoat and cap, according to the tale. She greeted them and together they went into the house, where she made her visitor a mint julep and served the spiced gingerbread with it. Listening with pleased attention to the Frenchman's praises of her son, her only reply was, "George was always a good boy." In bidding her good-by Lafayette asked her blessing. She lifted her hand and prayed that the favor of God might be with him always.

The recipe for the gingerbread was found in a worn old cookbook. We will give it if readers are interested.

Peace Blessing to Be Theme of Thank Services

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Thanks for the peace of America will be expressed in many Chicago churches tomorrow morning. Such a theme has been announced by clergymen and spiritual leaders who will address several union services.

Some have announced themes of thanks for continuing freedom of worship in America when in great sections of the world this freedom has been denied. Possibly more Jewish-Protestant union services have been announced for Thanksgiving day this year than ever before. The churches and synagogues of the Lakeview district have scheduled union services this year for the first time.

Fifteen churches and synagogues will join at Wellington Avenue Congregational church, Wellington avenue and Broadway, where Rabbi Solomon Goldman, president of the American Zionist organization and spiritual leader of Temple Anshe Emet, Pine Grove avenue and Grace street, will be the preacher.

Probably the pioneer of all Jewish-Protestant united services are those of the South Shore-Bryn Mawr communities. The service there will be held in St. John's Methodist church, 7400 Jeffery avenue.

The Lexington conference of the Methodist church will hold a joint service for seven out of its eight congregations at St. Mark's, 5000 South Wabash avenue. The preacher will be Bishop Robert E. Jones, head of the central jurisdiction, who will preach again on Sunday morning at St. Matthew's, 1000 Orleans street.

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil will preach at 10:30 a. m. mass at St. Andrew's Catholic church, Addison and Paulina streets. The music will be sung by the Casino male chorus, and the major portion of this service will be broadcast on Sunday morning, 9 to 10 a. m., the Chicagoland Church Hour, over station W-G-N.

On the north side the Fourth Presbyterian church and St. Chrysostom's Episcopal, will combine with St. James' Episcopal at the last mentioned for a Thanksgiving service at 11 o'clock. The preacher will be the Rev. Harry J. Cotton, president of the Presbyterian theological seminary. The annual Ravenswood community service will be held at the Presbyterian church. Coöperating in the service are Bethany Evangelical and the Christian, Congregational, and Methodist neighborhood churches.

The Baptist Young People's union is sponsoring a sunrise praise service at 6:55 a. m., simultaneously at three churches—Englewood Baptist, Second Baptist, 1857 Jackson boulevard, and North Shore Baptist, 1311 Berwyn avenue.

$3,000,000 Mark Passed in Campaign of Community Fund

The 1940 Community Fund campaign has passed its $3,000,000 mark towards a $3,604,000 goal. This was revealed at a meeting of 500 chairmen, team captains, and drive leaders in the Palmer House yesterday.

Following the meeting, Merle J. Trees, campaign chairman, sent out a bulletin compiled by Champ Carry, industrial division chairman, showing that $3,172,143 has been subscribed so far by some 500,000 employed men and women in the city's industrial, business, commercial, and professional systems. The report also indicated that 15 of the 70 divisions working on the drive had completed their individual quotas.

Mr. Trees also pointed out that some 5,073 business firms and their employés have not yet been heard from in the drive. Last year these firms subscribed $404,000.

Unusual Shows Bid for Favor of Art Lovers

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Several exciting art exhibitions have just opened. The All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts has one of the most brilliant exhibits at the Stevens hotel. The show is diversified and has a great many delightful paintings and pieces of sculpture to recommend it.

The gold medal for the best work in oil was given to "Wet Snow, Michigan Avenue," by John Hanny; the gold medal for the best in water color went to "Arrangement," by Florence Jordon; the down state gold medal was awarded to "Zinnias, Gay," by Grace Davis.

The stunning portrait of Dr. Francis J. Gerty by Lucile S. Dalrymple was given the honorable mention in oils because there is no special portrait award offered by the society; had there been this outstanding painting would have received it.

The Mrs. Frank G. Logan purchase prize was won by a case of wood carvings by Dorothy Helmuth.

A comprehensive exhibit of figure paintings by Robert Philipp is at the Findlay galleries, 424 South Michigan avenue. We found them a bit tedious. In the downstairs gallery is a showing of recent water colors by Millard Sheets, who has so stylized the California landscape that his work is more apt to provoke the remark "That's a Millard Sheets" rather than "That's California"! Modern enthusiasts still rejoice in Mr. Sheets' color and pattern.

A colorful exhibit of desert paintings by Hurlstone Fairchild [who by profession is a mining engineer and by avocation a painter] is on view at the Anderson galleries, 530 South Michigan avenue. It is a capital show. The desert has found a wise and understanding interpreter. There is variety in the pictures; the desert, after all, has many sides and the artist gives us the mountains, the mists, the blue skies and white clouds, the sudden shower and the curious trees of the desert, as well as those stretches of burning sands which most of us visualize when that country is in question.

The South Side Art association has hung an attractive exhibit of work by members at the Sherry hotel, 53d street and the lake.

'Madame Butterfly' Is Repeated with New Artists in Chief Roles

BY CECIL SMITH.

"MADAME BUTTERFLY."

Opera in three acts by Giacomo Puccini. Libretto by L. Illica and G. Giacosa, after a story by John Luther Long. Presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house, Tuesday evening, Nov. 19, 1940.

The Chicago Opera company, seemingly intent on finding as many different casts as possible for each opera in the repertory, presented "Madame Butterfly" last night with all four principal rôles recast. Rosa Tentoni, an American lyric soprano who hails originally from Minnesota, made her local operatic debut as the Japanese heroine, Frederick Jagel sang Lieut. Pinkerton for the first time in this city. Ada Paggi as Suzuki and George Czaplicki as Sharpless repeated rôles in which they already have been successful in other seasons.

Mr. Jagel's Pinkerton was highly enjoyable. Since the tenor part of "Madame Butterfly" exists only in the first act and a short section of the last act, opera managements are prone to make use of lesser, and often less expensive, artists in this rôle. After some of the small voiced Pinkertons we have heard it was a joy to hear Mr. Jagel riding boldly above the orchestra, making splendid climaxes with large and solid high notes, and confidently matching the sonority of Mr. Czaplicki's fine baritone voice in duets and ensembles.

To be sure, Mr. Jagel is not precisely a romantic figure, and his personality seems rather too honest and forthright to permit of Pinkerton's easy going peccadilloes. But he is thoroly stagewise, and when he does not create the illusion of belonging in a part, at least he definitely does always belong on the operatic stage.

Miss Tentoni embellishes her characterization of the title rôle with fluent movement and sufficiently Japanese posturing. Her vocal attainments, however, do not entitle her to a major assignment with a major opera company. While there were moments of tonal charm and imaginative color in her singing, the moments were too few, and the general impression was one of inadequacy. The entrance music, the first act love duet, and the "Un bel di" aria all overtaxed her resources seriously.

Elsewhere the performance was competent, and Mr. Czaplicki's Sharpless was of notable quality. This particular opera evidently has received less stage direction than any other this season, but at least nothing untoward happened. Angelo Canarutto conducted exceedingly well.

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

SYNOPSIS.

An item in a gossip column confirms Norma Tredwill's premonition that her stepdaughter, Barbara, is seeing Norma's ex-husband, Paul Gerente, actor and philanderer. Excusing herself to their house guest, Cheli Scott, a brilliant young playwright, she goes to town to see Paul and try to break it up.

INSTALLMENT III.

THE VISIT.

Above the clacking of the train wheels, Norma could almost hear Paul, her ex-husband, saying, "You're jealous, Norma—and fading slightly, too. Or perhaps I'm the one who's ageing. I've heard that as men get older they prefer their women younger and more unsophisticated—even a trifle dumb." He would pause there, and pull one corner of his mouth back into a deep indentation before he concluded, "Haven't you?"

Weary with battling her unseen foe, she finally dozed uncomfortably away. It was nearly seven when she arrived at Grand Central station. Struck by a pang of hunger, she realized that she had eaten scarcely anything all day. Downstairs, perched on a stool at the Oyster Bar, a Manhattan cocktail failed to bring her cheer. She ordered an oyster stew and found with the arrival of the food that her appetite had gone. She left her meal half finished and went upstairs to a row of phone booths where she searched thru the book for Paul Gerente. He was back in an apartment in Greenwich Village on West Twelfth street where he had lived prior to their marriage 10 years before.

Afterwards, when she looked back on that evening, her verdict was that a sense of furtiveness governed her acts all the way. Instead of going to the taxi exit and getting a cab, which she normally would have done, she walked thru the press of homeward bound, package laden commuters and dipped down into the east side subway. She caught an express to Fourteenth street and stood uneasily on the short ride downstown, conscious that the tired faces of women were eyeing her enviously, estimating the value of her furs.

When she came up into the neon lighted garishness of Fourteenth street she discovered that the snow had mixed slushily with rain. Reckless of the fact that the wet muddy streets were splashing her sheer stockings ruinously, she hurried along, head down, until she turned by Hearn's department store into the comparative quiet of Fifth avenue.

She stopped by the churchyard on the corner of Twelfth street and gazed up at Paul's windows a short distance away. A light shone under drawn blinds. Sleet struck sharply against the back of her neck, bringing with it a sobering touch of cold reality. It was followed by a moment of indecision. After an entire day of inner turmoil she was facing the ordeal of meeting Paul Gerente again without an intelligent word to say.

She forced herself to go on. Paul lived in a walkup. A taxi, with its windshield wipers working busily, swerved into the curb and stopped in front of Paul's apartment house when Norma was two doors away. Still motivated by a sense of doing something foolhardy and wrong, she stepped into the lighted vestibule of the house next to Paul's. Ostensibly reading names on the polished brass letter boxes, she watched the taxi thru the slanting rain and snow.

It may have been the familiar staccato click of high heels which told her that it was Babs descending the brownstone steps of the house next door. Possibly her overwrought senses were superkeen, and in the back of her mind she had expected all along to find Babs there. She huddled back as far as possible into a corner of the vestibule. She couldn't catch the words, but the cadence of Babs' voice was unmistakable as she hurriedly directed the driver where to go.

Norma suffered a bad moment as the taxi went into gear and pulled on by. She had but a flash of the girl as the gleam of a nearby street light passed like a bright shadow across Babs' golden hair. It stayed with Norma for years—that one brief glimpse of Barbara with her face buried in her slim, white hands.

There was retributive rage in her heart when she ascended the brownstone steps and rang Paul Gerente's bell.

The automatic opener on the door buzzed loudly, twice, startling her with its vibrant sound. She pushed open the door and stepped inside of the once familiar hall. It was little changed except that during the years it had been done over in blue. She had ascended four stairs when a voice called down from the second floor:

"Did you want Cameron?"

"No," said Norma weakly.

"Sorry," said the voice and she heard the closing of a door.

She went on up, tiring in the middle of the third flight as she'd done so many times before. On the top landing she stopped to regain her breath. A line of light showed along the edge of Paul's slightly open door. She walked hesitantly toward it, and with something approaching an effort raised the face of the tiny brass gargoyle which served as a knocker and let it fall.

From inside the apartment the same detestable clock which had startled her years before wound itself up with a whirr and cuckooed eight times lustily.

She pushed the door open and forced herself to laugh. "What's the matter, Paul? Aren't you receiving visitors tonight?"

A man in a cherry red dressing gown was stretched out face down in front of the fireplace. Burning logs crackled as tho the fire might have been freshly tended. The light from the flames jumped erratically, endowing with unnatural life the polished brass poker lying close to the man on the floor.

The scene held her with the powerful magic of horror. From loudly ticking clock to embroidered Chinese robe, which covered the grand piano, nothing had changed in the room. She absorbed all that unconsciously, vaguely sensing that the familiar objects, books, pictures, and furniture were keeping her from screaming. She fought a mad impulse to seat herself at the piano and play. The wild whirl of Tausig's gypsy dances might do what humans could never do—bring the corpse with the battered head to life; force him to rise in a dance macabre. Anything was preferable to stillness. Madness lay in such finality. Already she was feeling it freeze her, press her back against the wall. She must move before she grew as rigid as the man before the fire; before she toppled down beside him, stretched inertly in that darkened place on the carpet where his blood had ebbed away.

She began to play a frightful game. The man with the battered head was dead, but she had to pretend not to know. It was a game of deceptions and the stake was life, with an opponent she couldn't see. She must keep her eyes away from the curtained doors which led to another room; must give no sign that her mind was strong, that she knew when she rang downstairs—some one had answered Paul Gerente's bell!

Beyond the curtains to Paul's bedroom, soft as the fall of a playing card, something fluttered to the floor. The sound brought Norma to life again, gave her the strength to flee. She never knew how she got away, or what stopped her flight downstairs long enough to pick up Babs' furtopped galoshes which were dripping water in the hall outside Paul's door.

Once outside she wandered blindly down street after winding street, holding the galoshes in her hand, bucking gainst the storm. Deep in the maze of Greenwich Village she became aware that people were watching her. She was standing laughing hysterically into the plate glass window of an Italian patisserie.

There was menace in the voice of the news commentator. It lurked behind his vivid descriptions of marching feet and rolling caissons, made doubly strong by words he couldn't say. Subtly, with sharp clean-cutting phrases, he pictured the forces of a nation on the move; told of women and children waiting for death in huddled groups; hinted at the terror which gripped the world when a country was wiped from the map of Europe in a day.

Capt. Duncan Maclain pressed the control button at the side of his desk. The voice from the Capehart radio stopped abruptly. The captain touched sensitive fingers to his sightless eyes and sat very still. At his feet under the desk, Schnucke, his Seeing Eye dog, was caught by the darkness of the usually bright penthouse office and the solemnity of her master's mood. She whimpered slightly and comforted herself by resting her warm chin on the toe of the captain's shoe.

"War, Schnucke!" said Duncan Maclain. "You're lucky to be a dog in days like these. You're living in a world gone mad with senseless slaughter—a world that's blind. Blind, as the last war blinded me!"

The eve of Thanksgiving is an exciting time for a hostess who plans to have a large tableful of guests at the feast. The biggest job at hand is preparing and stuffing the turkey, so that he'll be all ready for the oven in the morning. Then the linens, dishes, and glassware must be checked, and the silver polished. A centerpiece must be decided upon and prepared.

Cranberry sauce or relish may be readied the night before, too, and if the salad is to be a jellied or frozen one, that may be gotten out of the way.

Taking the menu suggested today as a model for a Thanksgiving feast, these are the things I'd want to have done the day before, or earlier, in some cases. Such planning ahead enables a hostess to be calm and unflustered on Thanksgiving morning, and almost guarantees the success of her meal.

JOBS TO BE DONE DAY BEFORE THANKSGIVING.

1. Pinfeather, singe, stuff and refrigerate turkey.

2. Prepare pomegranate cocktail and store it in a covered fruit jar in the refrigerator.

3. Have giblets cooked and sliced or chopped, and store them in their broth, in a covered jar in the refrigerator. They'll then be ready for the gravy.

4. Clean the celery and wrap it in a damp cloth. Refrigerate.

5. Prepare cranberry and orange relish [raw, ground cranberries, orange, and sugar].

6. Start dough for refrigerator rolls and chill it. If there isn't going to be room in the refrigerator for a bowlful of dough and a big turkey, start the rolls in the morning.

7. Clean greens for salad and wrap in a damp cloth. Chill. Have French dressing ready and chill that, too.

8. Order ice cream or, if it's to be homemade, make it.

9. Make refrigerator cookie dough and store it to be baked in the morning.

10. Roast and salt nuts, or order them ready prepared.

That's quite a schedule of tasks for the day before Thanksgiving, but the more work out of the way, the better. And almost every cook will find willing hands to help her if she scouts around a bit.

For the tray of cheese and crackers to be served tomorrow evening, I'd suggest purchasing Camembert, American cheese, and brick. If you'd like a fourth kind, choose a spread. There are many sharp and tasty varieties from which to chose. Roquefort spread, stilton in wine, and limburger spread are suggestions. It's nice to have variety in the crackers, too. Whole wheat, celery seed, English biscuits, and rye wafers might be included. It is possible to buy an assortment in one package.

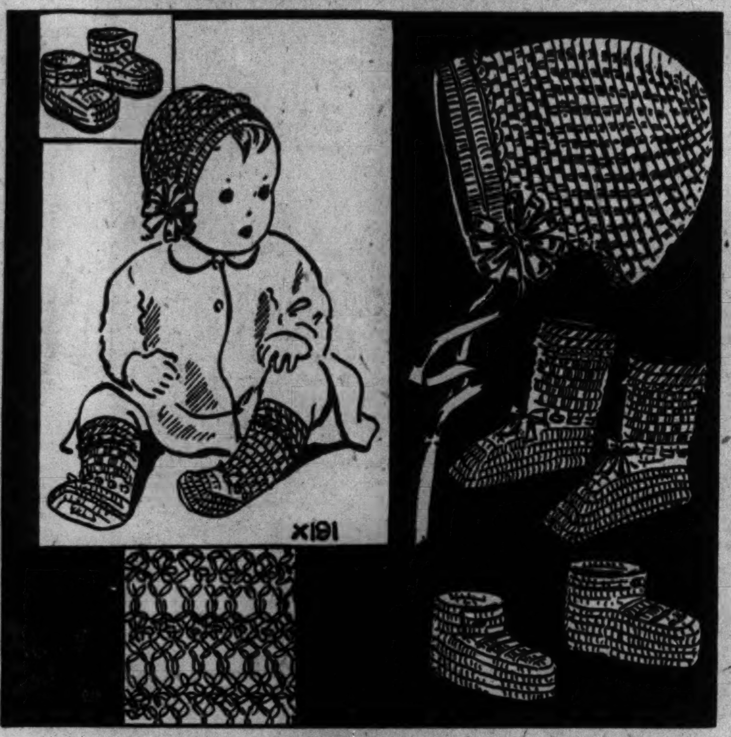
Gifts for the New Baby



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

These crocheted shoes, bootees, and cap are an ideal gift suggestion for the newborn baby. They require little time to create and afford a personalized touch so typical of handmade presents. Fine saxony or angora is used and is available in lovely pinks and blues, as well as white.

For instructions in crocheting the shoes, bootees and cap, No. X-191, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

As I announced yesterday, Question 1 of the recent examination was a battleground, but in the following five questions, serenity was restored, that is, the majority of examinees found my official answers to their liking. Then came Questior 7.

Only East-West vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	1 spade	?

You are South, and hold:
♠A J 9 7 ♥Q 10 4 ♦J 6 ♣K 10 8 3
What call do you make?

I must admit that I was surprised to find so few examinees stringing along with the official answer, "double," even tho the reluctance of the average player to make penalty doubles at the one or two level is well known. Here, I felt, was the clearest possible case. East-West were vulnerable, North-South were not. North opened the bidding with one diamond, South's shortest and weakest suit. East overcalled in a suit in which South had three virtually sure tricks. South also had enough strength in the unbid suits to stifle any fear that the opponents might safely rescue themselves. With an opening bid from North, a vulnerable overcall from East, and more than two honor tricks in the South hand, it was absurd to hope that, if South overcalled the spade, the opponents would voluntarily go higher. Finally, South was not so strong that he had to fear he would be passing up a slam by doubling a mere one spade.

In short, conditions were exactly right for a penalty double on South's part, and those examinees who charitably rescued East, the opponent, by overcalling with one no trump or any other bid, were justly demerited.

Incidentally, to my astonishment, thousands of examinees answered "pass." I must admit that this action did not even occur to me, hence I did not provide for it in the list of demerits. As stated above, it is absurd for South to expect further voluntary bidding from the opponents, hence a pass, whether of the "trap" variety or otherwise, draws 40 points demerit.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	1 spade	Pass	2 clubs
2 hearts	2 spades	3 hearts	3 spades
Pass	4 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened the king of diamonds and held the trick. Without bothering to analyze the hand he next led a card of the other suit his partner had bid, hearts. Dummy's ace won and a diamond was returned. East won, saw the danger, and returned a trump, but it was too late.

South won and ruffed two diamonds in dummy and two hearts in his own hand. Two more rounds of trumps compelled East to discard. To avoid establishing South's diamond ten, East had to hang on to the diamond ace. With great reluctance, therefore, he released his king of hearts.

South promptly led the ten of diamonds and East had to win with the ace. The forced club lead then gave declarer his game.

West should have realized that South had a spade-diamond two-suiter. The dummy, in conjunction with the bidding, fairly shrieked for a trump lead. As a matter of fact, even a club lead would have defeated the contract since it would have killed the throw-in.

As East remarked, more in sorrow than in anger: "Sometimes I wish my partners knew nothing about bridge. Then, at least, I'd have a fair chance when two leads out of three would defeat a contract."

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 19.—Samuel Goldwyn has been a little hurt about all the talk that Gary Cooper will go over to Paramount for the lead in Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls." "I've got Cooper under contract," he says, "and nobody has asked me."

Paramount recently issued a formal statement that it didn't have Cooper for the rôle of Robert Jordan. There's a chance that it will get him, of course—and there is also a chance, as I reported some time ago, that Clark Gable will have it. One thing is certain: any leading man in Hollywood would give his shirt for the job. The whole issue may be settled before this reaches print, but, going on the assumption that it won't be, the subject of "trading position" comes up.

Ever since Paramount bought the book and Cooper's name was automatically linked with it, Hollywoodians have been asking, "But how can they get Cooper or Gable? They've got nobody to trade."

Picture casting is often a horse trading affair. Samuel Goldwyn wanted the Warner Brothers' Bette Davis for "The Little Foxes," and the Warners wanted Gary Cooper for "Sergeant York"—so a swap was the obvious thing to make, and was made. The Warners are ahead of Paramount on Cooper's services.

In the last year or two horse trading has dwindled for two reasons. For one, Uncle Sam's Thurman Arnold has been muttering "monopoly," and a good deal of the old family trading has stopped or almost stopped. Used to be that 20th-Fox could borrow a Metro star, for Fox's Bill Goetz is related by marriage to Metro's L. B. Mayer. For a second reason, several studios, under pressure from New York to cut down overhead, have all but eliminated their star contract players. Two of these are Paramount and RKO. In order not to have to pay stars when they're idle they have slashed the contract list. Paramount can't trade Bing Crosby or Bob Hope or Claudette Colbert for Cooper because it doesn't own them body and soul.

Biggest of the contract lists is Metro's. It has been lending Rosalind Russell around for a couple of seasons. Robert Montgomery recently went to RKO for "Mr. and Mrs. Smith," even tho no horse trade was involved. Once, to spank him, it lent Clark Gable to Columbia. At the same time Paramount, to spank her, lent Claudette Colbert to the same outfit. The result was painful to both lenders, for the spankees made a historic hit, "It Happened One Night."

Among Metro's recent loans have been Laraine Day to Walter Wanger for "Foreign Correspondent," James Stewart to Warners for "No Time for Comedy," and George Murphy to RKO for "A Guy, a Girl, and a Gob." Billie Burke will soon go to Hal Roach for a picture. Because of its large list the studio has the predominant trading position. It doesn't often borrow an actor. George Saunders was the most recent visitor, having come over from Fox to play the villain in "Bittersweet." But its loans are advantageous. They keep the actors busy when there is nothing for them on the home lot—often at an advanced salary. Sometimes the loan of an actor will be made in return for rights to a show. Walter Pidgeon was farmed out to Universal and in return Universal gave Metro the still unexercised right to a remake of "Show Boat."

Birthdays—Norman Thomas was born on this date. He ended a cycle this year and in 1941 begins a new cycle of nine years, as do all those born on this date. Next year would be a good time to start out on a new project, to do something original, or to take a new angle. If this is your birthday you ought to wait a few months before taking any aggressive action, then plan carefully and by the latter half of the year have your mind made up on what new course you are going to follow—then put everything you've got behind it.

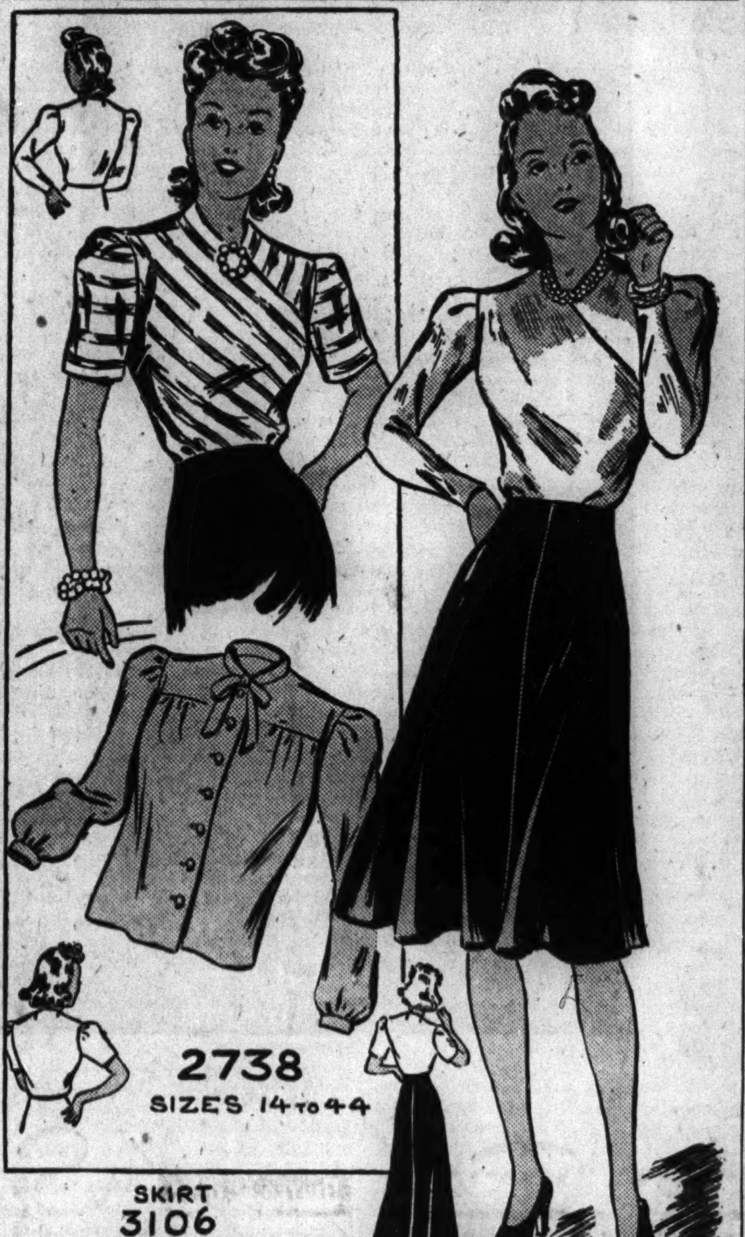
Blouse and Skirt Fashions



BLOUSE AND SKIRT FASHIONS.

Blouses and skirts are going to the most elegant functions these days, as well as to the office, the classroom and to market. Such wardrobe items may be as dressy or utilitarian as you please. We think you will like today's two patterns, since they fashion a simple surplice blouse and a plain paneled skirt.

Style No. 2738 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 1⅞ yards of 39 inch material for surplice blouse; 2⅛ yards for tailored style.

Style No. 3106 is designed for waist sizes 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, and 34. Size 28 requires 1⅞ yards of 54 inch fabric. Skirt also may be made in evening length.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully, for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Of course, you remember the little flat box filled with paints, pencils and brushes that provided so much fun when you were in the mood to draw pictures as a child. Well, that box is back again, only you use it now to do your face properly. It's rather fun, especially if you're the kind of a woman who takes the business of making up with some seriousness.

It's the same flat box, but the paints are quite different. In one we saw there are eight pencil sticks lined up in a neat row. Five of these pencils are actually slim lipsticks in a grand range of colors that give you tones that run from a flippant pinky-red all the way to a marvelous color called "black tulip." This last is one of those dark, rich shades that are the lipstick hit of the season.

The remaining three pencils are for eyebrows. Tucked beneath these is a long, slim, pointed brush, for outlining the lips with the utmost precision and tidiness.

On the flat side of the box are the colors with which you work. There are three little containers of dry rouge, in a variety of shades; three containers of eye shadows in a smoke-tone, a blue and a green; and three of cream rouge, in colors that repeat those of the dry kind. Then there are three tubes of mascara in the conventional blue, brown and black, each with its own little brush tucked neatly beside it.

Some fun, don't you think?

"SICK!" THE DAY SHE'D LOOKED FORWARD TO FOR WEEKS, RUINED BY "REGULAR" PAIN

The idea of suffering, giving-in to functional pain of menstruation, has become old-fashioned! With Midol, millions of women keep active and comfortable right through their trying days.

Midol is a new formula developed for its special purpose. It contains no opiates. One comforting ingredient is prescribed frequently by thousands of doctors—and for further relief another ingredient, used exclusively in Midol, aids in reducing the spasmodic pain peculiar to the menstrual period.

If you have no organic disorder calling for medical or surgical treatment, Midol should help you. Why not try it? Then, if your "regular" pain isn't eased, see your doctor. All drugstores have Midol. Five tablets—more than enough for a convincing trial—only 20¢; 12 tablets in a trim aluminum case, 40¢.

Good Morning!

Here's a casual and entertaining comedy of errors with an odd football slant. Odd because the contestants [two of them] do their combating in private life.

You meet them in jail, where they have been thrust after a battle following a big game in which Andy Manson of Northern something or other and his team had lost to Tod Lowell et al. of Southern State. . . . And, periodically from then on, jail is where they land, to be twinklingly reprimanded and lightly fined by a judge who is first of all a football fan. . . .

Tod's engaged to Betty, a café entertainer, when the picture opens. . . . But fell circumstance causes him to fall for Andy's girl, daughter of Mr. Morgan, an important piece in Dad Lowell's jigsaw puzzle which he hopes will come out pretty showing him as governor of the state. . . .

With mamma's and papa's rooting one one side of the fence and Betty and Andy yipping on the other the position of Tod and "Trudy" on top is, as you may surmise, somewhat precarious and breedful of surprise. But they know ways to jump, so . . . ! SO.

Neat little film. Mighty well acted.

See you tomorrow.

AMUSEMENTS.

Flowered Hats Send Thoughts to Sunny Lands

BY REA SEEGER.

A midseason showing of millinery confections designed for wear with cocktail costume, theater and dinner clothes made every one think longingly of south sea isles or other spots where flowers bloom in tropical profusion! For nearly every hat was made of delicate pastel flowers and buds, and hats themselves in garland or head dress formations, not the usual turban masses.

One was made of twin bunches of pale pink, white and red hyacinths held together with crossed thin straps of red. Another worn over the top of the head to form a garland like a lei was of white snowdrops. Another was a dramatically long snood with long stemmed violets fastened so the violets hung head down.

One lovely pale pink satin ribbon hat had a matching pink silk rose. There was a white grosgrain ribbon hat somewhat like a cossack turban trimmed with fringe frayed out of the ribbon. A Spanish hat of bright blue felt had a sharply upturned brim that rolled back over the forehead. A reddish pink rose was attached at the high side and a new kind of snood covered the back of the hair-do, a snood made of rows and rows of narrow black lace frilled onto a fine mesh background.

Old faded blue and parma violet colored soft felt is in fashion again. An off-the-face hat of pale blue felt is trimmed with a meandering design of black sequin banding. Violet felt is used for small hats loaded with violets or a single rose or gardenia.

The entire collection is the most romantic roundup of midseason trifles ever unpacked. Such toppers will revive the most jaded shoppers . . . one of them will see you thru the wildest Christmas shopping binge with distinction and aplomb.

REQUEST 68 NEW EMPLOYES FOR COUNTY OFFICES

Toman Wants Delinquent Tax Collectors.

Requests to add 68 employés to the pay rolls of county fee offices in 1941 were submitted yesterday to the Circuit court judges' committee on help. Under the law, the committee's recommendation must be accepted by the county board.

Treasurer John Toman proposed the establishment of a new delinquent tax division. The bureau would require $98,000 for 42 employés and $27,000 more for supplies, Toman said.

Approval of the plan was urged by the Chicago Association of Commerce. James A. Cunningham, chairman of the association's tax delinquency committee, told the judges' committee that adoption of the plan would put tax collections on a business basis. He said tests showed that for every $1 for tax collections $125 would be brought in. The plan is expected to produce 25 millions a year, Cunningham said.

Make Search of Records.

Employés of the proposed bureau would make a thoro search of tax records, title records, and litigation on a piece of property, and then survey its physical and financial condition. The owner would be interviewed, a plan of payment would be worked out, and court action would be taken if necessary.

The judges will hear what other county officials think of the plan Tuesday, when another hearing will be held.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien requested permission to hire a radio technician and to add 25 highway policemen to the present staff of 125. Sheriff O'Brien said more police are needed to handle an increasing number of requests from the federal bureau of investigation concerning reports of sabotage and subversive activities. Added policing is needed in unincorporated areas because many newly built homes are unprotected, he added.

Conroy Surprises Judges.

John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, surprised the judges by asking permission to drop an investigator and two general clerks and add only one employé, a minute clerk. He said the investigator was hired to check delinquent accounts of parents, who are supposed to support their children placed in county institutions. Conroy said most of the parents could not be found. He charged that County Judge Jarecki refused to permit the investigtaor to examine voters' registration lists in an effort to trace the parents.

The committee members are Judges Robert J. Dunne, Walter J. La Buy, and Julius H. Miner.

FOUR YEAR TERM METED TO WEISS, HUEY LONG CRONY

New Orleans, La., Nov. 19 (AP).—Seymour Weiss, hotel executive and the late Senator Huey Long's most intimate political associate, pleaded guilty in federal court today to four indictments and was sentenced to four years in prison.

Weiss cleared the docket of federal charges against him as he appeared with his counsel to surrender and start serving a 30 month term for mail fraud conviction in the $75,000 Louisiana State university "double-dip" sale of hotel furnishings. The 30 month sentence will run concurrently with the 4 year term.

Weiss pleaded guilty today to three income tax law violation charges and a hot oil charge. In the hot oil case he was charged jointly with former Gov. Richard W. Leche and Freeman W. Burford, Texas oil magnate.

How much Stuffing Stuffs a 12-lb. Bird?

The product-testing work of Good Housekeeping Laboratories goes far beyond a product's quality : : : We also check all recipes, advertising claims and labels : : : For example—

A WELL-FATTENED, toothsome turkey, as all good homemakers know, will weigh anywhere from 8 to 20 pounds, depending on the size of the bird when killed.

And the stuffing is a very important part of the roasted turkey that's set, steaming hot, on your Thanksgiving table, isn't it?

Suppose, then, you had bought a 12-lb. bird and saw, on your grocer's shelf, a box of dressing which stated it contained "enough for a 6-lb. bird". : .Two packages of this stuffing would just do for your turkey, wouldn't they?

"No" would have been the correct answer in the case of one brand of poultry stuffing which we tested recently. One box of this product, we found, was not enough to stuff a bird weighing 4 lbs. Obviously, two boxes would have been lost in a 12-lb. turkey.

We also found that a meat-loaf recipe, printed on the label, was inaccurate : : : Our Seal of Approval was not granted.

So, we wrote the manufacturer:—

"We shall be glad to have you correct these conditions and re-submit samples. In the meantime, we feel that the product does not merit our Seal of Approval."

Knowing how impractical most men are about cooking, we were not surprised when the manufacturer wrote us:

"I had never personally checked up on the size bird a package would stuff . . . We would appreciate an opportunity to re-submit samples."

We re-tested the new samples, recommended a new meat-loaf recipe which was accepted by the manufacturer : : : Wrote him that "we have found these new samples satisfactory and for that reason are placing the product on our Tested and Approved List."

A CONSTRUCTIVE APPROACH

Good Housekeeping Laboratories, you see, make it a point to ask the sort of questions you would ask before a product carrying our Seal of Approval reaches you, the consumer : : : And this Seal gives you a protection which goes far beyond a product's quality.

Yet despite our insistence on detail, Good Housekeeping's approach to manufacturers is not one of destructive, pointless persecution.

Whereas one out of every five products submitted to us for testing is turned down, 60% of these products are re-submitted in improved form : : : Are finally approved when they meet our written standards. (Copies of these standards, by the way, are available to schoolteachers or interested persons on request to Good Housekeeping Institute.)

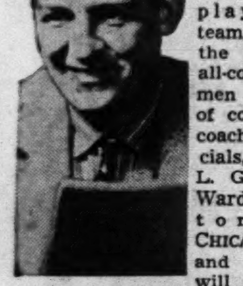
PLAYERS READY TO BALLOT ON MOST VALUABLE

Nine Eligible for Tribune Trophy.

BY WILFRID SMITH.



Red Grange.

At the conclusion of Saturday's games Western conference players will concentrate on selection of the most valuable players. Each squad will choose the most valuable player to its team, and from the list of nine all-conference men a committee of conference coaches, nine officials, Maj. John L. Griffith, Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and the writer, will name the most valuable player in the conference.

Since the award was first made in 1924 to Red Grange, the group has included some of the finest football men in the nation. Last year, Nile Kinnick of Iowa, was chosen by an overwhelming vote as the most valuable player to his team in the conference. The award might just as well read "most valuable player in the nation." Kinnick's forward passes and his intelligent direction of attack sent the Hawkeyes into second position in the conference. This year Kinnick's exceptional ability was appreciated all the more when Iowa lost four consecutive games. Even in the surprising victory over Notre Dame last week, the Hawkeyes did not have the spark Kinnick gave them in the 1939 victory.

'Twill Be Close Race.

The choice this year will be far more difficult than in recent seasons, altho there was only one point difference between Corby Davis, Indiana full back, winner of the silver trophy, and Cecil Isbell, Purdue half back, in 1937. Davis' value to the Hoosier eleven could not be denied, but in retrospect, Isbell's performance since graduation marks him as one of the finest players in football history.

Some may think that Joe Mernik of Minnesota is the most valuable player this year. It is true that Mernik kicked the point after one touchdown that defeated Northwestern, 13 to 12, and his point after Bruce Smith's 80 yard touchdown run whipped Michigan, 7 to 6. But Mernik would not have had the opportunity to kick these winning points if Smith and his mates had not scored.

There Are Many Candidates.

Tom Harmon of Michigan unquestionably is the outstanding player of the Big Nine. Altho Michigan lost to Minnesota for the third consecutive year, Harmon did not fail to keep his place in the gridiron sun. Others, however, may believe that Harmon would not be nearly as great a player without the blocking of Capt. Forest Evashevski. By electing Evashevski captain the Wolverines have concurred in this.

Will George Paskvan be selected as the most valuable player at Wisconsin, as he was last year? His ability to hit the line is matched by splendid defensive ability.

At Iowa, Bill Green, whose two runs were important in the 24 yard attack that defeated Notre Dame [Green also scored the touchdown] and Mike Enich are prominent.

It's Up to Players.

John Petty or Mike Byelene at Purdue, or, perhaps, Capt. Dave Rankin; Ohio State's Jim Langhurst, named the most valuable as a sophomore in 1938, and Illinois' Dick Good, accurate forward passer, are other candidates.

Hal Hursh, Indiana's league leading forward passer, is another possibility. Northwestern has a difficult problem, for Ollie Hahnenstein, premier back field star, may be beaten in the squad vote by Corne Aarts, tackle; Paul Hiemenz, center; Don Clawson, or almost any other of the Wildcats' spirited squad.

The selection of most valuable candidates rests with the players. Scholastic year, age, and fraternity mean nothing. The players will name their candidates. From this list comes the most valuable player in the 17th annual election.

Rene LaCoste Made Head of French Tennis Body

VICHY, Nov. 19.—Rene La Coste former French Davis cup star, today was nominated head of the French Tennis federation under the general scheme of regulating sports in this country.

Speary Defeats Jeffra in 10 Round Nontitle Bout

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 19 (AP).—Billy Speary, 127, of Nanticoke scored a 10 round decision over featherweight champion Harry Jeffra, 126, of Baltimore, in a nontitle bout tonight.

N. U. BUILDS UP DEFENSE AGAINST JUZWIK, SAGGAU

Notre Dame's Line Holds Weight Advantage.

"Northwestern never underestimates Notre Dame." With that statement Coach Lynn Waldorf yesterday set at rest any prospect that the Wildcats will be the least bit overconfident in their last game of the season with the Irish at Dyche stadium Saturday.

"There is no question," Waldorf continued, "but that we face our hardest game of the season Saturday. From the start of the year our scouts have informed us that Notre Dame is a dangerous team and we are not inclined to alter that opinion. This Notre Dame team hasn't played its peak game yet and there is every reason to think that Saturday will be the day."

Irish Outweigh N. U.

Waldorf disclaimed reports from South Bend which picture the Irish as under dogs. He pointed out that Notre Dame will outweigh Northwestern in the line five pounds per man and that the South Bend team possesses superior reserve strength both in the line and back field.

After Monday's layoff from practice, the Wildcats resumed workouts yesterday in which they concentrated on building a defense for the Irish attack. Particular stress was paid to erecting a defense against the running of Steve Juzwik and the passing of Bob Saggau.

The Wildcats place considerable hope on Red Hahnenstein to match the Irish ball carriers. Hahnenstein comes up to his final college game with one of the best ball carrying records of any back in the Big Nine. In six conference games he has gained 322 yards in 55 attempts for a 5.8 yards average per carry. Besides leading all Wildcat backs in ball carrying, the Aurora veteran is also the team's leading passer. He has completed nine out of 13 passes for 203 yards.

13 to Play Last Game.

Saturday's game will wind up the college careers of 13 members of the Wildcat squad. In addition to Hahnenstein the other senior backs are Paul Soper, Irwin Madsen, and Dick Richards. Senior line men include Corne Aarts and Jim Kloote, tackles; Joe Lokanc and George Zorich, guards; Jim Smith, Al Butherus, and Chuck Horvath, ends; Paul Hiemenz and John Kloote, centers. Zorich, who has had but two years of competition, can compete next year if he elects to return to school.

NOTRE DAME SCRIMMAGES.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special]. —Coach Elmer Layden ordered scrimmage for all Notre Dame teams except the first club today. It was one of the latest season skirmishes in recent years, but, he explained, "they showed they needed it."

Bob Osterman, center, and Steve Juzwik, right half back, will be ready for Saturday's Northwestern game at Evanston, Trainer Eugene Young reported. Osterman, who had to be helped off the field in the Iowa game, has nothing more serious than a painful bruise on his left shin.

Juzwik successfully survived an examination for possible appendicitis, the deciding factor being that his appendix had been removed when he was 8 years old. No explanation of the stomach distress he has experienced in the last four games was forthcoming.

WADE KILLEFER SUCCEEDS ENS AT INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special].—Wade Killefer of Hermosa Beach, Cal., today was named manager of the Indianapolis American Association baseball team to succeed Jewell Ens. Killefer served as manager of the Indians from 1933 thru 1937 and left to manage Hollywood in the Pacific Coast league, where he remained for three years.

Ens will return to the Cincinnati Reds to succeed Jimmy Wilson, new manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Ray Florek (left), full back, and Dick Barwegan, guard, co-captains of the unbeaten Fenger High school eleven, which will play two games in three days. Fenger meets Pullman Tech tomorrow, then clashes with Lindblom Saturday in the public school finals on Soldiers' field.

Fear Fenger? That's Just What Lindblom Doesn't Do!

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

It requires only a trip to the vicinity of 61st street and Wolcott avenue to find one group which believes Fenger's long string of football victories will come to an end Saturday. It's Coach E. Lansford Moore, mathematics teacher and football coach, and his Lindblom players, who meet Fenger in Soldiers' field for the Public School league championship and the right to play in Mayor Kelly's All-City game on Nov. 30.

Mr. Moore, who is very quick at figures, has determined that the defending champions, hailed as a "team with shoulders like barn doors and legs like tree trunks" by Bill Heiland, Austin coach, are no bigger than the central division champions. Furthermore, Mr. Moore believes Fenger's fleet backs can be stopped.

Perhaps Lines Were Weak.

"Fenger has fast backs in Henry Stevenson, Ray Florek, Joe Kredens, and Bruno Pocius," said Moore. "In the games I saw Fenger play this season these backs had very little difficulty breaking out into the open. My personal observation was that these holes which the backs slipped thru would have been plugged up by an alert line. Fenger has a great record and a fine team, but it can be beaten, and we at Lindblom are glad to have the opportunity to meet them for the championship. Fenger may be an overwhelming favorite to many, but the game is a toss-up to us.

"We'll have a better idea about it after Fenger's game with Pullman Tech Thursday."

A glance at the Fenger and Lindblom weight charts reveals a college or professional team flavor. Each line averages 191 pounds. Four members of Fenger's regular line are 6 feet tall or over, while the three others are slightly under that figure. Lindblom also has four players who stand 6 feet or more.

Each Has Strong Defense.

The strength of Fenger and Lindblom forward walls is shown in the defensive records. Only three touchdowns were scored against Lindblom in eight Public School league contests. Fenger's opponents succeeded only twice in crossing the champion's goal line. Offensively, Fenger's record is matchless, as 355 points in eight league games attest. However, Coach Moore, whose team scored 209 points, explains that Fenger's scores were compiled against weak teams in the south section, while Lindblom encountered stronger opponents in the central division. The linemen Coach Moore plans to send against Fenger and their weights are:

Carl Schiller, 160, and Warren Toren, 187, ends; Jack Heeren, 206, and Frank Laudanski, 189, tackles; Edward Chyba, 170, and Harold Davis, 200, guards, and Don Copelan, 227, center. The backfield will be composed of Al Ozouf, 187, left half; Ray Senkowski, 186, right half, John Webright, 149, quarter back, and Harry Wilkin, 184, full back.

Ozouf, a senior who is 6 feet tall, is rated by Coach Moore as one of the greatest pass catchers he has seen in his 27 years in the Public School league. Senkowski, the team's leading scorer, is a brilliant line plunger.

Fenger's linemen who started against Schurz and may be named by Coach Chuck Palmer to open against Lindblom include:

Wayne Bridge, 165, and Garrett Prince, 158, ends; Richard Barwegan, 195, and Sam Filippo, 192, guards; Clare DeValk, 220, and Al Zussa, 220, tackles; and Kimball Howes, 187, center.

Florek, full back, at 182, is the heaviest in the starting backfield; Kredens, left half, weighs 169; Stevenson, quarter back, 150, and Pocius, right half, 163.

Al Davis Banned and Fined $2,500 for Fouling Zivic

Al Davis.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—The heaviest penalty ever imposed on a fighter by the New York state athletic commission was pinned on Al [Bummy] Davis today for the tactics which caused his disqualification in the second round of his fight with Fritzie Zivic last Friday

The commission revoked Davis' license and penalized him $2,500 of his $11,340 share of the gate from the fiasco in Madison Square Garden, in which Referee Billy Cavanaugh stopped the fight after Davis had struck the welterweight champion in foul territory several times in the second round.

Commissioner Bill Brown said that while the commission does not have the power to revoke a license for life, there will have to be a new commission before Al gets another permit to fight in New York.

Boxing officials of Pennsylvania and New Jersey immediately agreed with the New York action. Abe Greene, Jersey commissioner, sent a letter stating he would concur with whatever the New York body does. Leon Rains, Pennsylvania chairman, paying a visit at the New York commission offices, pointed out that Davis does not have a license in Pennsylvania, and couldn't get one now.

TWO NEW HAWKS FLY RIGHT INTO REGULAR JOBS

MacKay, Bentley to Face Bruins; Portland Sold.

David [Red] MacKay and Max Bentley, two of the six young men who were farmed to the Providence Reds after the Chicago Blackhawks' training season a few weeks ago, and who were suddenly recalled on Monday, did not come to our town just for the ride on the airplane from which they landed yesterday.

A glance at the two lads' endeavors in the strenuous workout of the Hawks in the Chicago Stadium yesterday convinced Manager Paul Thompson he should give them their opportunity as regular hands come tomorrow night, when the Hawks meet the fearsome Boston Bruins on the Stadium ice.

Coincident with the decision to get the 21 year old MacKay and the 20 year old Bentley into big league regimentals tomorrow evening was the announcement that Jack Portland, the big defense man who has been with the Hawks since last year, had been sold outright to the Montreal Canadiens for an undisclosed sum.

Portland Brings Fancy Price.

This sale, according to Hawk officials, was not made just to make room for MacKay, for they made it plain that large John is in excellent condition. The reason for the transaction was said to be the attractive price offered by the Canadiens.

Nevertheless, the exit of Portland from the Chicago rear guard detail does make way for a place for MacKay, who will get his start on a line with Joe Cooper, the other defensive twosome of Earl Seibert and Art Wiebe working as before. All of this transacting, of course, fits in with the Hawks' plan of last year—to start 'em young—as promulgated by Manager Thompson and President Bill Tobin.

Bentley completes a second team of brother forwards, since he will work on a line at center with his brother Doug, the left wing who proved to be one of the fastest rookies in the league last year, and Right Wing Phil Hergesheimer.

The Bentleys Go for Hockey.

The other fraternal duo consists of the Brothers Carse, Bill and Bob, who, unlike the Bentleys, don't work on the same forward line. The Bentleys are rated the greatest hockey family in Canada, there having been six of them waving ice shillelahs, but never in the same big league degree as the Conachers and the Cooks.

MacKay, speaking of the talented Conachers, is a pretty handy man himself. He's more than the 210 pound redhead who impressed Thompson in the recent training endeavors in Hibbing, Minn. He's a graduate mining engineer from the University of Alberta, and was the head man on the university's football [Canadian style] team.

TONY ZALE WINS OVER APOSTOLI IN TEN ROUNDS

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19 (AP).—Tony Zale of Chicago, recognized by the National Boxing association as world middleweight champion, won a 10 round decision tonight over Freddie Apostoli, former holder of the New York-California title. Zale weighed 161½, Apostoli 164¾.

Zale clinched victory by flooring Apostoli as the fight ended. The bell ended the fight as Referee Tom Clark reached the count of seven over the former San Francisco bellhop.

Zale had scored two knockdowns in the sixth round, one for a nine count.

Apostoli put up a strong, aggressive scrap in the early rounds and came back strong to hold even in furious exchanges in the 9th and 10th, before the final knockdown.

Fight Decisions

At Seattle, Wash. — Tony Zale beat Fred Apostoli [10].

At Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Billy Speary beat Harry Jeffra [10].

YOU can have Bronko Nagurski, Dutch Clark, Ernie Caddel, or Joe Stydahar as your all time, all professional football players. . . . But Potsy Clark, coach of the Detroit Lions, who has been connected with the game for 30 years, wants Bill Hewitt. . . . "I'll pick Nagurski as the greatest full back professional football has developed," Clark explained when we asked him to name the one man he thought had stood out above all others. . . . "I think Dutch Clark was the finest left half back the National Football league has had, and the same goes for Ernie Caddel at right half back," he added. . . . "But when you ask me to name the one man who ranks as the greatest I have seen, I must answer the question in my own way. . . . Suppose I wanted 11 players on my team who would come closest to giving me an all time All-American. . . . Do you think I would choose 11 Nagurskis or 11 Clarks or 11 Caddels? . . . No, sir, I'd want 11 Bill Hewitts. . . . Hewitt was big enough and strong enough to hold his own physically with any one. . . . He had the best ear on offense and the quickest eye on defense I ever have seen. . . . He always outcharged his opponent, and if I had seven men along the line who could outcharge their seven opponents, my team wouldn't have much to worry about. . . . For a change we herewith present a musical special—Vito Vitucci of Navy. . . . Jimmy Dykes collected three $5 bets from Chicago baseball writers this fall. . . . They wagered he would be tossed out five times by umpires in the 1940 race. . . . He restrained himself so well he was chased only twice. . . . Motion pictures of California's rocker shift have been sent to the football rules committee. . . . A poll of Pacific Coast conference coaches decided it was illegal. . . . All of the leading professional flyweight fighters are of foreign birth. . . . Champion Little Dado is a Filipino. . . . So is Little Pancho. . . . Jackie Peterson is from England and Enrico Urbanati from Italy. . . . All-America pickers in appraising Michigan's Tom Harmon apparently have overlooked his greatest asset—an All-America heart. . . . Harmon has been a marked man every time he has stepped on a college gridiron. . . . When opponents tackle him they give an extra oomph, for they know Harmon never is stopped until he is down. . . . Never have we seen him hesitate a second in rising from the turf after he has been tackled, and there certainly have been occasions when he must have longed for time to rest his bruises. . . . Only a thorobred can come up smiling under punishment Harmon has taken. . . . Lee Artoe, the Bears' right tackle, who played his best game against the Redskins Sunday, was ill of influenza the day before the contest.

Thanksgiving.

When the autumn skies are gray and cold
And the color's left the heather,
When the pumpkins have their robe of gold
And the turkey's in full feather,

The corn shocks dressed in their golden tan
And the stubble's filled with pheasant,
That will touch the heart of any man
And make his life more pleasant.

When the maples take on their gold and red
That stands out against the sky,
When the quail begin to bob their heads
And flush when you pass by,

When some one seems to take your hand
And say, See what God has given,
That will open the eyes of any man
And make his life worth livin',

When the autumn skies and tints of gold
Are at their height of beauty,
We should remember, and not be told,
That we have a sacred duty.

It does not matter how we fare,
Or how we have been living,
We should offer, thanks in prayer,
On the day made for Thanksgiving.

LAST NIGHTS RESULTS.

N. Y. Rangers, 3; N. Y. Americans, 2.

Boston, 4; Detroit, 4.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 19 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings wasted only 9 of their 13 shots to come from behind to gain a 4 to 4 overtime tie with the Boston Bruins tonight before a crowd of 9,000.

The Bruins, who were the league champions last season, were making their fifth attempt to score their first victory. They now have tied two and lost three.

Motter Stars for Detroit.

Alex Motter, the Red Wings' defense man, supplied much of the power needed to gain the deadlock. He caged a 30 footer while the Bruins were leading, 4 to 2, early in the third period and on his next turn on the ice he fed Syd Howe before the latter rifled a 50 foot shot thru Goalie Frankie Brimsek for the tying point.

During the last two regular periods, the Red Wings scored three times on seven shots aimed at the Boston cage.

Howe opened the scoring in the first period without assistance and Mel Hill got the Bruins rolling in the second session with a rink length solo scoring dash.

Less than a minute fater Hill broke the ice for Boston, Roy Conacher countered and, before the second period ended, Art Jackson and Herb Cain followed his example.

Makes 9 Stops.

The Bruins appeared to have clinched their first victory in four starts until Motter swung into his effective action in the third period. While being scored upon four times, Goalie Frank Brimsek stopped only nine other Detroit shots during the 70 minutes of play. The Bruins aimed a total of 37 at Johnny Mowers' cage, including the four that went in it for goals.

RANGERS WIN, 3 TO 2

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—The New York Rangers staved off a third period drive by the New York Americans tonight to win the first National hockey league game between the two clubs this season, 3 to 2.

The Stanley cup holders took a 3-0 lead in the first two periods and appeared on the point of coasting home with an easy victory when the Americans staged the assault that brought them within a goal of tieing it up.

Wilfie Field scored both American goals, ranging far from his defense post in power plays. The Rangers had piled up their lead with a goal in the first period by Alex Shibicky, on a pass out from Ott Heller, and two in the second, by Bryan Hextall and Alfie Pike.

The Rangers, unbeaten with two victories and two ties, climbed to a third place tie with the Chicago Black Hawks. Lineups:

HENRY REJOINS BADGERS, KREICK RETURNS TO END

Expect 42,000 Crowd for Gopher Game.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19 [Special].—Ray Kreick and Bob Henry were back at left end and center, respectively, today as Wisconsin went thru a comparatively light defensive scrimmage in preparation for the Minnesota game here Saturday.

Kreick, who had been shifted to center, was returned to end because of the loss of Cliff Philip, Libertyville, Ill., senior. Otherwise, the Wisconsin starting lineup will be the same that opened against Indiana.

The university ticket office today placed 6,500 tickets on sale at $1.50 here and in Milwaukee. All of these seats are reserved and are in the end sections. With Minnesota and northern Wisconsin expected to send from 10,000 to 12,000 to the game, officials anticipate a crowd of around 42,000 with favorable weather.

FANS FOLLOW GOPHERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 18 [Special].—The biggest migration of the season, numbering 6,000, will accompany the Minnesota football team on its quest of an undefeated season against Wisconsin at Madison Saturday.

Four thousand tickets already have been sold. Two thousand more have been ordered by Manager Leslie Schroeder.

Despite the crowd expected, the record attendance season of 1937, when the Gophers averaged 49,000 attendance at home alone, will not be exceeded. To date 345,000 persons have seen the Gophers in seven games with 235,000 seeing the five home games.

Meanwhile, Leonard Levy, 215 pound guard, has been elevated to the first string to replace Helge Pukema, out with a chipped elbow bone. Bruce Smith was limping with a leg injury and was replaced by Joe Mernik of field goal fame. But Smith will be ready Saturday.

MAROONS MEET GEORGIA FIVE IN OPENER DEC. 5

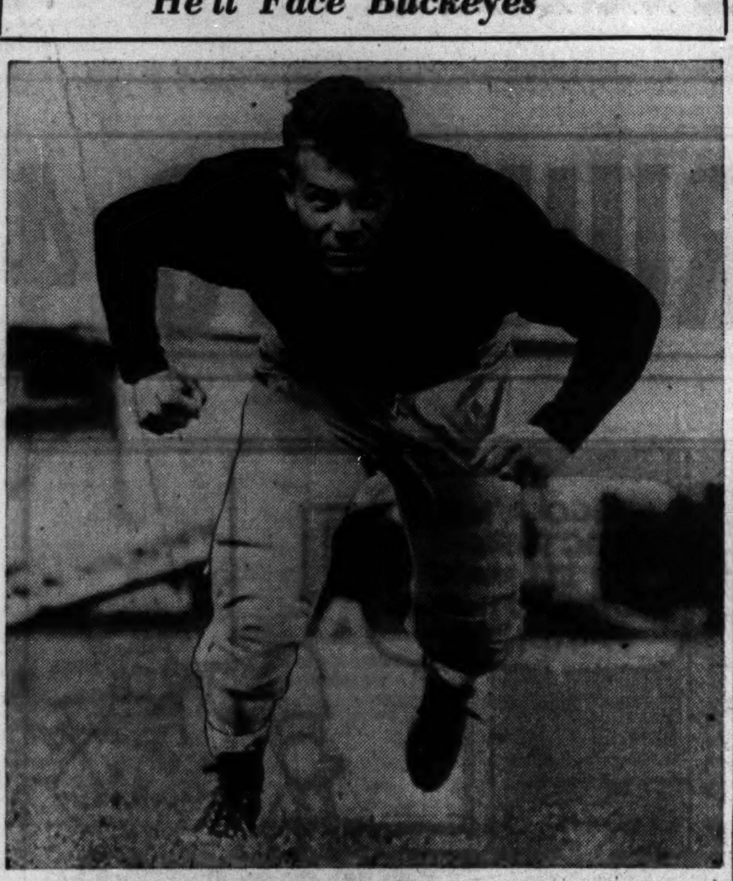
Scheduling of an intersectional game with Georgia, opening the season Dec. 5 on the Midway fieldhouse floor, completes the University of Chicago's 1940-41 basketball schedule, T. Nelson Metcalf, director of athletics, announced yesterday. The schedule follows:

Dec. 5, Georgia at Chicago; Dec. 14, Armour at Chicago; Dec. 20, North Central at Chicago; Jan. 1, Chicago at Western State, Kalamazoo; Jan. 4, Marquette at Chicago; Jan. 6, Princeton at Chicago; Jan. 13, Chicago at Ohio State; Jan. 18, Minnesota at Chicago; Jan. 20, Wisconsin at Chicago; Jan. 25, De Paul at Chicago; Jan. 30, Loyola at Chicago; Feb. 3, Chicago at Iowa; Feb. 8, Chicago at Purdue; Feb. 10, Illinois at Chicago; Feb. 15, Northwestern at Chicago; Feb. 17, Michigan at Chicago; Feb. 22, Chicago at Wisconsin; Feb. 24, Chicago at Minnesota; March 1, Chicago at Illinois; March 3, Indiana at Chicago.

Ward to Speak Tuesday at Illinois Football Dinner

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 19 [Special].—Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be guest speaker at the annual dinner of the Champaign Rotary club to the University of Illinois football squad next Tuesday night. D. C. Dobbins will be toastmaster and speakers will include President A. C. Willard, Coach Bob Zuppke, Ray Elliot, assistant coach; Ralph Fletcher, freshman coach; Capt. Tom Riggs, and the captain elect.

He'll Face Buckeyes



Bob Kolesar, Michigan sophomore right guard who received a head injury in the Northwestern game last Saturday, will be able to play against Ohio State Saturday. Kolesar has been a regular in the Wolverines' lineup the last two games, having replaced Senior Milo Sukup after Sukup suffered a concussion.

Kolesar Returns and Bolsters Michigan Line for Ohio State

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 19 [Special].—Coach Fritz Crisler had one less worry today when Michigan's right guard, Bob Kolesar, was released from the hospital and returned to practice after being pronounced fit by the team physician. Kolesar had been under observation since being kicked in the head in the Northwestern game last week.

On the other side of the ledger, however, was the announcement that Guard Milo Sukup, Kolesar's predecessor, was definitly out of the Ohio State battle next Saturday because of the concussion he suffered in the Illinois contest. Sukup missed both the Minnesota and Northwestern games, but had been hoping to be ready for this Saturday and his last appearance in a Wolverine uniform. Sukup was to be one of six regulars who play their final game at Columbus. The others are Tom Harmon, Capt. Forest Evashevski, Ed Frutig, Joe Rogers, and Ralph Fritz.

Harmon, Evashevski Ill.

Evashevski and Harmon were both sick tonight, Evashevski being troubled with a stomach disorder and Harmon with a bad cold. It is believed both men will be ready to play against the Buckeyes but it is doubtful that either will be in top condition. Evashevski may be sent to the hospital for a day or two.

Scout Bennie Oosterbaan directed the operations of the reserves who represented the Ohio State team in today's practice session. Coach Crisler also spent time working on his team's offense.

The Michigan ticket office exhausted its supply of more than 10,000 tickets for Saturday's game early last week.

BUCKEYES WORK ON OFFENSE.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19 [Special].—Offense, more offense, and still more offense took up most of Ohio State's practice session today in preparation for the homecoming game here with Michigan next Saturday.

The game which will wind up Tom Harmon's college football career, also marks the end of football activities at the Buckeye school for Capt. Jimmy Langhurst, Jimmy Strausbaugh, Don Scott, Claude White, Jimmy Sexton, Bill Nosker, and Frank Clair, all regulars, and Substitutes Jerry Grundies, Jimmy Arnold, Andy Rosen, John Simione, Eino Sarkkinen, and Andy Tobik.

Later the freshman team was thrown against the varsity and special emphasis was given to "stopping Harmon" by the regulars. Word from Ticket Director Henry Taylor indicated that for the second time this year the stadium would be sold out, with an attendance of 80,000 in prospect.

FELLER GETS "I."

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 19 (AP).—Honorary membership in the University of Iowa's alumni "I" club has been conferred upon Bob Feller, Cleveland pitcher, club officers announced tonight.

TWO SOPHOMORE BACKS MOVE UP ON PURDUE TEAM

Cook to Play Right Half Against Indiana.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special].—Purdue's back field, disrupted virtually all season by injuries, is apt to be changed once again as the Boilermakers wind up their season here Saturday in the annual Old Oaken Bucket battle with Indiana.

With two right half backs, Mike Byelene and Paul Anderson, and a pair of quarter backs, Bob Kersey and Vincent Snyder, ailing, Coach Mal Elward has been forced to eliminate all contact work.

Elward indicated today right half back will be filled by Walter Cook, 165 pound sophomore, who has been outstanding defensively, while Fred Smerke, another lightweight sophomore, is due to take over the quarter back duties.

HOOSIERS STRESS BLOCKING.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special].—Better timing and sharper blocking were the chief objectives of the Indiana squad in a lengthy drill today for Saturday's annual game at Purdue.

Defensive tactics also received much attention as Coach Bo McMillin admonished the squad that Purdue probably has more team speed than any other Big Nine outfit. Earl Doloway, half back, who starred in the Wisconsin game, appeared slated for a starting assignment.

ILLINI WORK ON PUNTING.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 19.—Preparing for Iowa today Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois broke in Bob Falkenstein as a punter so that he will be available to relieve Ralph Ehni if the quarter back should be disabled. Falkenstein is expected to start at right half back.

IOWA TO USE SENIORS.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 19 [Special].—Preparations were begun at the Iowa football camp today to form a hearty welcoming committee for the visit of Bob Zuppke and his Illinois players this week-end.

Iowa's starting lineup against Illinois may be altered, Anderson indicated, in deference to several seniors on the squad. Ray Murphy may open at full back, Bill Gallagher at right and Max Hawkins and Herman [Ham] Snider at the guard posts.

Team physicians reported Burdell [Oops] Gilleard, right half back, probably will be ready for action Saturday.

Eden Bowlers Win 2 Games at Stevenson's

The Walter C. Eden Insurance bowlers won the first two games, then dropped the third by one pin in last night's leading match in Stevenson's Major league. The Edens took the first game 921 pins to 914, easily captured the second, 921 to 849, and dropped the third 984 to 983. The result pulled the De Youngs out of second place and moved the Budweisers, who won three from American Transportation, into the runner-up spot. The Buds rolled high series, 3,013, followed by the Pure Milk association quintet, which hit 3,007 in winning two games from the Roy Olins. Scores:

BROOKLYN SELLS TOT PRESSNELL TO CARDS FOR $15,000

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—What observers thought might be the forerunner of a deal to bring Catcher Mickey Owen and Outfielder-Catcher Don Padgett from the St. Louis Cardinals to the Brooklyn Dodgers occurred today when the Dodgers sold Forest [Tot] Pressnell, 33 year old pitcher, to the St. Louis Cardinals for a reported price of $15,000.

It is reported the Cardinals do not intend to keep Pressnell. Reports were that he would go to the Pittsburgh Pirates in a three-day trade.

PHILLIPS LEADS MARQUETTE IN DETROIT GAME

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 19 [Special].—Quarter Back Bill Phillips, Spring Valley, Ill., today was named as Marquette's captain for Saturday's semifinal game with the University of Detroit in Detroit. The only senior in the Marquette back field, Phillips is an excellent blocker and occasionally carries the ball.

Marquette regulars, after a week-end rest following their victory over Michigan State, were back in uniform today, working against Detroit plays as demonstrated by the freshmen.

QUARTER-FINALS IN C. Y. O. BOXING TO END TONIGHT

Name 24 North Side Title Winners in 3 Classes.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Chicago sectional quarter-final competition in the 10th annual Catholic Youth organization amateur boxing tournament will end tonight with 24 bouts between north side representatives in every weight in three classes, open, novice, and beginners. The fights will be held in C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street. Survivors will advance to the semi-final round in C. Y. O. gymnasium next Monday and Tuesday. Finals will be offered in the Coliseum Dec. 4.

In last night's quarter-finals 22 west side boxers—eight each in the open and novice divisions and six in the beginners class—earned the right to continue on in the tournament. Every weight was represented in the open and novice ranks, but lack of competition among the flyweights and heavyweights in the beginners bracket left these places vacant.

Bishop Sees Fights.

The Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, director of the C. Y. O., was a spectator at last night's fights, one of the most spirited of which saw Henry Delulio, St. Matthew flyweight, who won a novice title in 1939, eliminate Casimir Ostrowski of St. Mary of Celle, Berwyn, in the open class. Qualifiers:

Beginners.

118 pounds—Mike De Leon, Holy Family.
126 pounds—Matt Brupo, Our Lady of Sorrows.
135 pounds—Lawrence Lewill, St. Joseph.
147 pounds—Sam Lopez, St. Francis.
160 pounds—Bill Gustine, Maternity B. V. M.
175 pounds—Mike Sarno, St. Valentine.

Novice.

112 pounds—Sam Bausone, St. Mel.
118 pounds—Pat Ciangi, Our Lady of Pompeii.
126 pounds—Charles Carey, St. Peter Canisius.
135 pounds—Frank Samson, St. John Cantius.
147 pounds—Joe Dugo, Our Lady of Pompeii.
160 pounds—Daniel Beres, St. John.
175 pounds—John McDonald, St. Mary.
Heavyweight—Don Polson, St. Agatha.

Open.

112 pounds—Henry Delulio, St. Matthew.
118 pounds—Henry Vera, St. Francis.
126 pounds—Tony Bausone, St. Mel.
135 pounds—O. D. Thomas, St. Joseph.
147 pounds—Louis Bobek, Sacred Heart.
160 pounds—Isaiah Wells, Holy Family.
175 pounds—Joe O'Connell, St. Nicholas of Tolentine.
Heavyweight—Joe Clemente, St. Agatha.

An additional 24 from the south section were left after the fighting had been concluded on Monday.

Hold Bouts in Joliet.

To this number will be added 24 standard bearers from the suburban centers. These qualifiers will be determined in preliminary and quarter-final encounters in Catholic High school gymnasium in Joliet Friday and Saturday.

Pairings tonight include the following:

Open Division.

112 pounds—Al Noto, St. Angels, vs. Bertrand White, Corpus Christi.
118 pounds—Pete Sperando, All Saints, vs. Henry Nichols, Holy Name.
126 pounds—Eddie Miller, Corpus Christi, vs. Lou Smith, Great Lakes Naval chapel.
135 pounds—Saul Joseph, Holy Name, vs. Ernie Wilson, Holy Family.
147 pounds—Harry Sparrow, SS. Peter and Paul, vs. Herbert Hay, St. Peter Canisius.

Novice Division.

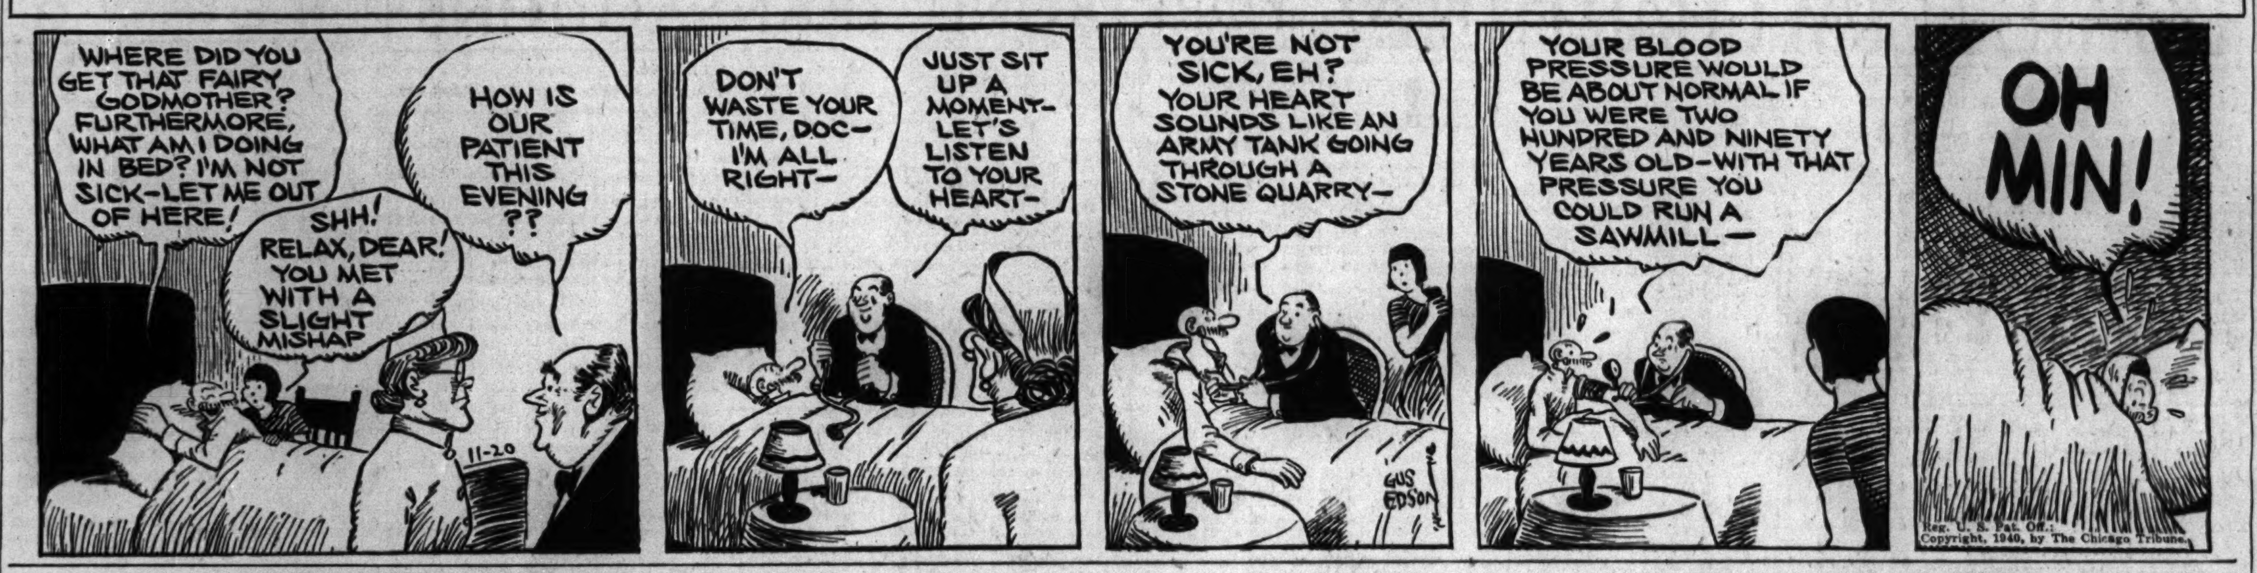
THE GUMPS—FIT AS A BUSTED FIDDLE



WHERE DID YOU GET THAT FAIRY GODMOTHER? FURTHERMORE, WHAT AM I DOING IN BED? I'M NOT SICK—LET ME OUT OF HERE!
SHH! RELAX, DEAR! YOU MET WITH A SLIGHT MISHAP
HOW IS OUR PATIENT THIS EVENING ??
11-20
DON'T WASTE YOUR TIME, DOC—I'M ALL RIGHT—
JUST SIT UP A MOMENT—LET'S LISTEN TO YOUR HEART—
YOU'RE NOT SICK, EH? YOUR HEART SOUNDS LIKE AN ARMY TANK GOING THROUGH A STONE QUARRY—
GUS EDSON
YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE WOULD BE ABOUT NORMAL IF YOU WERE TWO HUNDRED AND NINETY YEARS OLD—WITH THAT PRESSURE YOU COULD RUN A SAWMILL—

Aron to Face Mamakos; Has 5 Round Drill

Milt Aron lengthened his boxing drills to five rounds yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium for a 10 round return bout with Steve Mamakos, rugged Washington, D. C., welterweight, in the Coliseum Monday. The workout, which included three rounds with Stanley Murczek and two with Herman Collins, was the heaviest the Chicago fighter has undertaken since opening training a week ago.

Aron will follow this routine every day thru Saturday. He realizes that a prospective match with Champion Fritzie Zivic will depend on his showing against Mamakos. In a previous meeting last summer, Mamakos held his rangy rival to a 10 round draw decision.

Tygh Faces Castiglione.

Jimmy Tygh, Philadelphia lightweight, will start training chores in the loop today for a 10 round supporting contest against Nick Castiglione. Altho Tygh is undefeated this year, his victims including Eddie Lander, Castiglione is not worried.

Nick, who beat Maurice Arnault recently in Cleveland, is so confident of handing Tygh his first 1940 defeat that yesterday he signed to meet Willie Joyce in Civic center, Hammond, Ind., Dec. 9.

Franklin vs. Blunt.

Lem Franklin, 1937 international Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, yesterday worked out with Selman Martin for an additional 10 round event on the Coliseum card against Eddie Blunt of New York. Martin is preparing for an eight round encounter against Paul Hartnek in Omaha Nov. 28. Carl Vinciquerra, former Golden Gloves light heavyweight titleholder is matched with Henry Cooper of Brooklyn in a 10 round headliner on the program.

Amateur shows will be held tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, and Winnetka Community house, Lincoln avenue and Pine street. Jack McGann, heavyweight from Dublin, Ireland, will make his first American appearance in one of eight contests on the White City card against John Terrence of the Madison Athletic club. Additional matches will bring together Wendell White and Bill Jordan, lightweights; Sam Peterson and Joe Jawgiel, heavyweights; Eddie Colquitt and Andy Sterley, 135 pounders, and Dick Stone and Jim Harper, bantamweights. Charley and Frankie Kidd, fighting brothers from Downers Grove, will appear in two of a series of fights in Winnetka. Frankie is paired with Thomas James, Morgan park welterweight, and Charley with John Hardy, Savoy A. C., junior welterweight. The show, which is sponsored by the Triangle Fellowship club of Winnetka, will be topped by a five round event between Harold Robinson, Savoy A. C. heavyweight, and Jim Fargo of Winnetka.

Dog Show to Give Tips on Training Pets

BY BOB BECKER.

With the Western Specialty show featuring 24 of the most popular breeds, the 30th annual dog show scheduled for the Coliseum Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 provides one of the best opportunities of the year for an owner to learn how to handle his pet in the show ring. Secretaries of the 24 clubs which are taking part in the exhibition said yesterday that they and their members would be glad to counsel novices on how to enter a dog in the show, how to prepare him for the ring, and also advise them on handling problems.

Dog owners who wish advice may get in touch with the following club secretaries:

John H. Morse, Box 183-M, Des Plaines, Western English and Irish Setter club; Miss Doris Flagg, Box 325, Northbrook, Cocker Spaniel club of the Middle West; B. F. Genty, Lake Bluff, English Springer Spaniel club of the Central States; Elmer A. Walther, 1642 West 100th street, Central States Dachshund club; M. F. Couillard, 754 North 26th street, Milwaukee, Mid-West Boxer club; Thomas M. Halpin, 141 West Ohio street, Chicago Collie club; Dr. Edward H. Garry, Box 1799, Milwaukee, Doberman Pinscher club of America; A. R. Benning, 1738 North Washtenaw avenue, Companion Shepherd Dog club [German shepherds]; Mrs. Mabel Hale, 339 Elm street, Glen Ellyn, Mid-West Great Dane club.

Burt Denton, 1321 171st place, Hammond, Ind., Central States Airedale Terrier club; May G. Ruff, 2941 Kilbourn avenue, North Chicago, Ill., Great Lakes Bull Terrier club; Mrs. Madeleine Roessler, Hotel Atlantic, 324 S. Clark street, Fox Terrier club of Chicago; William A. Butler, 1338 West 98th street, Irish Terrier club of Chicago; Mrs. H. H. Cooper, 807 Milburn street, Evanston, Mid-West Standard Schnauzer club; Miss Dorothy Hall, 2123 N. Humboldt avenue, Scottish Terrier club of Chicago.

Dr. Noel S. Young, 265 East Deerpath, Lake Forest, American Sealyham Terrier club; Mrs. Anna B. Vinyard, 1530 Lincoln avenue, East Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Chihuahua club of America; Mrs. William Morrison, 2951 North Halsted, Chicago Pekingese club; Miss Helen Nowicki, 7931 South Shore drive, Western Pomeranian club; Thomas J. Moore, 164 North Loomis street, Chicago, Western Boston Terrier club; Charles F. Low, 16 North Dearborn street, Chicago Bulldog club; Mrs. Lauretta Schmidt, Box 305, Tinley Park, Mid-States Chow Chow club; R. H. Dudley, 5502 Bedford road, Detroit, Mid-West Schipperke club.

All entries for this big fall dog show must be in by next Sunday, according to A. Wilson Bow, show superintendent, whose headquarters are in the Atlantic hotel.

SULLEN BEARS BEGIN WORKOUT FOR CLEVELAND

They're in Good Shape—Physically—After Loss.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

No hospital cases were reported at roll call in Wrigley field yesterday when the Bears returned to work after a long, tortuous ride back from Washington. Cleveland, their immediate objective, will find the Bears quite sullen and determined Sunday in Wrigley field. With all hands in good shape, Coach George Halas immediately began strenuous drill, warning his squad, in the best traditions of coaching, that the Rams will be a better team than the one they beat in Cleveland several weeks ago.

On the other side of town, in Comiskey Park, the Cardinals continued to labor along without fuss or gallery, getting themselves in shape to tackle the Dodgers in Brooklyn Sunday. Tony Blazine, veteran tackle, has been counted out of plans for the game. His injured leg will keep him out of the lineup for the remainder of the season. Mario Tonelli, another cripple, gradually is nearing his earlier form and Coach Jimmy Conzelman hopes to get some good football out of him Sunday.

Sunday will be Ace Parker day in Brooklyn where the Dodgers close their home schedule against the Cardinals. The following week the Dodgers will help the Giants celebrate Mel Hein day in the Polo grounds.

Andy Farkas, who led the National league in scoring and ground gained last season, will be in the Washington lineup Sunday against the Giants in New York. Farkas has been out all season, following an operation on his knee. He was ready last Sunday, but was withheld from the Bear game to give him one more week of work.

Injuries to backs may make it necessary for Len Barnum to play in both back field combinations Coach Steve Owen is drilling for the Washington game. The Giants need Barnum's punting. Coach Curley Lambeau of Green Bay called Barnum's kicking in the Giant game last week the best he has seen since Verne Lewellen was with the champions.

Dick Todd, hero of Washington's 7 to 3 victory over the Bears, is a product of Texas A. and M. He weighs only 165 pounds, but is the Redskins' chief trouble shooter. When the going gets the toughest, Todd comes in. In addition to his tremendous speed, which enabled him to elude the Bears on his 18 yard touchdown run and catch George McAfee on the 1 yard line to save the game, he is regarded by Coach Red Flaherty as the most deadly tackler in the league.

Todd took the scoring lead with his touchdown Sunday. It was his eighth of the season, giving him 48 points, four more than Johnny Drake of Cleveland, who will try to increase his total against the Bears Sunday. The leaders:

	G	TD	PAT	FG	TP
Todd, Washington	9	8	0	0	48
Drake, Cleveland	9	7	2	0	44
Johnston, Washington	9	7	0	0	42
Hutson, Green Bay	9	5	11	0	41
Masterson, Washington	9	4	13	1	40
Hinkle, Green Bay	9	3	3	6	39
Parker, Brooklyn	9	4	14	0	38

The Green Bay Packers, who long have been air minded, learned to like it sitting down on their flight to New York last week and have asked Coach Lambeau to fly from Milwaukee to Detroit. The trip can be made in 90 minutes, the time it would take to come into Chicago, where they would have to take a five hour train. In the future the Packers may make all trips by plane.

By completing 13 passes against the Bears Sunday, the Redskins brought their total completions to 131, four more than the old mark established by Cleveland last week. It was the second consecutive week the Redskins have bettered a league record. Against Brooklyn they set the single game record with 25 completions, good for 312 yards, also a record.

Young Bowler Gets 300 on South Side Alleys

Andy Hogus, 9331 Lyons avenue, bowled a 300 game at the Chesterfield recreation, 9300 South Evans avenue, yesterday, the first since the alleys were opened 18 years ago. Hogus, who is 19 years old, has been bowling five years and has a 188 average in Chesterfield's major league.

7 MORE FIRMS VOTE SPECIAL OR EXTRA DIVIDEND

Kennecott Copper Adds 75 Cents.

Extra or special dividends were declared yesterday by seven more companies, including Kennecott Copper corporation. Increased year-end payments were announced by two other enterprises and the first disbursements of 1940 were authorized by the Santa Fe railroad and other organizations.

Directors of the Kennecott Copper corporation, New York, one of the two largest copper mining enterprises in the world, voted a special cash distribution of 75 cents on the 10,821,653 outstanding shares of common stock, in addition to the usual 25 cents.

The $1 dividend declared by the Santa Fe on the 2,427,060 shares of common stock outstanding is the first on this issue since Sept. 1, 1937, when $2 was disbursed. The usual semiannual payment of $2.50 on the 5 per cent preferred was authorized also.

Votes 50 Cents Extra.

The United States Pipe and Foundry company, Burlington, N. J., ordered an extra of 50 cents on the common stock. Yale & Towne Manufacturing company, New York, maker of locks and building hardware, declared a special dividend of 40 cents together with the regular quarterly disbursements of 15 cents.

Other companies which authorized extras in addition to the usual payments and the amounts of the extras included Chesebrough Manufacturing company, New York, maker of petroleum jelly, 50 cents; Lane-Wells company, Los Angeles, manufacturer of tools for the oil industry, 25 cents, Fanny Farmer Candy Shops, Inc., Rochester, N. Y., 25 cents, and Iron Fireman Manufacturing company, Portland, Ore., and Cleveland, O., 25 cents.

B. F. Goodrich company, New York, maker of tires, tubes, and mechanical rubber goods, announced a dividend of 50 cents on the 1,303,255 shares of common stock. The company last paid $1 on Dec. 18, 1939.

Votes Year-End Distribution.

A year-end dividend of $1 on the common stock was ordered by the Magma Copper company, New York. The company, which is engaged in the mining and treatment of nonferrous metal ores, paid 50 cents in previous quarters this year. This disbursement will bring the 1940 total to $2.50, against $2.75 in 1939.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Chicago manufacturer of suits and overcoats, authorized a dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, the first since $1 was disbursed on Nov. 24, 1939. The first dividend this year was also announced by the Twin Coach company, Kent, Ohio, maker of motor and trolley coaches, which ordered a payment of 70 cents. The last disbursement was 50 cents on Dec. 22, 1939.

An interim dividend of $1.25 a share on the common stock was voted by the directors of Johns-Manville corporation, New York, maker of building materials.

Republic Steel Paves the Way for Dividends

Cleveland, O., Nov. 19 (AP).—Republic Steel corporation directors today authorized the setting aside of $6,300,000 to purchase 6 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock of the company, opening the way to possible payment of a common stock dividend.

Tom Girdler expects "full" year in steel industry.

The fund will redeem approximately half of the outstanding 119,597 shares of convertible preferred. This action, together with the recent removal of all dividend arrearages, "now opens the way for common stock dividends as profits of the corporation may warrant them," an announcement stated.

The company explained that under its articles of incorporation it was required to set aside $300,000 semiannually as a purchase fund for this stock. This was not done in depression years, and common dividends could not be paid as long as the purchase fund was in arrears.

None Paid Since 1930.

Republic has not paid a common dividend since the $1.24 a share directors declared in 1930, shortly after the company's formation.

Today's action does not affect the company's 6 per cent cumulative convertible prior preference series A stock. Holders of the 6 per cent cumulative convertible preferred may submit offers, at not above $100. Those submitted by Dec. 15 will be acted upon that day, with purchases starting at the lowest prices offered.

Chairman Tom Girdler declined to make a prediction upon when another common dividend may be paid.

At a press conference, he also was asked about John L. Lewis' expressed hope that Republic, among other companies, might soon sign a collective bargaining contract.

Denies Plans for Contract.

"There's nothing whatever to anything about a contract," responded Girdler, who tangled frequently with Lewis in the "little steel" strike of 1937. "There have been no negotiations on the subject."

Questioned about the business situation, Girdler commented:

"I think the steel industry is going to run 'full' thru 1941. That depends a lot upon Hitler and Winston Churchill, but I still think it's going to run 'full.'"

The Republic chairman observed that British buying was "increasing all the time." He said he could not estimate what percentage of steel production was currently going into defense works.

CANADA CURTAILS GOLD SHIPMENTS TO THIS COUNTRY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—Gold imports slumped to $42,638,731 in the week ended Nov. 13 from the $73,270,991 in the preceding week. The department of commerce said the drop, resulting in one of the lowest totals in many weeks, resulted from the lack of customary large shipments from Canada on behalf of the British empire.

Canada shipped $3,619,825 of gold to this country. In some recent weeks it has sent 25 times that amount. Australia shipped $14,432,381 and South Africa $2,602,285. Other large shipments were $7,804,941 from Portugal, $8,242,645 from Argentina, and $3,047,277 from Japan.

One possible explanation of the slump in Canadian shipments was seen in a $41,773,040 reduction in foreign deposits of earmarked gold in the federal reserve banks. Apparently, the British were using some of the gold previously sent to this country instead of shipping so much new metal.

Silver imports totaled $1,086,154, about the usual amount. No gold was exported. Silver exports amounted to $16,590.

OIL PRODUCTION IN ILLINOIS AND NATION REDUCED

Crude oil production in Illinois and in the nation decreased last week, the Tulsa Oil and Gas Journal reported yesterday. In the state daily average output declined 3,590 barrels to 340,840. The national average was 3,571,865 barrels, 25,555 less than the daily output reported for the preceding week.

The federal bureau of mines forecast that the December market demand for domestic crude oil will total 3,560,000 barrels daily, 10,000 barrels less than the estimate for November and also 10,000 barrels less than average daily demand in December 1939.

Buffalo Scrap Prices Boosted 50 Cents More

Cleveland, O., Nov. 19 (AP).—For the third successive week steel-making grades of iron and steel scrap have been advanced in the Buffalo district, Daily Metal Trade reported today. The scrap is quoted 50 cents higher on a sale of 12,000 tons of heavy melting steel to a leading mill at $21.50 to $22 a ton. Cast iron borings also have been marked up 50 cents a ton.

TUNG OIL SUBSTITUTE REPORTED DISCOVERED; MADE FROM U. S. BEAN

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 19 (AP).—Research laboratories of Paraffine Companies, Inc., today revealed discovery of what S. A. Cohen said was a substitute for tung oil. Cohen and fellow technicians said they believed the new substance would mark another milepost in the nation's progress toward independence from foreign raw material sources.

[The United States has started tung propagation along the gulf coast but production of the oil is still inadequate.]

The company would go no further in identifying the new substance than to say it was obtained from an American grown bean. It provides the quick drying, durable properties required in certain paints and varnishes, the laboratory men said. It can be sold, they said, for 13 cents a pound, compared with the current 25.5 cents for tung oil. The latter oil, imported from China, has become more expensive because military operations have hampered the supply.

The United States imported close to 80 million pounds of tung oil last year, valued at about 11¾ million dollars then. Now that amount would cost nearly 20 million.

TESTIFY UTILITY INCOME FELL AS CONTROL SPREAD

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—While Howard C. Hopson was spreading control of the Associated Gas and Electric system over an ever widening circle of utility properties from 1922 to 1929, the actual income of the system was suffering a sharp relative decline.

This was brought out in federal court today thru testimony of Henry A. Stix, Hopson's former auditor. Hopson and others are charged with siphoning $20,000,000 out of the billion dollar bankrupt holding company.

In 1921, the year before Hopson and his associate John I. Mange, obtained control, Associated Gas and Electric properties were valued at $6,942,570, and gross revenue was $1,578,406.27. By 1929, Stix said, assets had expanded to $800,000,000, but income had risen only to $80,000,000. Thus, Stix said, income fell from about 23 per cent of assets to 10 per cent in 1929.

A bookkeeper for Hopson said he made a profit of $11,000,000 by buying huge amounts of bonds, stripping them of warrants, and selling them to the system.

MILWAUKEE ROAD OBSERVES 90TH BIRTHDAY TODAY

The Milwaukee railroad today will observe its 90th anniversary. On Nov. 20, 1850, a passenger train was run over five miles of track between Milwaukee and Wauwatosa on a railroad then known as the Milwaukee and Mississippi.

On the first run were the president and directors of the road, the mayor of Milwaukee, and members of the city council. The first train consisted of two freight cars in which seats had been installed, pulled by a wood burning locomotive weighing only 23 tons.

The five mile road has grown to a 11,000 mile system serving 12 states and employing 30,000 persons. The Milwaukee road started service from Chicago in 1873, and established service to the Pacific northwest in 1911. General offices were moved from Milwaukee to Chicago in 1890.

Celebrating the 90th birthday, locomotive and shop whistles will be blown at 4 p. m. today.

Madison Court Continues Oil Company Trust Cases

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19 [Special].—The trial of eight oil companies and seven individuals on a federal indictment charging antitrust law violations was continued today to Jan. 20. A number of other defendants have filed pleas of nolo contendere [no contest] and paid fines totaling $385,000.

Plane Factory Space Doubled and Still Rising

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 21 (AP).—Combined floor space of leading United States aircraft, engine, and propeller factories has nearly doubled since war broke out in Europe in September, 1939, and will be nearly quadrupled in 1942, the aviation news committee of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America said today.

When the war started the plants had floor space totaling 9,123,143 square feet. The total now is 16,713,230.

Further current and planned expansion to be completed before or in 1942 will make the aggregate 33,370,822 square feet, the committee said after a survey.

The survey covered 15 manufacturers on the eastern seaboard and in the midwest—eight plane plants, five engine factories, and two propeller factories—and six Pacific coast plane plants.

Following is a summary of expansion in square feet of floor space, by groups:

Group.	Sept., 1939 Space.	Present Space.	1942 Space.
Eight eastern-midwest plane plants	2,535,000	3,597,000	8,514,712
Five engine factories	2,030,000	4,677,000	7,888,000
Two propeller factories	370,000	530,000	1,080,000
Six Pacific coast plane plants	4,188,143	7,909,230	15,888,110

ASK BIDS ON ALL ARMY, CCC NEEDS IN WOOLEN GOODS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 [Special].—Bidding on contracts to supply substantially all woolen goods to be purchased by the army and civilian conservation corps during the remainder of the fiscal year ending June 30 next, was formally opened today, the office of the coördinator of national defense purchases announced. The total will be more than 13,000,000 yards.

These purchases will complete the major part of the woolen buying program, which has had to provide full initial equipment for the entire army in training. Future purchases will be only for replacement of worn out articles.

In explaining its action the defense commission said that it had been decided that the elimination of any doubts about the extent of national defense requirements would have a stabilizing effect on the industry.

3 Million Erie Railroad Loan Is Offered to Public

A group headed by Mellon Securities corporation today will offer $3,000,000 of Erie Railroad equipment trust 1⅝ per cent serial equipment trust certificates, due June 1 and Dec. 1 from 1941 thru 1950, at prices to yield 0.20 to 1.95 per cent. Proceeds will be used to purchase 1,200 new cars.

Consumers to Be Asked About Federal Labeling

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The agricultural marketing service announced today plans for a survey to learn what consumers think about government grade labeling of canned goods. C. W. Kitchen, chief of the service, said workers would question consumers at stores in large cities thruout the country.

FARMERS ARE WARNED ON POLITICAL USE OF THEIR ORGANIZATIONS

Denver, Colo., Nov. 19 (AP).—John Vesecky of Salina, Kas., president of the National Farmers union, said in his annual report today that farmers should beware of the use of agricultural organizations for "political racketeering."

John Vesecky.

"Most farm organizations which have fallen by the wayside," he told the annual convention, "have been ruined by domination of some political group which used the united farmers for its own benefit. We must guard against any attempt to make this organization a political football."

H. G. Keeney of Omaha, vice president, discussed in his report the part the farmer would take in national defense.

"Foreclosures on farms, making farm owners into tenants, and nine million unemployed in the nation are the dangers which threaten our nation more than guns," he said.

$47,500,000 ASKED BY STIMSON FOR DEFENSE HOUSING

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—An allocation tentatively fixed at about $47,500,000 for 67 defense housing projects was requested by Secretary Henry L. Stimson in a report filed today with the senate naval affairs committee. The developments, comprising 13,555 family dwelling units, would be constructed, in most cases by the Federal Works agency, to meet "urgent" requirements for expanded army personnel.

One of the undertakings was designed to meet the needs of expanded manufacturing program personnel at Savanna, Ill.

The report followed adoption of a resolution asking both the war and navy departments for a complete statement on housing plans. Among them were:

Scott field, Belleville, Ill., 100 temporary units for enlisted men; Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., 200 permanent units for enlisted men.

4 CENTS ADDED TO GOVERNMENT CORN LOAN RATE

Basis 61 Cents, with 3 Years to Pay.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The department of agriculture announced today that it would make loans to midwestern farmers on 1940 grown corn at a base rate of 61 cents a bushel. The rate under a similar loan program last year was 57 cents.

The department said the program, inaugurated under "ever normal granary" provisions of the 1938 crop control act, was designed to prevent the marketing of excessive supplies of grain during the next several weeks and to bolster prices received by producers.

The 61 cent rate will apply in the 'commercial" corn area—599 major corn producing counties in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

Outside this area, the rate will be 46 cents for yellow or white corn and 44 cents for grain graded "mixed." The law directs that the rate outside the commercial area be 75 per cent of that in the commercial area.

Mixed Corn Rate 59c.

The loan rate for mixed corn in the commercial area will be 59 cents. Grain on which farmers obtain loans must be stored under seal in farm cribs or bins or in commercial elevators and warehouses. It cannot be sold or used until the loan is repaid or the grower surrenders title as payment of his obligation.

Only farmers who planted within 1940 corn planting allotments apportioned under the Agricultural Adjustment administration control program will be eligible for loans.

This year's loan program contains several changes. The period during which loans are available has been extended from 4 to 10 months, and the term of the loan has been extended from one to three years. Loans will bear 3 per cent interest.

To be eligible for loans corn must grade No. 3 or higher, except for moisture content and test weight. Maximum moisture content acceptable in loan corn will vary with the time the loan is obtained, as follows: Ear corn, between Dec. 1, 1940, and Feb. 28, 1941, 20.5 per cent; ear corn, between March 1 and April 30, 1941, 17.5 per cent; ear corn, between May, and Sept. 30, 1941, 15.5 per cent, and shelled corn, between July 1 and Sept. 30, 1941, 13.5 per cent.

Desposition of Corn.

The department, speaking of the 557,000,000 bushels of corn accumulated in government loan programs since 1937, said that on Nov. 3, 112,000,000 bushels had been either sold by the department or redeemed by farmers, 100,000,000 had been resealed by borrowers under the 1940 loan extension program and 345,000,000,000 bushels remained under original loans, or 1939 renewal loans, or owned outright by the government.

The department said that every borrower would be asked to give assurance of storage of the corn until Oct. 15, 1943.

"For tenants this assurance would involve the landowner's consent," the announcement said. "However, a farmer may deliver his corn in full settlement of his loan at the end of the second year—during August, September and October, 1942—upon 30 days written notice to the AAA committee for his county."

Defense Work Contributes to Pay Roll Boost

With the metals, machinery and chemical industries showing substantial gains, Illinois employment and pay roll figures increased 2.1 and 2.7 per cent, respectively, from September to October, the state department of labor reported yesterday.

The survey covered 674,484 wage earners in 6,647 manufacturing and nonmanufacturing concerns.

C. R. Thompson, head of the department's division of statistics, attributed most of the increase in employment to nonseasonal factors. "Undoubtedly a large part of the gain" resulted from defense activities, he said.

Gain Exceeds Average.

The October upturn ranked above the average for the previous 17 year period. The average gains have been 0.2 per cent in employment and 2.1 per cent in pay rolls. Thompson said that October was the sixth consecutive month having larger than average increases.

Over a six month period—from April thru October, the net increases were set at 8.4 per cent for employment and 12.3 per cent for pay rolls.

Other comparisons showed that the employment and pay roll indexes for October were 5.5 and 6.8 per cent higher, respectively than those for the same month last year.

Wage Average Increases.

Average weekly earnings in October for wage earners covered in the report were placed at $27.95, compared with $27.79 in September, and $27.63 in October, 1939.

Gains of 1.5 per cent in employment and 2.9 per cent in pay rolls were recorded for the manufacturing industries, while the nonmanufacturing industries reported increases of 3.2 per cent in employment and 2.3 per cent in pay rolls.

For the metals and machinery group the upturn was 3.6 per cent in employment and 5 per cent in pay rolls. The chemical and allied products group reported an employment increase of 3.6 per cent and a pay roll gain of 4.6 per cent.

Other groups reporting gains included paper goods and printing, wholesale and retail trade, services, and public utilities.

WARNS BUSINESS AGAINST PERSONS WITH ARMY 'PULL'

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—Robert P. Patterson, acting secretary of war, cautioned business concerns today against dealings with persons claiming to have influence with the war department.

"Rumors have come to the attention of the war department that various persons are holding themselves out as possessing influence with the department or with officials in the department, and are offering to sell their services to business concerns in the matter of obtaining contracts," Patterson said. "There is no truth in representations of this sort, and business concerns are cautioned against having dealings with persons who make such representations.

"Notice is directed to the fact that the forms of contract to be signed by contractors contain a warranty by the contractor that he has not employed any person to solicit or secure the contract on any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee."

Glass Container Trust Suit Trial Is Postponed

Toledo, O., Nov. 19 [Special].—Federal Judge Frank L. Kloeb today postponed until Nov. 26 trial of the federal government's antitrust suit against 12 major glass container manufacturing companies and 102 individuals.

CONNELY FLAILS LAWS HINDERING ARMS FINANCING

Banker Rips Federal Loan Activities.

Industry is "in the army now," but the investment banker has not been permitted to volunteer, Emmett F. Connelly, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, said last night. He spoke before an audience of 500 at a dinner meeting of the Illinois Manufacturers Costs association in the Hotel La Salle.

Emmett F. Connely.

Altho the banker and the business man should be drawn together closer than ever in the defense emergency, they are being driven apart as the result of unnecessarily restrictive laws and regulations, he said. These laws, and the competition offered by government lending agencies, prevent the banker from providing the industrialist the funds he needs to fill defense contracts, Connely asserted.

Proposes Investigation.

To meet the situation, Connely urged authorization by congress of an independent commission of business experts, whose duties would be:

"First, to determine the best method of promoting and financing national defense so that the objective will be accomplished with a minimum strain on our national financial resources, while at the same time throwing every possible protection around the system of free enterprise.

"Second, to make an exhaustive study of how our economy can best be adjusted to peacetime activities when the emergency is over."

Finance and industry "are a winning team in this struggle for adequate defense, as they were in the world war more than 20 years ago," Connely asserted, "but half the team is not being brought onto the field."

"The heavy hand of the government has seldom been used with greater effect" than in the law under which the Reconstruction Finance corporation exists and extends credits, Connely asserted.

RFC Powers Extended.

The law was recently amended to permit the RFC to establish and finance subsidiary corporations and also to make loans to any other corporation for permanent or working capital, where defense work is involved, he explained.

"A significant provision of the law is that these credits may be granted 'on such terms and conditions as the corporation may determine,'" he said. "Already several hundreds of millions in credits have been authorized.

"No attempt was made, so far as I am informed, to find out whether these funds could be raised in the public capital markets. Investment bankers, and apparently commercial bankers, too, were disregarded. No announcement has been made of the terms and conditions of the credits, so it is impossible to know what inducements were held out."

STOCKS FALTER, BUT LATE BUYING SHAVES LOSSES

Dividend News Helps Turn Market Trend.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Stocks steadied today after an early selloff centering on steels and other recent industrial favorites. In fairly active dealings declines ranged from fractions to more than a point around midday. A little support then arrived and extreme setbacks were reduced or canceled in many instances at the close.

A number of pleasing dividends, some unexpected in Wall street, helped the list to regain part of its equilibrium. At that, many traders refused to work up any real buying enthusiasm because of fears new shocks from the European war might be in the offing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .1 of a point at 45.4

Santa Fe Advances.

Santa Fe common rose 1½ points after directors voted a dividend of $1, the first since 1937. The preferred issue was up 3 points to a new top for the year. Republic Steel common finished ⅛ higher after the company's preferred dividend announcement.

United States Steel was unchanged, Bethlehem down ⅛ and Youngstown Sheet up ½. On the offside were Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, du Pont, Johns-Manville, Anaconda, Kennecott, Douglas Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, and New York Central.

Among gainers were Certain-teed and International Paper preferreds, Texas corporation, Standard Oil of New Jersey, General Motors, Chrysler, United States Rubber, Great Northern, American Telephone, and General Electric.

CHICAGO PRICES SLIP.

Prices continued on the downgrade on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, with 46 issues declining, 25 advancing, and 23 remaining unchanged.

A comparison of several stocks listed both in Chicago and New York, showing the changes recorded here in the hour after the New York close, follows:

New York Bonds.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Bond market prices shifted uncertainly today. Investment buying pushed some issues to new 1940 tops, but others were in supply at losses.

Two groups in the Associated Press averages—industrials and low yields—edged into new high ground at 105.5 and 113.8, respectively. Rails were unchanged, and declines ruled in utilities and foreign dollar loans.

A great deal of activity centered in low to medium priced rails.

United States government bonds ended 1 17/32ds points higher to unchanged on light turnover.

PAPER PROFITS TURNED TO CASH DROP SOY BEANS

Soy beans which showed independent strength recently declined sharply yesterday as country speculators who bought at lower prices started to turn paper profits into cash. Prices dropped about 4 cents with December beans showing a loss of 6 cents from Monday's high. Closing sales were at losses of 3¼ to 3¾ cents a bushel.

Wheat futures fluctuated within a range of more than 1 cent, with the close unchanged to ⅛ cent higher. Corn and oats showed a firm undertone with corn gaining ⅜ to ⅝ cent and oats closed unchanged to ⅛ cent higher. Rye declined ⅜ to ½ cent.

FUTURES PRICES OF COMMODITIES END IRREGULAR

Zinc Prices Gain as Much as ¼ Cent a Pound.

Commodity futures markets moved irregularly yesterday. Zinc registered gains ranging to ¼ cent a pound, cottonseed oil was carried to new peaks in distant contracts, and cocoa advanced. Wool tops, tin and rubber were lower. Hides and copper were uneven.

Zinc closed 0.05 to 0.25 cent a pound higher at 8.30 cents bid in the January deliveries. Copper was 0.02 cent a pound higher to 0.02 cent lower, December contracts finishing at 11.12 cents. Tin slumped 0.05 to 0.20 cent in the futures market and the cash price dropped ¼ cent a pound to 50.37½ cents, as other cash metals held firm.

Lead Turns Downward.

Lead futures, which recently have been active and at 1940 peak price levels, lost 0.03 to 0.05 cent a pound, December declining to 5.51 cents bid. It was reported that the exceptionally heavy demand for cash lead in recent weeks, which resulted in a series of price boosts, had subsided.

An advance of 0.08 to 0.09 cent a pound brought May and July cottonseed oil contracts to 1940 highs of 6.18 and 6.25 cents. Wool tops, which have established a series of yearly peaks recently, were depressed 1 to 1.6 cents a pound by active general selling.

The cash price of rubber receded ¼ cent a pound to 21 cents and futures were 0.16 to 0.18 cent lower. Prices follow:

BORG-WARNER HAS $14,200,000 DEFENSE ORDERS

Company Is Negotiating for 10 Million More.

Borg-Warner announced yesterday that the company's divisions have national defense contracts totaling about $14,200,000. In addition, the company is negotiating for new contracts that "may exceed 10 million dollars."

The latest award, received Monday, was for $7,614,630 worth of ammunition components. This is one of the largest direct defense orders placed in the Chicago area. The order will be filled by the Ingersoll Steel and Die division in West Pullman.

Of the $14,200,000 contracts received by the company, $9,600,000 came direct from the army and navy. The remaining $4,600,000 covers subcontracts.

Needs Time for Full Rate.

Borg-Warner officials said four to six months will be required for full production rate on the ammunition parts, altho delivery may be started sooner.

Included among the many items which Borg-Warner divisions are supplying for the national defense are aviation pumps, tank clutches and flywheels, aviation engine parts, and steel tubing to be placed for army cots.

St. Louis yesterday was celebrating the start of work on a $11,243,000 Curtiss-Wright airplane factory. Guy W. Vaughan of New York, president of Curtiss-Wright, said the new factory will be the largest manufacturing plant in the middle west for the production of military aircraft. It will be eight times the size of the present St. Louis plant. The number of workers will be increased from 1,400 to 12,000.

Louisville to Get Plant.

Announcement was made in Washington that the navy department would erect a $4,000,000 ordnance plant at Louisville, Ky., to employ about 1,000 men. It is one of five or six ordnance plants to be built by the navy in the south and midwest.

The war department let $8,041,848 in contracts yesterday covering a wide range of products, including shoes, blankets, surgical instruments, shirts, and signal flares.

As a result of the boom in the steel industry, caused in part by the defense requirements, October brought the largest monthly melt of Lake Superior iron ore since May, 1923, the Lake Superior Iron association said. October consumption totaled 6,051,347 tons, against 5,671,918 in September, and 6,118,540 in May, 1923. There were 163 of the 189 available blast furnaces in operation in September.

Consumption of the ore so far this year totals 50,280,269 tons, compared with 33,344,946 in the like 1939 period.

GROUP TO STUDY ALL NEW FARM LAWS ADVOCATED

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 19 (AP).—The National Grange today heard a proposal for creation of a national independent research council to examine farm legislation placed before congress.

Addressing the 74th annual convention, Albert S. Goss, former federal land bank commissioner, predicted a "more severe depression than in 1932" because of what he termed "unsoundness" in the New Deal agricultural program. He asserted most congressmen form their opinions of farm legislation "thru minor pressure groups."

The research council he outlined would employ experts to examine all such bills and present their findings to congress.

"The nation," Goss said, "faces a serious farm problem. It is no nearer solution than it was 20 years ago."

COLD WAVE CUTS SOUTHERN TRUCK CROPS SEVERELY

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19 (AP).—The agriculture department reported today that last week's cold wave caused damage to southern truck crops.

In Texas, promising crops of tender vegetables—tomatoes, peppers, egg plant, and snap beans—were practically ruined, except in a southern area in the eastern tip of the lower Rio Grande valley. Eastward to central Florida, only hardy truck crops escaped. As a consequence, supplies of tomatoes, green peppers, cucumbers, and egg plant will be sharply curtailed in several weeks.

Celery remaining in the field in Michigan was said to have been hit hard.

Boston Edison Co. to Invite Competitive Bids on Issue

The Boston Edison company will invite competitive bids about Dec. 3 for a new issue of $53,000,000 of first mortgage bonds to bear interest at not more than 3 per cent, after the Securities and Exchange commission registration statement becomes effective, stockholders and directors decided yesterday. Proceeds will be used to refund the outstanding $53,000,000 of first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds, due in 1965.

People and Events

H. P. Hayden, Chicago investment banker, has been elected a director of the National Chemical & Manufacturing company.

LAMBERT.

In a recent discussion of the new revenue act, I read that drug companies in general will be affected materially by the new taxes. How did Lambert company fare under the increased taxes? What were its earnings in previous years? —H. C.

Answer: After providing for the higher federal income taxes applicable under the second revenue act of 1940, the Lambert company had net income of $882,378, equal to $1.18 a common share, for the first nine months of 1940, compared with $1,073,925, or $1.44 a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

The effect of the new taxes could not be determined because the company did not report what charges were deducted for federal taxes. Profits, however, also were lower in the first half—before the increased taxes had been enacted. Net income in the first half was $539,672, or 72 cents a share, against $652,657, or 87 cents a share, in the first half of 1939.

Earnings have been quite stable in recent years, as indicated by the following comparison of net income, earnings per share, and dividends per share:

	Net income.	Earned per share.	Dividends per share.
1935	$1,516,741	$2.03	$2.75
1936	1,272,387	1.70	2.00
1937	1,152,187	1.54	2.00
1938	1,277,798	1.71	1.50
1939	1,261,837	1.69	1.50

Common stock of 746,371 shares of no par value constitutes the company's capitalization. Dividends have been paid on the stock consistently since 1926. Four payments of 37½ cents each were made this year.

Lambert manufactures a mouth wash and other toilet articles under the Listerine trade name, as well as tooth paste, powder, and brushes, cough drops, and shaving cream, which have been merchandised with extensive advertising.

LEHMAN CORP.

Has the Lehman corporation made a profit on its securities trading in recent years? —F. V.

Answer: The Lehman corporation had a net loss of $1,279,293 on the sale of securities in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1940, compared with a net loss of $555,025 in the 1939 fiscal year; a net loss of $1,855,937 in 1938, net profit of $12,358,879 in 1937, net profit of $10,055,847 in 1936, and net profit of $1,072,641 in 1935.

BUTTER EATING HAS RISEN TO RECORD VOLUME

Prices Climb Despite High Production.

The American people are eating more butter than ever before, trade and department of agriculture reports indicated yesterday. Prices have been rising steadily in the last few weeks despite record production of manufactured dairy products.

Wholesale butter prices in Chicago yesterday stood 2¾ to 4½ cents a pound higher than a year ago and were at the highest levels in the last three years. Fine quality butter for home consumption has advanced 3 cents a pound since Nov. 1, to 33 cents.

Consumer expenditures for butter are estimated by the department of agriculture as 6 per cent larger than last year and the most since 1937. Domestic consumers paid $51,500,000 for butter in September compared with $48,600,000 a year earlier.

Withdrawals Are Large.

Trade estimates placed withdrawals of butter from refrigerated warehouses last week at 10,700,000 pounds, the largest movement out of storage since 1935 for the corresponding period. This butter moved into regular retail channels along with receipts from current production.

The department of agriculture called attention to the fact that consumption had been maintained at record levels despite the fact that government relief agencies were giving away far less butter than last year. In September relief agencies distributed only 125,000 pounds of butter, but in September of last year they gave away 8,100,000 pounds.

Butter sold for future delivery on the Chicago Mercantile exchange closed .05 to .15 cent a pound higher yesterday after a technical reaction the day before had halted 11 consecutive days of gains.

Milk Production High.

Milk production on Nov. 1 was the highest on that date in 16 years of record. Butter manufacturers are the second largest users of milk. In the past milk that hasn't been used for other manufactured products because of glutted markets has been turned into butter.

The Pure Milk association, Chicago, reported that the rise in the price of butter had resulted in a gain of 10 cents per 100 pounds in the last two weeks in the price of class 1 milke that is put in bottles and distributed in Chicago.

The price paid to producers of class 1 milk at country collection points advanced to $2.18 per 100 pounds yesterday.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Most of the liberal supply of hogs available yesterday sold at steady to 10 cents higher prices, but a break in the fresh pork market caused a reaction which canceled early gains and substituted declines in some grades. The top reached $6.30 on early rounds, but later fell to $6.20.

The undertone of the steer market was somewhat improved. Several loads of cattle sold at $14.25 to $14.35, while the top was $14.85 for some 1,254 pound offerings.

The light supply of lambs on the market met broad demand and prices were steady to stronger, while the trade for fed yearlings slipped a little and prices were as much as 25 cents lower on this class. Top native lambs sold at $9.35.

COTTON

Cotton prices were on the upgrade again yesterday with all deliveries selling at new seasonal highs. Closing trades, while somewhat under the top, showed gains of .03 to .10 cent a pound. Despite the advance, which has carried prices above the government loan level, hedging pressure was light.

Cash cotton closed .01 to .08 cent higher, with New York, 10.41 cents; New Orleans, 9.95 cents; Galveston, 9.90 cents, and Houston at 9.86 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

Wage Increase Promised Wright Aero Employes

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP).—William H. Showers, president of the Wright Aeronautical employés association, said tonight the corporation had promised a blanket 7 per cent wage increase, effective Dec. 15, to its 16,000 Paterson area employés who are paid on an hourly basis. He said salaried employés would not be affected but that others would benefit if they had been employed six months or longer. Showers estimated $1,500,000 would be added to the annual $22,000,000 payroll the company now distributes in this area.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF
PROPOSED CHANGE IN RATES.
PUBLIC NOTICE.

To the Patrons of the
ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The Illinois Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission revised tariff sheets to its Burnham and Chicago Local Exchange Tariffs and Message Toll Telephone Service Tariff. These revisions will change the rates for telephone messages between Burnham, Illinois, and Hegewisch Area, Chicago, Illinois, and Burnham, Illinois, and South Chicago Area, Chicago, Illinois. A new base rate area boundary has been filed for the Burnham Exchange and a provision to revise the method of computing extra exchange line mileage from the most direct street distance to air-line mileage distance. The changes will involve both increases and decreases in rates.

Copies of the proposed tariff sheets affecting Burnham subscribers may be inspected by any interested party at the business office of this Company located at 421 Fayette Street, Hammond, Indiana. Copies of the proposed tariff sheets affecting Chicago subscribers may be inspected by any interested party at any Chicago business office of this Company.

All parties interested in this proceeding may obtain information as to time and place of hearing upon this matter by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY.
By B. R. COOPER,
General Commercial Manager.

NOTICE is hereby given to owners of 5% school bonds of District No. 60, Downers Grove Township, due Dec. 15, 1938, that above bonds will be paid Dec. 15, 1940, upon which date interest will cease. Board of Education, Dist. No. 60. A. V. Kirsch, Secy.

"Winterized" by Community Motors

MOST ANY OLD CAR WILL KEEP ON GOING FAIRLY WELL IN BALMY WEATHER, BUT WHEN IT HITS REAL WINTER IT IS IN TROUBLE.

IF YOU HAVE ONE OF THOSE DOUBTFUL CARS, TRADE IT IN TO COMMUNITY MOTORS FOR ONE OF OUR LATE MODEL "COMMUNITY RENEWED" WINTERIZED CARS, AND THEN YOU WILL BE SURE OF GOOD TRANSPORTATION, REGARDLESS OF WEATHER.

IN MOST CASES THE OLD CAR REPRESENTS THE DOWN PAYMENT AND THE BALANCE CAN BE ARRANGED IN CONVENIENT TERMS.

IF YOU DO NOT SEE THE MAKE OR MODEL YOU WOULD LIKE IN OUR COLUMNS, CHANCES ARE WE HAVE IT JUST THE SAME. HERE ARE BUT A FEW SAMPLES OF OUR MANY UNUSUAL BARGAINS:

At 2521 S. Michigan-av.

CHEVROLET — 1939 TOWN SEDAN, ORIGINAL metallic finish and has many extras. For the man or woman who appreciates exceptional value, this car will have plenty of appeal. We have checked it very carefully and it now carries our Community Renewed seal. At our bargain price of $465 it is the best offering of the day. Terms to suit.

PONTIAC—1940 COUPE. PICTURE IF you can a smart, rakish, two-tone gray Silver Streak with all the trimmings. Radio, heater, and complete accessory group. Add to that the knowledge that it had low mileage and would be just as desirable as a new car as far as condition and appearance go. There you have our top offering for the day at our special price of............$595

At 7718 Stony Island-av.

PLYMOUTH—1940 SPORT COUPE, with opera seats. This 5 passenger car has loads of extras, including radio, heater, defrosting fan. Has very low mileage; is mechanically perfect. The motor purrs quietly at any speed. This late model is the last word in class. Save hundreds of dollars. Specially priced at this sale, only..................$595

BUICK—1938 6 WHEEL trunk sedan; built in radio, large heater, with defroster, are some of the many extras; original black finish; shines like a jewel; interior spotless. Tires and motor perfect. This car was serviced at regular intervals and today is still just as good as brand new. Our very low price just a fraction of the original. Reduced to $495

At 4949 W. Madison

PLYMOUTH—1940 DE LUXE 6 2-DOOR trunk sedan. A stand-out exception. A one owner car and well kept. Only a few months old. We have found nothing to do to it to improve it, so you can buy it just as we received it. However, it is "Community Renewed," guaranteed for your protection. Has heater, radio, dual equipment, and gear shift on the steering post. Priced at ....$575. Liberal terms.

BUICK—1938 BUSINESS COUPE, small series, original black finish and spotless interior. Heater, radio dual equipment, electric clock, good rubber. Formerly owned by a woman who gave it the best of care. A smooth running car mechanically, and A-1 as to appearance. Priced at $445, easy terms.

At 2625 Milwaukee

DODGE—'38, 5 PASSENGER TRUNK SEDAN. We found very little to do to improve this car. Good rubber, heater, and de luxe accessories. The ladies will fall for this unusually clean car. Shiny blue finish, mohair upholstery; a good sound investment at only $395
A few dollars down, balance monthly.

PONTIAC—1938 4 DOOR SEDAN, golden brown finish, mohair upholstery. Has many thousands of trouble free miles left. Looks good and runs good. Almost new rubber. A car you will be proud to show your friends. "Community Renewed" and guaranteed. We're pricing it at only...........$445
Low down payment and easy terms.

At 2348 W. 63d-st.

PLYMOUTH—'37 DE LUXE TRUNK sedan. You'll like this one very much. It's impressive from every angle. You'll look a long time before you find one to match its sparkling finish, inviting interior and all around trim appearance; in short, it's ready to go at our special price of $295. We urge you to lose no time in seeing this beauty. Small down payment, too.

GRAHAM 1938 SPECIAL 6 4 DR. trunk sedan; original finish of golden brown is without a scratch; interior upholstery appears unused. In excellent mechanical condition thruout. If you want the last word in a streamlined car, here it is with a built-in radio, heater. Loads of extras. See it and you will buy it. Former owner's name on request. A new low price only $425. Your car or $125 down; balance to suit you.

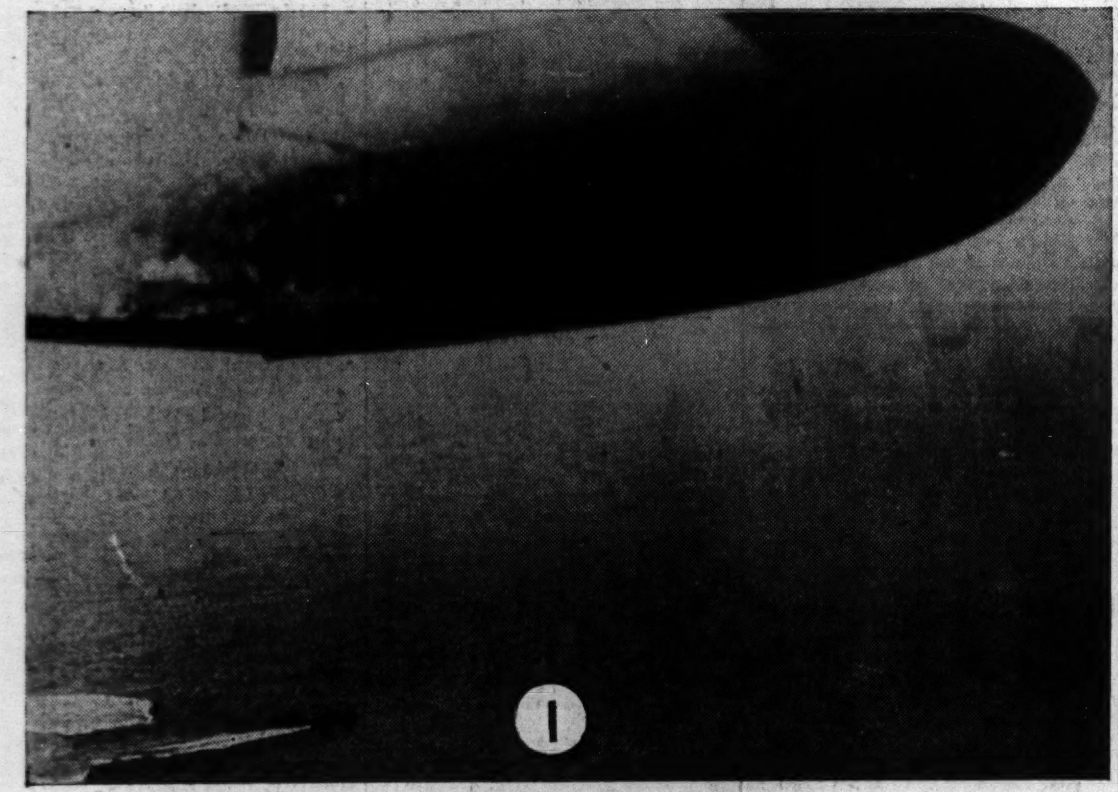
German Move on Greece Thru Bulgaria Is Expected—Tells How Baby's Crib Was Hit by Bomb

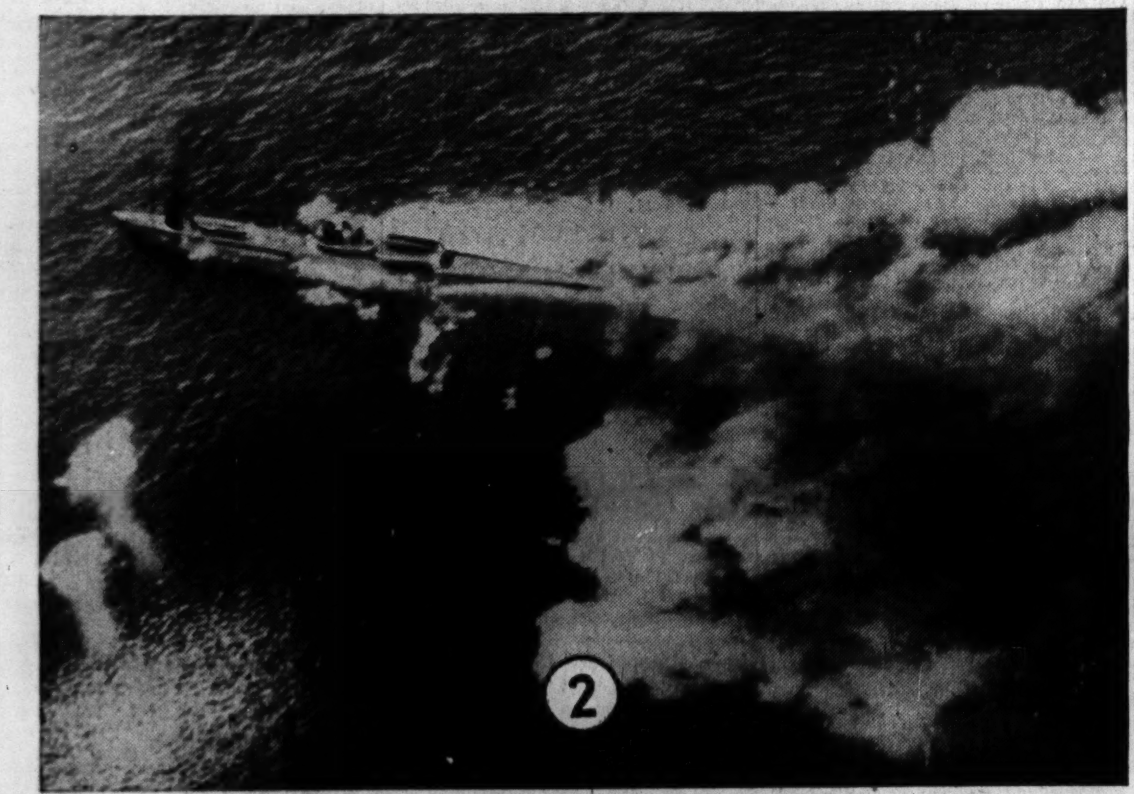
How British Sank Italian Submarine in Mediterranean

[Associated Press Wirephotos.]

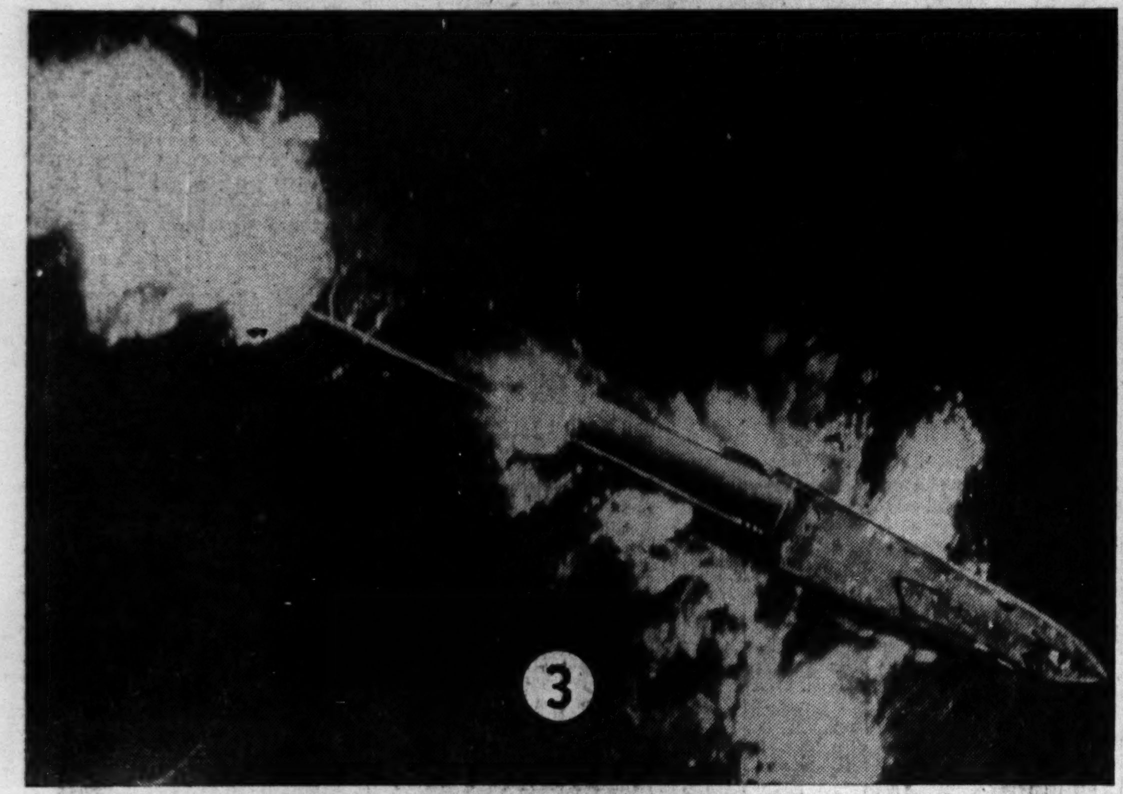
The four pictures below show the destruction of an Italian submarine in the central Mediterranean by British royal air force planes and a British destroyer, according to information released with the pictures in London. The photographs were taken from a British warplane participating in the attack.



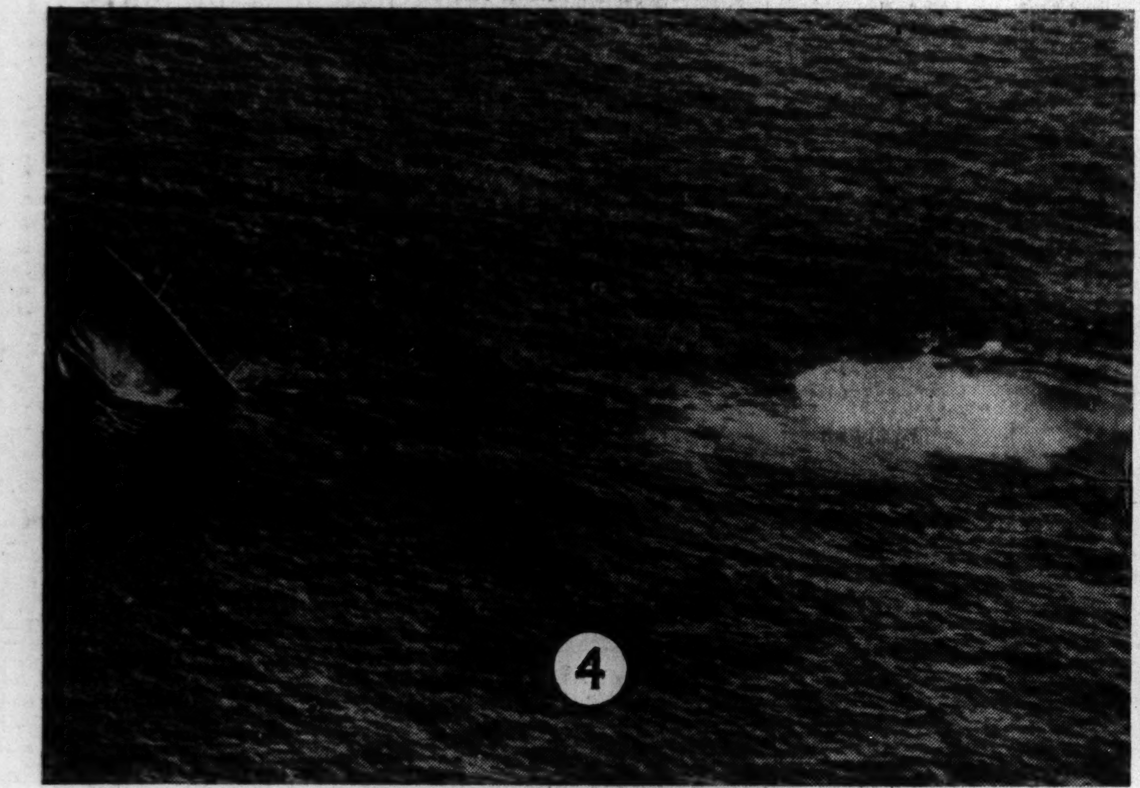
A destroyer and the royal air force planes dropped depth charges and bombs, forcing the Italian submarine to the surface (lower left). A bomb, missing the stern, churned the water. A wing of the photographic plane shows in the picture.



A moment later, when the distressed submarine was abandoned by her crew.



The "kill" continued, as shells from the destroyer and bombs from the photographic plane burst close to the disabled submarine.



The end. The submarine's bow remained above water when this picture was taken. Italian sailors were picked up by the British destroyer.
